York Prepares To Host Miss Nebraska Event

By JOHN LEE
Outstate Nebraska Bureau

York—If there's excitement around here, there's a good reason for it.

York is preparing for its first look next week at 36 of the prettiest girls in the state as it plays host to the 1965 Miss Nebraska Scholarship Pageant.

It's going to be quite a show

And the city's going to be ready for it. Citizens have been making preparations since last August when they got word that York had been selected as this year's pageant site.

Entire City Involved

The workd "has involved almost the entire city of York—civic and social organizations and individuals have all been directly involved in some phase of the planning," said state Chairman Ed Lonsdale.

The sponsoring Junior Chamber of Commerce formed itself into 24 committees to get the multitude of jobs done, with Lonsdale and co-chairman Roger Elder coordinating the program.

The main program, of course, is the four nights of performing and judging.

There's also a reception, a couple parades, autograph party, rehearsals and preliminaries like promotions, lining up local hostesses for the girls and changing the City Auditorium from a basketball court to a bright-light show pavilion.

The largest number of contestants the pageant has ever had will be divided into three groups of 12 for preliminary judging. One group will be judged in swim suits, another in evening gowns and the third in the talent category each evening, Thursday through Saturday.

Finalists

The Sunday night grand finale opens with the selection of ten finalists. To top off the pageant, Miss Nebraska 1965 is selected, presented with a $1,000 scholarship, $500 cash fashion award, a $500 case of jewels and a free ticket to Atlantic City in August.

Parades through downtown York are planned for Thursday evening and Saturday afternoon. The huge Saturday affair already lists 190 entries and "grows every day."

Employers Lauded

Though it's been a lot of work, the enthusiastic Jaycees agree that "we're firm believers in the pageant, and it's been a fabulous year — meeting people and going places."

Stronger Power Review Unit Urged

. . . IF CONSOLIDATION NIXED

Seven of the eight members of the Legislature's Public Works Committee Wednesday suggested that the authority of the Nebraska Power Review Board be expanded if the 1965 Unicameral does not consolidate wholesale electric operations.

The proposal was laid before the Legislature in the form of a reolution which is slated for debate Thursday.

All members of the committee except Sen. Cecil Craft of North Platte, its chairman, signed the resolution.

More Authority

In effect—but in more delicate language — it suggests that the Power Board be given regulatory commission authority if the Legislature does not enact LB764, or a similar bill.

LB764, which earlier won committee approval on a 6-1 vote, would consolidate generation and transmission operations of Consumers Public Power District, Loup River Public Power District and Platte Valley Public Power nad Irrigation District.

The resolution recommends that:

—as soon as possible, the power controversies in Nebraska be concluded by "having the generation and transmission of electricity be placed, insofar as may efficiently be done, under one newly-created public power agency."

Divest Itself

—the new agency be required to divest itself of its retail customers as soon as possible, consistent with present bond requirements.

—if neither of the previous two recommendations are accepted by the Legislature, consideration be given to "expanding the authority of the Power Reveiw Board for the same purpose as those above mentioned."

The resolution, No. 58, was signed by Sens. Rick Budd of Nebraska City, Arnold Ruhnke of Plymouth, Chet Paxton of Thedford, Pat Moulton of Omaha, Claire Holmquist of Oakland, Peter Claussen of Leigh, and Rudolf Kokes of Ord.

Craft, who voted against introduction of the resoluiton, also opposes LB764. The bill is scheduled for debate June 16.

Merger Of Statex, CCA Appears Almost Certain

By GLENN KREUSCHER
Farm Editor

The discussion of merger between cooperatives in Nebraska has passed the talking stage, and it appears almost certain that a merger of some type will be initiated that involves Statex, according to stockholder reports.

The managers of local cooperatives have been invited by Consumers Cooperative Association (CCA) to a meeting here Thursday to discuss the feasibility of a merger between the Farmers Union Cooperative State Exchange (Statex) and CCA.

The purpose of the meeting was described by the invitation to local cooperatives as being "for the betterment of the farmers of Nebraska."

Coincides With Plan

The invitation by CCA to the local cooperatives coincides with a proposed merger between Statex and Felco, an Iowa cooperative organized as the Farmers Elevator Service Co.

"The proposed merger between Felco and Statex has gone through all preliminary planning stages and has the substantial support of the Statex board of directors," a Statex spokesman said.

Shares In Both

It has been estimated by some cooperative officials that nearly 200 Nebraska Cooperatives are shareholders in both CCA and Statex.

Which route the merger will take will be a stockholder decision, said cooperative officials.

Homer Young, president of CCA, scheduled to attend the Lincoln meeting, said in a recent Washington meeting.

"I am firmly convinced that the cooperative is the only device the agricultural producer has that will work effectively to channel and regulate change in his favor."

'Tell Mom I'm Home'

YOUNG MARINE IS BACK

. . . From Dominica

GEN. SIMPSON . . . pats Marine's shoulder in personal welcome.

Morehead City, N.C. (AP)—A cocky young Marine from Nashville, Tenn., his helmet tilted over his eyes, said, "Tell my mom her boy is home from the war."

Pfc. Tommy McKee, 21, was one of the 1,180 Marines who landed at this port city Wednesday after service in the Dominican Republic.

These Marines from the 1st Battalion, 6th Regiment, were some of the first to be sent to the Caribbean island.

All Back Now

A band played the Marine Corps hymn as the troops waited impatiently to debark from the USS Chilton. A second ship, the USS Lindenwald, arrived later in the day with a few small detachments which served in the Dominican Republic.

Bath, Sleep Wanted

Most of the Marines on the Chilton said they had only two things in mind for their first night at home—a hot bath and the "sack."

Pfc. Peter Czajkowski, 20, of Linden, N.J., leaned against the ship's railing and recalled that a rebel sniper's bullet struck only four inches from him.

"The rebels," he said, "would fire and fire and we couldn't fight back. I've got to say one thing: We Marines did a real job down there."

Pfc. Jim Murray, 18, of Boston, agreed:

"I didn't see the rebels at all and we were up on the line most of the time."

Pfc. Louis Johnson, 20, of Brooklyn, N.Y., summed up the action in Santo Domingo:

"It was frustrating as hell. It would have been a lot better if we could have gone in there after them."

Lance Cpl. Edward McKay, 19, of Fayville, Mass., said he spent most of his time in the Dominican Republic on the golf course.

"I wasn't playing the game, but I spent most of the time in a hole," he said.

Pfc. Ronald Coster, 19, of Baltimore, said he had something waiting for him on his first night back. "Of all things," he said, "I've got mess duty."

Gen. Simpson said the Marines "had a difficult task to perform and performed it superbly."

Couldn't Go, Go, Go

Simpson added, "From boot camp on, we tell our Marines go, go, go. In the Dominican Republic we had to tell them to stop, stop, stop.

"This is a hard thing for a Marine to do, but they did it well."

Simpson said most of the credit belonged to "the commanders of the small units, the lieutenants, the sergeants and the corporals."

While the young Marines were willing to recall their experiences, Cpl. C. D. Cook of Albany, Ky., a four-year veteran of the corps, said:

"I ain't got nothing to say. There wasn't much happening down there worth talking about."

Quat Charges Suu Trying To Balk Political Solution

. . . GENERALS CALLED IN TO ARBITRATE

Saigon, Viet Nam (AP)—Premier Phan Huy Quat accused his chief of state Wednesday of balking attempts to settle the political crisis, said his government was unable to find a solution and called in the generals to mediate.

Quat's government, in office four months, appears in danger of collapse. This could bring in another military junta to rule the turbulent country.

Quat and Chief of State Phan Khac Suu have been locked for three weeks in a dispute over cabinet changes. Suu has refused to approve Quat's recommendations.

Catholics Protesting

Taking advantage of the situation, the Roman Catholics have been staging antigovernment demonstrations. They charge Quat, a Buddhist, with discriminating against Catholics. He denies this. Suu is a member of the Cao Dai sect, which also has been crying for Quat's removal.

"Up to this point," Quat told a news conference, "the good will of the government has been unable to keep the problem from degenerating into a critical situation. This situation has harmed the war against the Communists, which should have top priority.

"The political crisis, which originally was superficial, has harmed the war effort, slowed down the government and harmed the life of the people . . .

"Even if the national charter is revised, in the existing political climate the government finds it impossble to carry out its programs or implement plans."

Then Quat announced he had asked all the general officers in the country to serve on a new mediation board and they had agreed.

Presumably they will attempt to settle the Quat-Suu dispute and try to quiet the opposition of religiuos groups.

Rumor That Rattles Skittish Wall Street Squelched Fast

New York (AP)—A rumor battled the skittish stock market Wednesday.

As a result, prices slumped sharply around Midday. Then they made a partial recovery and skidded again.

The unsettling report that swept Wall Street was that President Johnson had suffered a heart attack.

It was quickly squelched by news reports that the President had met with a group of Iowa businessmen and that his physician said he was in "perfect health."

Looking Into It

"A rumor of this sort could arise anywhere and, of course, the exchange is particularly concerned when it affects the market. Consequently, we are looking into it."

A broker commented, "I don't know where the rumor originated. You don't know whether these rumors just get started or are planted."

Money can be made when the stock market is declining. Those who have borrowed stock at high prices can buy at lower prices, thus repaying the borrowed stock at a profit. This is called "selling short."

The reaction was typical of the buffeting that the sensitive stock market has taken in the last four weeks from outside influences.

3-Week Slide

After reaching an all-time peak May 14, as measured by the popular averages, the market started a slide that has continued with only few interruptions.

Wall Street experts are at a loss to pinpoint the reason for the decline that has seen a drop of almost 60 points in the Dow Jones industrial average.

"We always worry down here," said Elston Grimm, a partner in the big Wall Street brokerage firm Walston & Co. "If it isn't one thing, it's another.

"Every time the market goes down, people have to manufacture a reason."

There have been plenty of reasons advanced for the market's slump.

The one that has been given the most attention was the statement by William McChesney Martin, chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, last week that he found "disquieting similarities" between current business conditions and the boom that preceded the 1929 crash.

There also was fear of higher interest rates and tighter credit.

The increasing seriousness of the situation in Viet Nam—with permission being given for U.S. troops to engage in combat—has been cited as a factor disturbing investors.

'Nasty'

However, one Wall Streeter pointed out that while the war in Viet Nam "is nasty business," its escalation means more defense spending from which the economy would benefit.

There was worry in some quarters, too, about the outlook for business. Some people believed business would slacken off. Others expressed the opinion that people were jaded with the business upturn, now in its 52nd month.

The loss Wednesday wasn't as steep but was severe.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials fell 9.21 points 879.84. The Associated Press 60-stock average was off 3.2 to 320.5, a new low for the year.

A wave of selling broke out in the final hour and trading volume for the day spurted to 7.1 million shares from 4.67 million Tuesday.

Of 1,387 issues traded, 911 fell and 257 rose.

Reds Kill 14 Americans

Saigon (AP) — Fourteen U.S. servicemen were killed and 10 wounded in desperate fighting early Thursday when about 1,000 Viet Cong overran a district capital and attacked a Special Forces camp 60 miles north of Saigon.

It was one of the highest American losses in a single engagement of the Vietnamese war.

Vietnamese losses were not immediately known but were believed to be extremely high.

Some of the American casualties were reported to be Navy Seabees working on construction of an airstrip.

Helicopters flew about 500 Vietnamese troops into the area three hours after sunrise. They were reported fighting a heavy battle outside the overrun district capital, Dong Xoai.

Dong Xoai, a district capital in Phuoc Long province, is at the strategic crossing of Route 14 and a key provincial highway.

With the Americans at the base were about 300 Vietnamese irregular troops for whose training the Americans were responsible.

The town was defended by about 90 government militiamen.

The attack began shortly after midnight when the Viet Cong laid down a 60mm. mortar barrage of about 200 shells on the Special Forces camp.

GOOD TIME NEAR

. . . For Spacemen

Aboard USS Wasp At Sea (UPI) — A little tired but in "great shape and wonderful spirits," astronauts James McDivitt and Edward White Wednesday wound up exhausting medical tests and awaited the happiest moment of all, the open arms of their families.

They were bringing back home with them a mystery: just what it was that McDivitt spotted in space last Friday. He said it had "big arms sticking out," and it was identified as the Pegasus 2 spacesweeper, a U.S. scientific satellite.

But the federal space agency said McDivitt's films showed nothing Officials would not comment on the possibility it might have been a "spy-in-the-sky" U.S. military satellite.

Direct Flight

The space aces will get off the carrier Wasp Thursday morning at Mayport, Fla., near Jacksonville, and fly directly to Houston where their wives, children and parents will be waiting.

It will be a double celebration for McDivitt. He will be 36 Thursday.

Neither astronaut has seen his family since about a week before the June 3 liftoff that sent them into space for four days and into history forever.

A National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) spokesman in the Manned Spacecraft Center at Houston said the astronauts will leave the Wasp at 7 a.m. CST in Mayport and board a Jetstar plane for Ellington Air Force Base, Houston.

They are due in Ellington at 10 a.m. CST to greet their families.

Regaining Weight

A diet of steak, potatoes and gravy was putting back the weight McDivitt and White lost on their meals of freeze-dried food in space.

McDivitt, who weighed 156 pounds at liftoff, lost four pounds in flight. He regained five pounds on the Wasp

McDivitt And White Kept Clean 'House'

Aboard the Wasp (AP)—Housewives may be pleased to know astronauts James McDivitt and Edward White kept a clean "house" while circling the earth four days.

Since the Gemini 4 capsule was so small, this may not sound like a big revelation to those women who clean and scrub several rooms. But, try keeping even the smallest corner uncluttered while in space where things just float around in a weightless state.

Casimir Stucka, a McDonnell Aircraft Corp. technician in charge of examing and debriefing the capsule, said he was overwhelmed by the astronauts' neat housekeeping.

Good Shape

Stucka also said, after inspecting the craft aboard the Wasp, that it came through the flight in such good shape it should be able to go on another mission

"None of the equipment was lying loose," he said.

"Everything was stored away. Even the 25-foot-long umbilical cord that White used (the cord was used during the space walk)—and that was to have been discarded if the hatch had been opened a second time—was put back in its original container, and this must have been a real difficult thing," Stucka added.

Ate A Lot

"They apparently had eaten quite a bit of food, judging from the empty packages," he said. "The packages were stowed back in the same bags they left with."

"I reached down in the dry food locker thinking they wouldn't have had time to stow away anything," he said. "It was real clean."

Stucka said he was unable at first to find a voice recorder tape. He inquired around and found that White still had it in his suit.

High And Low

"We looked everywhere before we found White had it," he added.

Stucka said that he would not go so far at this point to say that Gemini 4 could safely be relied upon to take two more astronauts on an orbital journey. But he said it certainly should be useful at least for further unmanned space flights.

"Everything looks good inside and outside," Stucka said.

Safety Catch Kept In Car Tax Cut Bill

Washington (UPI) — The Senate Finance Committee Wednesday tentatively approved changes in the excise tax cut bill which would offer the auto industry a $760 million incentive to build safer cars

In the process, the committee rejected both the administration and House approaches to reducing the 10% excise tax on new cars.

The Associated Press said the motion to accept the administration's position on the auto tax got the votes of seven Democrats but was beaten by a coalition of four Democrats and six Republicans, including Nebraska Sen. Carl Curtis

The auto levy is the most controversial section of a $4 8 billion excise tax cut approved by the House a little over a week ago.

President Johnson requested the cuts as a means of putting new zip in the economy. They would eliminate federal excises on about 40 items over the next 3½ years.

House Increase

The President asked for cuts totaling only $4 billion But House tax writers added $800 million by providing for complete elimination of the automobile levy instead of the cut to five per cent Johnson had asked.

In action Wednesday, the Finance Committee compromised the administration and House versions.

—The auto tax would be cut to seven per cent July 1 of this year, retroactive to May 15; to six per cent Jan 1, 1966; and to five per cent Jan. 1, 1967, with one per cent of the remaining tax earmarked to the special fund for disposal of junked cars

—Another two per cent of the tax would be wiped out Jan 1, 1968, and all except the earmarked one per cent would be eliminated Jan. 1, 1969.

The total of four per cent to be eliminated in 1968 and 1969 would be withheld until the auto companies put the safety devices on their products.

The auto levy currently nets the government an estimated $1 9 billion a year This means the government would withhold about $760 million from the industry in an effort to get them to add 17 safety devices which the government will require on all cars it buys in the future.

Hunt For Pope Returns To Area Of Fort Worth

Big Springs (UPI) — The FBI Wednesday distributed a quarter million "most wanted" posters in a hunt for a college football star sought in the bank robbery slayings of three persons. A "nervous" motorist who resembled the wanted man was spotted in Fort Worth, Tex.

The massive search for Duane Pope, 22, turned again to Fort Worth as FBI agents there were reported guarding a former college girl friend of the missing man in a home for unwed mothers.

Sheriff Lon Evans of Fort Worth confirmed Wednesday that the girl, whom Pope dated in college, gave birth to a baby Monday. The child's father was listed as unknown and Evans said the baby would be put out for adoption.

Pope, who graduated last week from McPherson (Kan.) College, has been hunted since Saturday, the day after three bank employes of the Farmers State Bank of Big Springs were fatally shot.

The crewcut co-captain of McPherson's 1964 football team faces murder and federal bank robbery charges. He was accused of wantonly shooting his victims as they lay spread-eagled on the floor of the only bank in this Nebraska Panhandle cattle and wheat town.

Jack Lingo, a Fort Worth filling station employe, reported that he sold $1 worth of gasoline early Wednesday to a man who resembled pictures of Pope.

"He acted a little nervous and tried to stay behind me," Lingo said.

Sheriff Evans said a handicap in looking for Pope was that he looks "so ordinary." Police in Fort Worth and in Denton County, Texas, Tuesday investigated at least three reports that they saw men resembling Pope.

Check Out Reports

Federal agents and police also have checked out numerous reports that Pope has been seen in Kansas.

A 1939 Buick convertible, which authorities said Pope took from his home at Roxbury, Kan., after returning a rented car allegedly used in the holdup, was found Tuesday on a street in Wichita, Kan.

Police said a mail carrier told them the car had been parked at the spot where it was found at least since Monday.

The FBI said a 1965 green Chevrolet was rented by Pope from a Salina, Kan., agency Thursday and was left, battered and scarred as if it had been on a long trip over rough side roads, near the agency Saturday.

At Ogallala Motel

Mrs Pan Knaub, 18, said Wednesday that Pope checked into her father-in-law's motel at Ogallala, Neb., the night before the robbery. She said she and her husband, Tom, 19, were in charge of the motel at the time

They said Pope registered under his own name and listed his car as a 1965 green Chevrolet. The auto fit the description of persons who saw the getaway car.

Mrs. Knaub said Pope arrived after dark, was alone and left about 8 a.m. Friday. She said he acted "embarrassed, like he didn't want to look at me."

Failure To Get Inside Of Safe Said Possible Shooting Cause

Denver (AP)—The vice president of the Big Springs, Neb., bank where three employes were slain in a robbery last Friday, said Wednesday the shootings may have been caused by the robber's inability to get inside a locked safe.

Carl Kjeldgaard, 73, the vice president, talked to newsmen after visiting with his son, Franklin Kjeldgaard, who was seriously wounded by the bandit. The FBI has charged Duane Pope, a 1965 graduate of McPherson, Kan. College with the robbery. He has not been arrested

Carl Kjeldgaard, brother of Andres Kjeldgaard, president of the Farmers State Bank who was slain, said doctors told him Franklin Kjeldgaard would recover fully from two bullet wounds.

After talking with his son, Carl Kjeldgaard told reporters the slain bank cashier, Mrs. Lois Ann Hothan, was asked by the bandit to open the safe

"She said she couldn't and that was the truth," he said. "It has a time lock on it. But I guess he didn't believer her."

He said the gunman then ordered the employes to lie down on the floor and pumped two bullets into their backs.

Kjeldgaard said it was Franklin Kjeldgaard who set off the burglar alarm that alerted townspeople.

"He said he could feel the barrel of the gun on his neck and body," Carl said. "He heard and felt the shots but never lost consciousness. When he heard the man leave he was able to reach under the counter and sound the alarm"

Carl said employes had all been instructed to offer no resistance to bandits. "Actually we had never had more than $12,000 in there since the burglary," he said. About three years ago three men took $17,000 from the bank vault in a burglary.

Library Board Okays $30,000 Budget Hike

The Lincoln City Library Board approved a budget increase of nearly $30,000 for 1965-66 Wednesday. The new appropriation is for $439,755 compared to $410,323 for the last fiscal year

The city did not grant a $112,000 capital improvement fund requested to construct unit two of the Bennet Martin Public Library.

Charles Dalrymple, city library director, said the expansion program is needed because of overcrowded conditions.

Dalrymple said Lincoln had a good chance to get matching federal funds from the Nebraska Library Commission if the $112,000 had been appropriated this year. Unit two will cost $224,000 to construct.

Federal funds are allocated after a city has put up its part of the money. Whether Lincoln will get federal money in the future will depend on the requests of other cities in Nebraska for the funds and the amount the state receives in the future from Congressional appropriations.

The mayor's committee did approve a 1,000 foot square addition for the South Branch Library at 17th & South. The construction is estimated at $15,000

Dalrymple said the board plans to confer with city officials about the budget cut but no definite time has been set

Part of the additional $30,000 in the new fiscal appropriation will be used for salary increases ($7,000) and increased operating costs ($15,000).

The rest will be spent for the book budget, Dalrymple said. He explained that the increased spending for books is necessary because the cost of books has risen.

He said book costs increased 20% in the past six months and increased that much last year. The 40% increase is needed to get 20% more books, Dalrymple said. Approximately $91,000 will be spent to buy new books.

Hunt For Pope Returns To Area Of Fort Worth

Big Springs (UPI) — The FBI Wednesday distributed a quarter million "most wanted" posters in a hunt for a college football star sought in the bank robbery slayings of three persons. A "nervous" motorist who resembled the wanted man was spotted in Fort Worth, Tex.

The massive search for Duane Pope, 22, turned again to Fort Worth as FBI agents there were reported guarding a former college girl friend of the missing man in a home for unwed mothers.

Sheriff Lon Evans of Fort Worth confirmed Wednesday that the girl, whom Pope dated in college, gave birth to a baby Monday. The child's father was listed as unknown and Evans said the baby would be put out for adoption.

Pope, who graduated last week from McPherson (Kan.) College, has been hunted since Saturday, the day after three bank employes of the Farmers State Bank of Big Springs were fatally shot.

The crewcut co-captain of McPherson's 1964 football team faces murder and federal bank robbery charges. He was accused of wantonly shooting his victims as they lay spread-eagled on the floor of the only bank in this Nebraska Panhandle cattle and wheat town.

Jack Lingo, a Fort Worth filling station employe, reported that he sold $1 worth of gasoline early Wednesday to a man who resembled pictures of Pope.

"He acted a little nervous and tried to stay behind me," Lingo said.

Sheriff Evans said a handicap in looking for Pope was that he looks "so ordinary." Police in Fort Worth and in Denton County, Texas, Tuesday investigated at least three reports that they saw men resembling Pope.

Check Out Reports

Federal agents and police also have checked out numerous reports that Pope has been seen in Kansas.

A 1939 Buick convertible, which authorities said Pope took from his home at Roxbury, Kan., after returning a rented car allegedly used in the holdup, was found Tuesday on a street in Wichita, Kan.

Police said a mail carrier told them the car had been parked at the spot where it was found at least since Monday.

The FBI said a 1965 green Chevrolet was rented by Pope from a Salina, Kan., agency Thursday and was left, battered and scarred as if it had been on a long trip over rough side roads, near the agency Saturday.

At Ogallala Motel

Mrs. Pan Knaub, 18, said Wednesday that Pope checked into her father-in-law's motel at Ogallala, Neb., the night before the robbery. She said she and her husband, Tom. 19, were in charge of the motel at the time.

They said Pope registered under his own name and listed his car as a 1965 green Chevrolet. The auto fit the description of persons who saw the getaway car.

Mrs. Knaub said Pope arrived after dark, was alone and left about 8 a.m. Friday. She said he acted "embarrassed, like he didn't want to look at me."

Failure To Get Inside Of Safe Said Possible Shooting Cause

Denver (AP)—The vice president of the Big Springs, Neb., bank where three employes were slain in a robbery last Friday, said Wednesday the shootings may have been caused by the robber's inability to get inside a locked safe.

Carl Kjeldgaard, 73, the vice president, talked to newsmen after visiting with his son, Franklin Kjeldgaard, who was seriously wounded by the bandit. The FBI has charged Duane Pope, a 1965 graduate of McPherson, Kan. College with the robbery. He has not been arrested.

Carl Kjeldgaard, brother of Andres Kjeldgaard, president of the Farmers State Bank who was slain, said doctors told him Franklin Kjeldgaard would recover fully from two bullet wounds.

After talking with his son, Carl Kjeldgaard told reporters the slain bank cashier, Mrs. Lois Ann Hothan, was asked by the bandit to open the safe.

"She said she couldn't and that was the truth," he said. "It has a time lock on it. But I guess he didn't believer her."

He said the gunman then ordered the employes to lie down on the floor and pumped two bullets into their backs.

Kjeldgaard said it was Franklin Kjeldgaard who set off the burglar alarm that alerted townspeople.

"He said he could feel the barrel of the gun on his neck and body," Carl said. "He heard and felt the shots but never lost consciousness. When he heard the man leave he was able to reach under the counter and sound the alarm."

Carl said employes had all been instructed to offer no resistance to bandits. "Actually we had never had more than $12,000 in there since the burglary," he said. About three years ago three men took $17,000 from the bank vault in a burglary.

June Big Month For Graduate-Mother Of 8

Seward—The celebration of a 30th wedding anniversary and graduating from college on the same weekend doesn't often happen, but that is what Emma Backhus of Ulysses did recently.

On June 4, Mrs. Backhus and husband Herman celebrated their 30th wedding anniversary with family and friends. On June 5, Mrs. Backhus was awarded the bachelor of science in education degree at Concordia Teachers College, Seward.

Mrs. Backhus, who admits being 53, was a student at Concordia from 1927-1932. Then she taught at Zion Lutheran School in Worms, Neb., and in a Kansas school. It was here that she met Mr. Backhus. They moved to the Seward area and began farming.

Two years ago Mrs. Backhus returned to Concordia to complete her college work. Now, Mrs. Backhus, who is a granddaughter of one of Concordia's founders, O. E. Bernecker, will begin teaching again in a one room school near Seward.

Mr. and Mrs. Backhus have eight children ranging in ages from 9 to 27. Son Ralph graduated from the eighth grade at St. Johns Lutheran School in Seward last month.

Library Board Okays $30,000 Budget Hike

The Lincoln City Library Board approved a budget increase of nearly $30,000 for 1965-66 Wednesday. The new appropriation is for $439,755 compared to $410,323 for the last fiscal year.

The city did not grant a $112,000 capital improvement fund requested to construct unit two of the Bennet Martin Public Library.

Charles Dalrymple, city library director, said the expansion program is needed because of overcrowded conditions.

Dalrymple said Lincoln had a good chance to get matching federal funds from the Nebraska Library Commission if the $112,000 had been appropriated this year. Unit two will cost $224,000 to construct.

Federal funds are allocated after a city has put up its part of the money. Whether Lincoln will get federal money in the future will depend on the requests of other cities in Nebraska for the funds and the amount the state receives in the future from Congressional appropriations.

The mayor's committee did approve a 1,000 foot square addition for the South Branch Library at 17th & South. The construction is estimated at $15,000.

Dalrymple said the board plans to confer with city officials about the budget cut but no definite time has been set.

Part of the additional $30,000 in the new fiscal appropriation will be used for salary increases ($7,000) and increased operating costs ($15,000).

The rest will be spent for the book budget, Dalrymple said. He explained that the increased spending for books is necessary because the cost of books has risen.

He said book costs increased 20% in the past six months and increased that much last year. The 40% increase is needed to get 20% more books, Dalrymple said. Approximately $91,000 will be spent to buy new books.

All's Well That Ends Well

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

A blunder of some proportions has now been corrected with national administration reversal of its earlier announced decision to close the Lincoln Veterans Administration Hospital. For this, much of the credit goes to Congressman Clair Callan and to Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana. Senator Mansfield was the big gun on the national scene while Representative Callan did yeoman service in behalf of Lincoln.

As a freshman representative, Callan probably earned his spurs on this issue as it put him in conflict with the Democratic administration of which he is a part by party label. The announced closing came so soon following the 1964 elections that Callan hardly had time to become acquainted in Washington before he was pitched into a major battle. Thus, he became an active part of the national scene much more quickly than might otherwise have been the case. There is an obvious inference in this that the decision to keep the VA institution open was a political decision and it can hardly be denied.

Right Into Fray

A good case for the Lincoln hospital can be and was made but it was politics that talked in the end. Now, Callan faces the tough job of gaining a $3 million appropriation for a major remodeling of the VA hospital here. This, too, will involve no small amount of politicking and it is hoped that he can get the job done.

Without a modernization program, the Lincoln hospital will face a new closing decision at every turn. The institution must be brought up to date so that its occupancy rate, its patient length of stay and other aspects can be brought into line with other levels of high performance that have been its trademark.

The VA hospital decision represents probably the most significant political defeat of his administration for the President. The President is not a man known for making mistakes in the political field and, in fact, is given credit as being perhaps the most astute politician in Washington. But when his administration attacked the VA, it ran into a hornet's nest. President Johnson would no doubt have paid dearly in terms of votes in the House and Senate had he stuck with the closings he originally announced. By the same token, he has undoubtedly picked up some votes he will need along the line in the future as a result of his reversal of the closings.

This is not a very commendable part of our system of government but it is a very real part, nevertheless. The public official who promotes vote-trading and the one who is willing to trade his vote are not giving the best of service but no way has ever been found to avoid it. It is doubtful if the nation has ever had an elected legislative official who was able to completely eliminate vote-trading from his life. If there ever has been such an official, he is completely unheard of, which demonstrates why there would be so few of them. But unfortunately, it is a situation about which little can be done.

An agreeable ending seems to have been written also this week to the conflicts that existed in regard to state budgets in the Nebraska Legislature. In this case, it was not a matter of vote-trading, but simply a matter of better understanding on the part of all concerned and a willingness to compromise.

This led to Budget Committee recommendation and then legislative approval of general fund increases for three major areas of state government — education, welfare and institutions. The budget bill for these operations was increased by $1,275,740 to meet the objections made by administrators to original Budget Committee recommendations.

As it now stands, the budgets that have made their way to the floor of the Legislature and toward final reading are a realistic reflection of state needs and the ability of the people of Nebraska to meet these needs. Defeated in the process have been efforts to arbitrarily slice all appropriations by across-the-board percentage cuts. This kind of an approach to budgeting has appropriately been relegated to the trash barrel by the Legislature. Advocates of percentage cuts across the board are not conservatives; they are just poor senators who live in such a state of unreality as to be useless.

Percentage Cuts Out

It is to the credit of the vast majority of senators that only a few of that body went along with the suggested percentage cuts. And they are the members whose effectiveness has already been largely dissipated because of their completely unreasonable attitudes. With their extremism, they simply deny any voice at all to the people they represent.

LBJ Hunts Jobs For Young People

WASHINGTON — When the President gets going on the subject of jobs for young people, he becomes so enthusiastic that every corporation executive who listens wants to go out and hire more youngsters.

Last week LBJ met with ten corporation executives who had agreed to hire one jobless youngster this summer for every 100 other people on their payroll. The President handed them citations and then started to read a prepared speech. It was a good speech, and told how, despite the drop in unemployment, two million young Americans will be without jobs this summer unless the administration's program is successful.

But the President got really steamed up and finally threw away his speech. He told how he had received a letter from John Knight, publisher of the Knight Newspapers, which printed pages of want ads in order to push the employment of youngsters. Then the President said:

"It's not going to be long before some of you are going to be up at St. Peter's gate rapping on it and asking for admission. And he is not going to ask you if you tithed ten per cent or if you went to church every Sunday. He is not going to be content that you followed the Ten Commandments.

"St. Peter's going to ask you what you did as a benefactor of this great system of government to help others who want to help themselves.

"And I'll tell you one thing you can tell St. Petter," continued the President, looking at J. Hillman Zahn, the vice president of Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone Co. which has promised to hire a big quota of teenagers. "You can tell him that in the year of our Lord 1965 in the month of June you met at the White House with the President and told him you were going to bring the leadership essential to get these young people off the streets and behind the bench to train them to do something so they could work for themselves.

"I don't have any special dispensation to speak for St. Peter," the President concluded, "but my own judgment is that that report from you to him will make a very favorable impression."

The general public hasn't followed it, but a historic showdown is approaching over the question of unseating the Mississippi congressmen elected last November.

This is the first time in history that a consistent, carefully documented case has been presented in any state to show that the constitution was violated by denying the vote to a large segment of the population. Page after page of sworn testimony has been collected in Mississippi showing that Negroes were systematically and skillfully refused the right to register and vote.

JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

To Your Good Health

Dear Dr. Molner: When a senior citizen has opacities in his eyes, the ophthalmologists seem to disagree whether a cataract is forming. I was examined by three eye specialists. One said a cataract was in the making. Two others said there was none. Whom do you believe? Are medications effective in slowing down the growth of a cataract?

Molner

J. W.

This could depend on what you mean by opacities. An established cataract is not too difficult to identify—but keep in mind what a cataract is. It is a cloudiness within the lens of the eye, not opaque at first, but gradually becoming more dense.

Thus when a cataract has developed to a degree at which it interferes with vision, there is no difficulty in diagnosing it. Hence, J. W., I would judge that if you do indeed have a cataract, it must be in an extremely early stage, and deciding wether it is or isn't can be a matter of opinion.

The opacities to which you refer may be from something else. The most frequent is "floaters," or tiny black spots in the eye. These are generally quite harmless.

Another possibility, and anything but harmless, is glaucoma. This, however, can be detected by measurement of the pressure of the eyeball and other tests. I take it for granted that, after going to three specialists, you have had glaucoma ruled out.

Now as to cataracts, if they are indeed developing, by all means do not become panicky. True, nobody likes to get cataracts, but it is a problem which can be successfully met.

First, they grow at varying rates. Some never reach the point of seriously interfering with your eyesight. Or if they do, they can be removed surgically, and glasses worn to give adequate vision.

I know of no medication which will "dissolve" cataracts or in fact, actually alter the rate at which they develop.

Medications or "drops" can be used, however, to dilate the pupil of the eye and hence admit more light to compensate in some degree for vision which is gradually being shut off by the cataract.

For practical purposes, it is possible in many cases to put off the time at which surgery is necessary.

Dear Dr. Molner: I am 15, and read in paper that a man collapsed and a spoon was put in his mouth to keep him from swallowing his tongue. Now I worry that I will swallow my tongue, and sometimes it keeps me from eating. Do you think it is just nerves?

L. R. F.

Yes, it's just a case of nerves. People don't swallow their tongues unless something unusual happens—they have a convulsion, or are struck a heavy, jarring blow in exactly the wrong place. If you are in doubt, try to swallow your tongue, and you will see how impossible it is. It is not truly a matter of really "swallowing the tongue" anyway. The relaxation with the convulsion lets the tongue drop back into the throat.

☆ ☆ ☆

Dear Dr. Molner: My mother is a diabetic. When I am at work during the day, she looks all over the house to find sweets. I blow a fuse when she has eaten candy, cake or ice cream. She has had infections and operations on both feet, and then I have to stay home until she gets her diabetes under control. What can I do for her craving for sweets? She is 80 years old.

M. R.

At this stage, you can't do much about her craving for sweets. She's been acquiring the taste for almost 80 years, and a habit can't then be changed quickly.

Other than resigning yourself to the situation, my suggestion is: Don't have ice cream in the house. Keep sugar, candy, cake or other sweets in a locked cupboard.

Provide a moderate amount of soft drinks, cookies or other goodies which are prepared with artifical sweeteners.

Dear Dr. Molner: What is "bilateral retrolental fibroplasia," and is there any cure?

MRS. M. M.

Bilateral means affecting both sides—both eyes in this case. It is an eye condition that develops very early in infancy, more often among premature babies, causing blindness. There is no cure.

☆ ☆ ☆

Dear Dr. Molner: What about a vaccination for limited foreign travel, to prevent intestinal disturbances?

O. P.

It is the typhoid-paratyphoid vaccination, and very frequently used — although perhaps not often enough. The reason for the typhoid is obvious enough; the paratyphoid prevents a good deal of intestinal upsets.

☆ ☆ ☆

Dear Dr. Molner: Does climate have any bearing on emphysema? Would a dry, or high area be better, or near the ocean with salt sea air?

MRS. H. K.

Climate doesn't have much effect in most cases. Extremely high altitudes might increase the difficulty a little, but perhaps not much. Otherwise dry air or salt air or warm air or cold air is of scant significance.

Dr. Molner is delighted to receive letters from his readers, but regrets that because of the great number received daily he cannot answer them individually. Whenever possible, Dr. Molner uses readers' questions in his column.

Constantly Growing Bigger

It took a scientific study to confirm what we all already know. Americans are growing bigger all the time.

The present average height of American males between 18 and 79 is now up to 5 feet 8 and two tenths inches and well on its way to reaching 5 feet 10 inches.

Two generations ago a "six footer" was a big man. Today one must be close to seven feet in order to make a college basketball team.

What has caused it?

Well a number of things. America is a land of abundant food in a great variety. That is basic. Another is automation which is putting an end to grinding manual labor. We do not stunt ourselves by overwork.

A third reason is the American regard and capacity for protecting childhood health. Most of the old communicable diseases, which proved to be serious physical setbacks during the growing years, have been checked by modern medical science.

A fourth is better housing, ample living space together with better facilities for controlling our environment. It is now a general practice to remain warm whatever the outside temperature, and cool no matter how high the thermometer gets. We have succeeded in creating the most favorable physical environment. Naturally we are beginning to experience maximum growth as well as approaching maximum longevity.

These are individual benefits of an advanced society, the kind we seldom add up in our list of assets. But they are probably the most real of all.

Progress In Education

Action by the Board of Education in providing for assistant high school principals in the area of instruction demonstrates the continued progress that is demanded in our system of learning. Any parent today with children in school knows that the classroom work of 10 and 20 years ago was far different than it now is.

They know that the young people of today are starting out where their parents left off. This, of course, is the logical course of events. It is up to each and every generation to extend the field of knowledge a little further, to build upon the foundation that was laid for them.

If this is not done, the world will not progress. The diseases that afflict humanity today would still be around tomorrow. The shortcomings of society that are apparent to us would exist forever, if we did not constantly aspire to new horizons of learning In such a situation, the world would become stagnant and life would soon not be worth living.

And progress is a self-perpetuating thing. The more you learn in terms of volume, the greater your rate of learning. The amount of knowledge that could once be acquired in five years is now absorbed in one. Obviously, the load falls in the area of instruction where the board now intends to move with more strength.

Assistant principals in this area of work are a natural consequence of the course of events in education and throughout society. The step both testifies to and complements the refinements that must be and are a part of the process of more and better learning on the part of young people.

On Student Oaths

The National Defense Education act requires college students to take a special oath of loyalty before they are given a loan.

The New York Times asks why this curious distrust of youth? It notes that farmers, businessmen and bankers borrow infinitely more public funds and are not so oath burdened. Rep. Odgen Reid, of New York, has obtained administration support in an effort to end oath taking by borrowing students.

The whole business is a throwback to the Middle Ages when barons required oaths of loyalty from liegemen. It was not a time when anyone trusted anyone else and the oath implied it.

But asking an oath of a college student in these days is as much as to say that our system will be rejected by a man of learning and therefore he must be unusually bound. That, of course, is a misconception because the more enlightened a man the more appreciation of the rights guaranteed by a country such as ours. The right to participate, the right to vote, the right of free speech, free assembly and free thought and the limitation of government to the will of the people are the things that support the trained mind. It is not a whole mind that is prevented from exploring, but must work only in one channel.

Actually special oath taking is a questionable enterprise. The fellow who will keep it is the one who does not need it. The fellow who will break it finds it only an aid to expanding his nefarious activity. It tends to throw the loyal element off guard.

The bad part of the oath requirement is that it selects certain elements and actually expresses a distrust of them. A country in a moment of panic may resort to such methods but a nation sure of itself and calm minded does not need such a device. And in this country we especially do not need it in the case of our best educated.

Long Job Bringing Down A Spacecraft

HOUSTON—Some day in the 21st century a child, gazing at the Gemini 4 space capsule in the antique wing of the Aerospace Museum, will gasp, "You mean two guys actually rode in that thing for four days and came back alive without a computer?"

"Yes, Jupiter," the child's father will say. "And without a shave, dexedrine or plumbing."

"They must have been very brave," the boy might note.

"That they were, son. That they were."

McDivitt and White hit within 40 miles of the bullseye of a 200 mile long by 40 mile wide "footprint" — predetermined landing area —in the Atlantic. They had been using assorted brakes on the long and dangerous grade that led down from a position 100 miles high over Hawaii to the splash 390 miles east of Cape Kennedy. The brakes were, in the order named, spurting hypergolic jets that spit in the direction the capsule was traveling, a cluster of explosive solid fuel retrorockets, a ventilated drogue chute that sprang out at 50,000 feet over the water, a large "pilot" parachute that reployed at 10,600 feet and a huge main chute at 9,000 feet.

Together they managed to decellerate the spacecraft from 17,500 miles an hour to zero.

They could have stopped the spacecar if everything except the chutes had failed. But it would have been a longer and riskier letdown that would have dumped them in the mid-South Atlantic near Ascension island.

The Martin people, who build the Titan II Gemini booster, would like to build a capsule which would be a combination of the familiar bell-shaped Gemini capsule made by McDonnel and the Air Force's countermanded Dyna Soar. It would be as sophisticated as the Gemini but also able to fly on its own and land at speeds no greater than those used by jet airliners today.

"Instead of dumping our superbly trained astronauts into the ocean at the end of their ordeal in space they could make a normal landing at Washington in the presence of the President," a Martin man told us today.

He had a picture of the proposed merchandise to support his contention. It will come to pass, sometime in the future, but not soon. The three astronauts who make it to the moon and back, in 1970, to climax a project which by that time will have cost perhaps $30 billion, will be dunked just as unceremoniously as was Gus Grissom—who nearly sank with his Mercury capsule in 8,000 feet of water.

McDivitt and White came in from 400,000 feet spinning like a top, and on purpose. With this maneuver they achieved the steady progress that a bullet makes. If it were not spinning as it left the muzzle it would wobble all over creation and be useless as far as marksmanship is concerned.

Vandalism

Hastings, Neb.

I have been trying for some time to convince some of our top government officials to forget about property damage by vandalism and consider what we are doing to our society. Our governor said, just notify the police, and our top legislators think we should have a property coverage law, which would be about like starting to put out a prairie fire with buckets.

I do agree that we should stick the parents with full value, plus, for parental neglect. The state should have an ironclad law that would not be forgotten and hope that one dose would be enough to cure the disease. We should try to realize that the property damage is minor in comparison with damage to a growing society.

If this situation is allowed to take its course, we could soon start building more prisons, as our colleges now seem to be turning out more vandals.

With courage and determinations, school boards could earn and get full cooperation. As it is, the average school board member should be in kindergarten.

Housing For Aged

Lincoln, Neb.

I noticed the feature story about the new St. Monica home, and wish them much success in this new enterprise being started for homeless and unemployed people.

I wish someone could talk to our younger generation, our own children whom we have loved and worked so hard for to see that they might have all the modern conveniences which so many of us "old crips" had to do without. Why not have the Air Base equip two rooms and bath and rent these units for not more than $25 or $30 a month. Many of the old peoples homes charge from $100 to $250 and some of them are poorly furnished and hard to live in. The cost of carfare and medicine and other expenses are so high. Even with an old-age pension or Social Security, we old people can hardly pay these prices. Our own children don't care to take us in for love nor money.

All the old people could at least enjoy some of their lonely lives with their children and still have a home to call their own and not feel they are a big burden to their offsprings.

I wish I had the money to make so many lonely souls happy.

So Goes Nation

Lincoln, Neb.

We are all familiar with the old saying, "He had to learn the hard way." The question is, will we as a nation wake up in time before we are taken over from within, or will we need to learn the hard way?

We will hear it said that communism is fighting Christianity, so why fear; we know from history that Christianity has conquered the conquerors from the beginning. Very true But the question is, do we care enough about Christianity to avoid being taken over and learning the hard way as so many nations have learned in the past and even today?

Why do we have so many criminals among the younger group? J. Edgar Hoover claims that TV programs with their crime are the main cause. Very true. Perhaps we should go back further yet. Fifty years ago, families lived normal lives. Today from birth, infants are taught to love the bottle and they never give it up all through life.

Unless we get to the underlying causes of our problems, they will never be solved. As the family goes, so goes the nation.

Fireworks

Bladen, Neb.

I am wondering if there are any others who are concerned about the danger of firecrackers and other fireworks on the Fourth of July. I am opposed to the sale of such amusement for youngsters. I would hate to be guilty of buying such hazards and know that a youngster of mine had been killed or injured severely with something that I had given him for amusement.

There are too many people meeting untimely deaths, as it is, without such things that might kill our children.

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

A blunder of some proportions has now been corrected with national administration reversal of its earlier announced decision to close the Lincoln Veterans Administration Hospital. For this, much of the credit goes to Congressman Clair Callan and to Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana. Senator Mansfield was the big gun on the national scene while Representative Callan did yeoman service in behalf of Lincoln.

As a freshman representative, Callan probably earned his spurs on this issue as it put him in conflict with the Democratic administration of which he is a part by party label. The announced closing came so soon following the 1964 elections that Callan hardly had time to become acquainted in Washington before he was pitched into a major battle. Thus, he became an active part of the national scene much more quickly than might otherwise have been the case. There is an obvious inference in this that the decision to keep the VA institution open was a political decision and it can hardly be denied.

Right Into Fray

A good case for the Lincoln hospital can be and was made but it was politics that talked in the end. Now, Callan faces the tough job of gaining a $3 million appropriation for a major remodeling of the VA hospital here. This, too, will involve no small amount of politicking and it is hoped that he can get the job done.

Without a modernization program, the Lincoln hospital will face a new closing decision at every turn. The institution must be brought up to date so that its occupancy rate, its patient length of stay and other aspects can be brought into line with other levels of high performance that have been its trademark.

The VA hospital decision represents probably the most significant political defeat of his administration for the President. The President is not a man known for making mistakes in the political field and, in fact, is given credit as being perhaps the most astute politician in Washington. But when his administration attacked the VA, it ran into a hornet's nest. President Johnson would no doubt have paid dearly in terms of votes in the House and Senate had he stuck with the closings he originally announced. By the same token, he has undoubtedly picked up some votes he will need along the line in the future as a result of his reversal of the closings.

This is not a very commendable part of our system of government but it is a very real part, nevertheless. The public official who promotes vote-trading and the one who is willing to trade his vote are not giving the best of service but no way has ever been found to avoid it. It is doubtful if the nation has ever had an elected legislative official who was able to completely eliminate vote-trading from his life. If there ever has been such an official, he is completely unheard of, which demonstrates why there would be so few of them. But unfortunately, it is a situation about which little can be done.

An agreeable ending seems to have been written also this week to the conflicts that existed in regard to state budgets in the Nebraska Legislature. In this case, it was not a matter of vote-trading, but simply a matter of better understanding on the part of all concerned and a willingness to compromise.

This led to Budget Committee recommendation and then legislative approval of general fund increases for three major areas of state government — education, welfare and institutions. The budget bill for these operations was increased by $1,275,740 to meet the objections made by administrators to original Budget Committee recommendations.

As it now stands, the budgets that have made their way to the floor of the Legislature and toward final reading are a realistic reflection of state needs and the ability of the people of Nebraska to meet these needs. Defeated in the process have been efforts to arbitrarily slice all appropriations by across-the-board percentage cuts. This kind of an approach to budgeting has appropriately been relegated to the trash barrel by the Legislature. Advocates of percentage cuts across the board are not conservatives; they are just poor senators who live in such a state of unreality as to be useless.

Percentage Cuts Out

It is to the credit of the vast majority of senators that only a few of that body went along with the suggested percentage cuts. And they are the members whose effectiveness has already been largely dissipated because of their completely unreasonable attitudes. With their extremism, they simply deny any voice at all to the people they represent.

LBJ Hunts Jobs For Young People

WASHINGTON — When the President gets going on the subject of jobs for young people, he becomes so enthusiastic that every corporation executive who listens wants to go out and hire more youngsters.

Last week LBJ met with ten corporation executives who had agreed to hire one jobless youngster this summer for every 100 other people on their payroll. The President handed them citations and then started to read a prepared speech. It was a good speech, and told how, despite the drop in unemployment, two million young Americans will be without jobs this summer unless the administration's program is successful.

But the President got really steamed up and finally threw away his speech. He told how he had received a letter from John Knight, publisher of the Knight Newspapers, which printed pages of want ads in order to push the employment of youngsters. Then the President said:

"It's not going to be long before some of you are going to be up at St. Peter's gate rapping on it and asking for admission. And he is not going to ask you if you tithed ten per cent or if you went to church every Sunday. He is not going to be content that you followed the Ten Commandments.

"St. Peter's going to ask you what you did as a benefactor of this great system of government to help others who want to help themselves.

"And I'll tell you one thing you can tell St. Petter," continued the President, looking at J. Hillman Zahn, the vice president of Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone Co. which has promised to hire a big quota of teenagers. "You can tell him that in the year of our Lord 1965 in the month of June you met at the White House with the President and told him you were going to bring the leadership essential to get these young people off the streets and behind the bench to train them to do something so they could work for themselves.

"I don't have any special dispensation to speak for St. Peter," the President concluded, "but my own judgment is that that report from you to him will make a very favorable impression."

The general public hasn't followed it, but a historic showdown is approaching over the question of unseating the Mississippi congressmen elected last November.

This is the first time in history that a consistent, carefully documented case has been presented in any state to show that the constitution was violated by denying the vote to a large segment of the population. Page after page of sworn testimony has been collected in Mississippi showing that Negroes were systematically and skillfully refused the right to register and vote.

JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

To Your Good Health

Dear Dr. Molner: When a senior citizen has opacities in his eyes, the ophthalmologists seem to disagree whether a cataract is forming. I was examined by three eye specialists. One said a cataract was in the making. Two others said there was none. Whom do you believe? Are medications effective in slowing down the growth of a cataract?

Molner

J. W.

This could depend on what you mean by opacities. An established cataract is not too difficult to identify—but keep in mind what a cataract is. It is a cloudiness within the lens of the eye, not opaque at first, but gradually becoming more dense.

Thus when a cataract has developed to a degree at which it interferes with vision, there is no difficulty in diagnosing it. Hence, J. W., I would judge that if you do indeed have a cataract, it must be in an extremely early stage, and deciding wether it is or isn't can be a matter of opinion.

The opacities to which you refer may be from something else. The most frequent is "floaters," or tiny black spots in the eye. These are generally quite harmless.

Another possibility, and anything but harmless, is glaucoma. This, however, can be detected by measurement of the pressure of the eyeball and other tests. I take it for granted that, after going to three specialists, you have had glaucoma ruled out.

Now as to cataracts, if they are indeed developing, by all means do not become panicky. True, nobody likes to get cataracts, but it is a problem which can be successfully met.

First, they grow at varying rates. Some never reach the point of seriously interfering with your eyesight. Or if they do, they can be removed surgically, and glasses worn to give adequate vision.

I know of no medication which will "dissolve" cataracts or in fact, actually alter the rate at which they develop.

Medications or "drops" can be used, however, to dilate the pupil of the eye and hence admit more light to compensate in some degree for vision which is gradually being shut off by the cataract.

For practical purposes, it is possible in many cases to put off the time at which surgery is necessary.

Dear Dr. Molner: I am 15, and read in paper that a man collapsed and a spoon was put in his mouth to keep him from swallowing his tongue. Now I worry that I will swallow my tongue, and sometimes it keeps me from eating. Do you think it is just nerves?

L. R. F.

Yes, it's just a case of nerves. People don't swallow their tongues unless something unusual happens—they have a convulsion, or are struck a heavy, jarring blow in exactly the wrong place. If you are in doubt, try to swallow your tongue, and you will see how impossible it is. It is not truly a matter of really "swallowing the tongue" anyway. The relaxation with the convulsion lets the tongue drop back into the throat.

☆ ☆ ☆

Dear Dr. Molner: My mother is a diabetic. When I am at work during the day, she looks all over the house to find sweets. I blow a fuse when she has eaten candy, cake or ice cream. She has had infections and operations on both feet, and then I have to stay home until she gets her diabetes under control. What can I do for her craving for sweets? She is 80 years old.

M. R.

At this stage, you can't do much about her craving for sweets. She's been acquiring the taste for almost 80 years, and a habit can't then be changed quickly.

Other than resigning yourself to the situation, my suggestion is: Don't have ice cream in the house. Keep sugar, candy, cake or other sweets in a locked cupboard.

Provide a moderate amount of soft drinks, cookies or other goodies which are prepared with artifical sweeteners.

Dear Dr. Molner: What is "bilateral retrolental fibroplasia," and is there any cure?

MRS. M. M.

Bilateral means affecting both sides—both eyes in this case. It is an eye condition that develops very early in infancy, more often among premature babies, causing blindness. There is no cure.

☆ ☆ ☆

Dear Dr. Molner: What about a vaccination for limited foreign travel, to prevent intestinal disturbances?

O. P.

It is the typhoid-paratyphoid vaccination, and very frequently used — although perhaps not often enough. The reason for the typhoid is obvious enough; the paratyphoid prevents a good deal of intestinal upsets.

☆ ☆ ☆

Dear Dr. Molner: Does climate have any bearing on emphysema? Would a dry, or high area be better, or near the ocean with salt sea air?

MRS. H. K.

Climate doesn't have much effect in most cases. Extremely high altitudes might increase the difficulty a little, but perhaps not much. Otherwise dry air or salt air or warm air or cold air is of scant significance.

Dr. Molner is delighted to receive letters from his readers, but regrets that because of the great number received daily he cannot answer them individually. Whenever possible, Dr. Molner uses readers' questions in his column.

Constantly Growing Bigger

It took a scientific study to confirm what we all already know. Americans are growing bigger all the time.

The present average height of American males between 18 and 79 is now up to 5 feet 8 and two tenths inches and well on its way to reaching 5 feet 10 inches.

Two generations ago a "six footer" was a big man. Today one must be close to seven feet in order to make a college basketball team.

What has caused it?

Well a number of things. America is a land of abundant food in a great variety. That is basic. Another is automation which is putting an end to grinding manual labor. We do not stunt ourselves by overwork.

A third reason is the American regard and capacity for protecting childhood health. Most of the old communicable diseases, which proved to be serious physical setbacks during the growing years, have been checked by modern medical science.

A fourth is better housing, ample living space together with better facilities for controlling our environment. It is now a general practice to remain warm whatever the outside temperature, and cool no matter how high the thermometer gets. We have succeeded in creating the most favorable physical environment. Naturally we are beginning to experience maximum growth as well as approaching maximum longevity.

These are individual benefits of an advanced society, the kind we seldom add up in our list of assets. But they are probably the most real of all.

Progress In Education

Action by the Board of Education in providing for assistant high school principals in the area of instruction demonstrates the continued progress that is demanded in our system of learning. Any parent today with children in school knows that the classroom work of 10 and 20 years ago was far different than it now is.

They know that the young people of today are starting out where their parents left off. This, of course, is the logical course of events. It is up to each and every generation to extend the field of knowledge a little further, to build upon the foundation that was laid for them.

If this is not done, the world will not progress. The diseases that afflict humanity today would still be around tomorrow. The shortcomings of society that are apparent to us would exist forever, if we did not constantly aspire to new horizons of learning In such a situation, the world would become stagnant and life would soon not be worth living.

And progress is a self-perpetuating thing. The more you learn in terms of volume, the greater your rate of learning. The amount of knowledge that could once be acquired in five years is now absorbed in one. Obviously, the load falls in the area of instruction where the board now intends to move with more strength.

Assistant principals in this area of work are a natural consequence of the course of events in education and throughout society. The step both testifies to and complements the refinements that must be and are a part of the process of more and better learning on the part of young people.

On Student Oaths

The National Defense Education act requires college students to take a special oath of loyalty before they are given a loan.

The New York Times asks why this curious distrust of youth? It notes that farmers, businessmen and bankers borrow infinitely more public funds and are not so oath burdened. Rep. Odgen Reid, of New York, has obtained administration support in an effort to end oath taking by borrowing students.

The whole business is a throwback to the Middle Ages when barons required oaths of loyalty from liegemen. It was not a time when anyone trusted anyone else and the oath implied it.

But asking an oath of a college student in these days is as much as to say that our system will be rejected by a man of learning and therefore he must be unusually bound. That, of course, is a misconception because the more enlightened a man the more appreciation of the rights guaranteed by a country such as ours. The right to participate, the right to vote, the right of free speech, free assembly and free thought and the limitation of government to the will of the people are the things that support the trained mind. It is not a whole mind that is prevented from exploring, but must work only in one channel.

Actually special oath taking is a questionable enterprise. The fellow who will keep it is the one who does not need it. The fellow who will break it finds it only an aid to expanding his nefarious activity. It tends to throw the loyal element off guard.

The bad part of the oath requirement is that it selects certain elements and actually expresses a distrust of them. A country in a moment of panic may resort to such methods but a nation sure of itself and calm minded does not need such a device. And in this country we especially do not need it in the case of our best educated.

Many of the old peoples homes charge from $100 to $250 and some of them are poorly furnished and hard to live in. The cost of carfare and medicine and other expenses are so high. Even with an old-age pension or Social Security, we old people can hardly pay these prices. Our own children don't care to take us in for love nor money.

All the old people could at least enjoy some of their lonely lives with their children and still have a home to call their own and not feel they are a big burden to their offsprings.

I wish I had the money to make so many lonely souls happy.

Lincoln, Neb.

We are all familiar with the old saying, "He had to learn the hard way." The question is, will we as a nation wake up in time before we are taken over from within, or will we need to learn the hard way?

We will hear it said that communism is fighting Christianity, so why fear; we know from history that Christianity has conquered the conquerors from the beginning. Very true But the question is, do we care enough about Christianity to avoid being taken over and learning the hard way as so many nations have learned in the past and even today?

Why do we have so many criminals among the younger group? J. Edgar Hoover claims that TV programs with their crime are the main cause. Very true. Perhaps we should go back further yet. Fifty years ago, families lived normal lives. Today from birth, infants are taught to love the bottle and they never give it up all through life.

Unless we get to the underlying causes of our problems, they will never be solved. As the family goes, so goes the nation.

O. F. M.

Bladen, Neb.

I am wondering if there are any others who are concerned about the danger of firecrackers and other fireworks on the Fourth of July. I am opposed to the sale of such amusement for youngsters. I would hate to be guilty of buying such hazards and know that a youngster of mine had been killed or injured severely with something that I had given him for amusement.

There are too many people meeting untimely deaths, as it is, without such things that might kill our children.

Dropouts Illegal In Belgium

By ROBERT PETERSON

At the turn of the century educators claimed our chief educational need was for free public high schools throughout the nation.

Today they claim the chief need is to keep youngsters from dropping out of the high schools society has so generously provided.

The other evening on television there was a public service program featuring a panel of celebrities manning phones. High school students were encouraged to phone in and give a verbal pledge that they would not drop out of school prior to graduation.

One of the panelists was Belgian actress Monique van Vooren. When the master of ceremonies asked about the high school dropout problem in her native country she replied, "We don't have such a problem because drop-outs are not permitted."

When the non-plussed M.C. asked how they enforced such a ruling Miss van Vooren said simply, "It is the law, and if children drop out of high school their parents are subject to arrest and punishment."

If what Miss van Vooren says is true, the U.S. should take the cue and study the Belgian plan.

It seems to this aging observer that there would be merit in requiring parents to see that offspring complete high school education. The result could be fewer drop-outs and fewer young people drifting towards delinquency and welfare dependency.

In the past handful of years a dozen teenagers, from Bobby Vinton to Ann Margret, have been discovered and can be heard on radio and records, seen in movies and supper clubs, and watched on television. But I can't think of a single person past 65 who has gone from anonymity to stardom.

With more than a thousand men and women turning 65 daily, there must be many elders with requisite talent and time to develop entertainment acts worthy of being spotlighted nationally.

Not long ago someone took me to hear a 72-year-old singer billed as Mississippi John Hurt. It seems this old gentleman recorded several blues songs back in the 1920's which have become collectors' items. Last year someone found Hurt working as a farm hand in Avalon, Miss. They had him sing a few songs and, finding he still had an entertaining style, signed him to a series of appearances in coffee houses and smaller night spots where he nets $200 weekly.

The night I heard him at New York's Gaslight Cafe he sat happily hunched in a chair on the tiny stage singing and accompanying himself on his guitar. He has a soft, throaty baritone that wheezes and squeaks, but never misses a beat. His tones aren't very melodious, but they're novel and appealing.

One wishes the public acceptance Hurt is enjoying would prod talent scouts to survey geriatric circles and see if there aren't others along in years capable of pulling crowds and worthy of elevation to the entertainment big time.

Unicam Rejects Proposal To Hike Widow's Award

The Legislature refused Wednesday to increase the $20,000 allowance provided in LB905 to the widow and three orphaned children of Floyd L. Eastridge of Louisville.

Eastridge was killed in a head-on collision on the Interstate Highway near Omaha involving a Game Commission vehicle purportedly traveling the wrong way on an Interstate segment. A total of three lives were lost in the crash.

The Salaries and Claims Committee, in considering assorted claims against the state, recommended that Mrs. Eastridge be allowed $20,000.

While the bill was being debated on general file recently, Sen. Henry F. Pedersen of Omaha unsuccessfully sought to raise the award to $40,000 or to $30,000.

Wednesday, as the bill showed up on select file, Sens. Pedersen and Richard Proud of Omaha moved to raise the amount to $35,000 but the proposal lost, 15-30.

Proud contended that had the claim been tried in court, the award would have been $75,000 to $100,000. But Sen. Fred Carstens of Beatrice said "These $75,000 and $100,000 verdicts in Nebraska are few and far between."

The bill was held on select file for later action on further amendments.

LB797 At 3% Would Bring In $50 Million, Johnson Says

Former State Tax Commissioner Forrest A. Johnson said Wednesday a three per cent rate would be needed under Sen. Hal Bauer's income tax bill to raise $50 million yearly.

He based the estimate on federal Internal Revenue Service (IRS) compilations of taxable income in Nebraska.

Johnson, director of the Nebraska Tax Research Council, said the IRS in 1962 estimated taxable income of individuals at $1,323,804,000 and of corporations at $219,572,000.

He said he added 10% to these figures to bring them up to date.

Determined By Board

The income tax bill, LB797, would levy a flat-rate tax on individuals and corporations. The rate level would be determined by the State Board of Equalization based on state financial needs.

LB797 was given second-round approval earlier this week and is expected to show up on final reading next week.

Johnson said supporters of the bill have said about $50 million would be needed to meet state appropriations and replace the state property tax take, which would be eliminated by the income tax measure.

He said the rate would go up about one per cent for each additional $17 million needed.

Not The Same

Gerdes estimated a 2.7% rate would be needed to raise about $51 million. He also based his estimate on individual and corporate taxable income in the state.

Solons Thankful Lincoln Hospital To Remain Open

A resolution thanking President Johnson, the Congress and other federal officials for deciding to keep the Lincoln Veterans Hospital open was approved by a 35-0 vote in the Legislature Wednesday.

The resolution, carrying the signatures of 42 lawmakers, expresses to federal leaders the senators' "sincere appreciation for their efforts in retaining" the hospital, once scheduled to be closed by the Veterans Administration.

Copies of the resolution will be sent to President Johnson, members of Congress and the head of the Veterans Administration.

Red Wavers Fined

Munich (AP)—An East German who waves to friends across the Iron Curtain can be fined $500 and the man who reports him can get a $12.50 reward, the Bavarian Interior Ministry reported on the basis of information from the Communist side. It told of an incident in which 200 former East Germans waved from the West. It said two young men who waved back were seized by Communist border guards.

Raider Captured

Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia (AP)—One more Indonesian raider has been captured in continuing operations against a guerrilla landing party in the southern region of Malaysia's mainland Johor state, a defense ministry spokesman reported. This brought to 16 the number of prisoners taken since the campaign began 11 days ago.

Injured Lincoln Man Hospitalized In Denver, Colo.

Denver (AP)—Orville Monroe, 39, Lincoln, Neb., totally paralyzed because of automobile accident injuries, was flown to Denver Wednesday for treatment at the Craig Rehabilitation Hospital.

A car in which Monroe was riding crashed into a guard rail near Seward, Neb., Febr. 7.

A brother, Vern Monroe, vice president of a Denver bank, said the injured man had undergone three brain operations since the accident.

Vern Monroe said he planned to close his brother's Lincoln home and have the injured man's wife, Elaine, and three children stay at his Denver home while Orville is hospitalized here.

The nationwide motor vehicle registration for 1964 was estimated at 86,193,000 by the Bureau of Public Roads.

Theater World Pays Judy Holliday Final Tribute

New York (AP) — The theater world paid its final tribute Wednesday to Judy Holliday, the actress who won stardom as the dumb blonde doxy in "Born Yesterday."

More than 350 persons attended services for her in a funeral home and about 100 others tried to get in, unsuccessfully.

Among mourners were David Oppenheim, her ex-husband; Sydney Chaplin, who played opposite her in "Bells Are Ringing," and jazz saxophonist Gerry Mulligan, with whom she recently had been writing lyrics.

Miss Holliday died Monday of cancer. She was 41.

Holding back tears during the 26-minute, nondenominational service were Miss Holliday's son, Jonathan, 12, and her mother, Mrs. Helen Tuvim.

Also among the mourners were the Academy Award winner's colleagues, including directors, producers, actors, actresses and stagehands. Fan also attended.

They heard Dr. Algernon Black, president of the Ethical Culture Society of New York, describe the stage and screen star as one who had "given more of a sense of honor" to the world of the theater.

He said Miss Holliday, who once scored 172 in an intelligence quotient test, brought a fine intelligence to the theater and was a person who had integrity, grace and a love of people.

NASON ON EDUCATION

Children Need Regular Time With Their Parents

By DR. LESLIE J. NASON

It need not be the hour between daylight and darkness as eloquently described by Longfellow in "The Children's Hour," but children do need some of their parents' time on a regular basis.

2536 No. 27th 432-2536

Life in Longfellow's day was in a slower tempo than now. Even so, time was set aside consciously for reading and quiet games — time when a mother's attention was given wholly to the children. She would then give special consideration to their training, and the children could get mother's ear.

Nowadays, summer activities in the home should be planned to include something of this nature.

We can't turn back the clock and recapture the quiet twilight hour of yesterday. We can't banish television, radio, telephones and other features of life in our congested towns and cities. Yet all such developments make it more important than ever that mothers be sure there

Good Behavior

Parents should keep in mind that good behavior helps bring success in school, and train their children accordingly. Only when a child starts classes with good behavior a matter of habit is he ready to start learning. This does not come about suddenly; il takes weeks and months of day-by-day guidance and reminders.

To be successful in school, children must have training in listening attentively, following directions, observing surroundings, expressing their ideas and taking part in activities with others.

Surprising progress in these skills can be made in a single summer if planning is given to the project.

Mother can give her full attention to one or two children on a trip to the market if her shopping list has been carefully prepared ahead of time and if she makes it a point to use the occasion to give the children practice in observing their surroundings and in expressing their ideas.

Opportunities for training on such a trip are many and varied. The children can learn new words and have experiences that can be told later to father or to an older brother or sister. They can be taught to listen to mother and direct their attention to things of mother's choice.

They can be given practice in expressing themselves while mother insists on correct use of words, and correct pronunciation.

They can be taught to follow directions as to their conduct in the market, and to recognize the rights of others as they work their way among people and through the checkout lines.

Of course, trips to market do not provide the only opportunities for learning. Most any journey or gathering will do.

NASON ON EDUCATION

Children Need Regular Time With Their Parents

By DR. LESLIE J. NASON

It need not be the hour between daylight and darkness as eloquently described by Longfellow in "The Children's Hour," but children do need some of their parents' time on a regular basis.

Life in Longfellow's day was in a slower tempo than now. Even so, time was set aside consciously for reading and quiet games — time when a mother's attention was given wholly to the children. She would then give special consideration to their training, and the children could get mother's ear.

Nowadays, summer activities in the home should be planned to include something of this nature.

We can't turn back the clock and recapture the quiet twilight hour of yesterday. We can't banish television, radio, telephones and other features of life in our congested towns and cities. Yet all such developments make it more important than ever that mothers be sure there

Good Behavior

Parents should keep in mind that good behavior helps bring success in school, and train their children accordingly. Only when a child starts classes with good behavior a matter of habit is he ready to start learning. This does not come about suddenly; it takes weeks and months of day-by-day guidance and reminders.

To be successful in school, children must have training in listening attentively, following directions, observing surroundings, expressing their ideas and taking part in activities with others.

Surprising progress in these skills can be made in a single summer if planning is given to the project.

Mother can give her full attention to one or two children on a trip to the market if her shopping list has been carefully prepared ahead of time and if she makes it a point to use the occasion to give the children practice in observing their surroundings and in expressing their ideas.

Opportunities for training on such a trip are many and varied. The children can learn new words and have experiences that can be told later to father or to an older brother or sister. They can be taught to listen to mother and direct their attention to things of mother's choice.

They can be given practice in expressing themselves while mother insists on correct use of words, and correct pronunciation.

They can be taught to follow directions as to their conduct in the market, and to recognize the rights of others as they work their way among people and through the checkout lines.

Of course, trips to market do not provide the only opportunities for learning. Most any journey or gathering will do.

U.S. Combat Engineers Arrive To Build Key Viet Base

Saigon, Viet Nam (AP)—About 2,500 U.S. combat engineers landed Wednesday at Cam Ranh Bay, 190 miles north east of Saigon to build a base capable of handling any massive American commitment to the Vietnamese war.

There was bloody fighting elsewhere as the engineers came ashore. Two U.S. advisers were killed at Gia Ray, 50 miles northeast of Saigon when Communist guerrillas overran a training center. And 158 Vietnamese troops were killed or missing here and in fighting north of Saigon.

A Marine was killed by a sniper in the Da Nang area of the far north as U.S. Air Force and Marine Jets hammered at Viet Cong concentrations in Quang Ngai province, apparently in an attempt to head off a major new Communist offensive in the monsoon season.

U.S. military spokesmen announced government forces suffered their heaviest casualties of the war in the week ended Saturday—530 killed, 710 wounded and 635 missing or captured. In the same week 10 Americans were killed, 35 were wounded and 6 are missing. Viet Cong casualties in the same period were given as 1,221 killed, 84 captured.

In the air war, U.S. planes for the fifth straight day pounded the North Vietnamese port of Vinh, a city of more than one million 160 miles south of Hanoi, the capital of the Communist north. Pilots reported light to moderate damage to a barracks area.

Other planes pounded barracks, bridges, ferries and supply areas in North Viet Nam. In South Viet Nam, a U.S. Army Mohawk reconnaissance plane with a crew of two was missing on a scouting mission 60 miles northeast of the U.S. air base at Bien Hoa.

The arrival of the engineers at Cam Ranh Bay raised the U.S. military command in South Viet Nam to 53,500 men. The first combat engineers to serve in Viet Nam, they are mostly from Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo., and Ft. Polk, La.

They will build a port, airfield and supply center at Cam Ranh Bay, described by Vietnamese authorities as Viet Nam's greatest natural harbor. A bridge will join the harbor area to a railroad.

A U.S. spokesman said the new base is expected to play an important part in the war effort in the central and northern parts of South Viet Nam.

The deaths of the Americans brought to 405 the number killed in action in Viet Nam.

On the DaNang front, a U.S. Marine spokesman said that in addition to the Leatherneck killed, a second was wounded when a mine exploded under a tank.

More than 20 Air Force and Marine jets hit scattered targets in Quang Ngai province where Viet Cong destroyed two government battalions a week and a half ago.

One of the strikes was directed at Communist units which had overrun an outpost about 13 miles south of Quang Ngai city. Pilots reported 30 structures were destroyed and 10 damaged.

Marine Skyhawks and Phantoms saturated one Viet Cong troop concentration and destroyed a Viet Cong troop concentration in two separate areas in the same province, the Marine spokesman said.

Viet Cong Threaten To Ask Help

Tokyo (AP) — The Viet Cong threatened Wednesday to call for international help if American troops fight alongside government forces in the Viet Nam war.

"If the U.S. government gives itself the right to order the U.S. troops to take part in fighting in South Viet Nam, the South Viet Nam National Front for Liberation (Viet Cong) also gives itself the right to call when necessary for volunteers from the armies of North Viet Nam and of friendly countries to go south to oppose U.S. aggression," it said in a statement carried by Hanoi radio.

The statement commented on a U.S. State Department declaration Tuesday that the U.S. military command in South Viet Nam has been authorized to send American troops into combat alongside Vietnamese if requested.

Communist China also criticized the State Department declaration.

The official New China News Agency, which reflects thinking of the Peking regime, said: "This is the first time that the United States openly cast aside the 'advisers' cloak and the 'protection of its bases' hoax . . .

"It shows that after a series of defeats in South Viet Nam and having lost confidence in the puppet (Vietnamese) troops, the U.S. aggressors had to come out themselves to run the risk."

Adlai Chides U.N. Try At Downgrading OAS

United Nations, N.Y. (AP) — Ambassador Adali E. Stevenson cited the U.N. Securtiy Council Wednesday for what he said was a childish effort to downgrade the right of the Organization of American States in the Dominican crisis.

In a biting speech to the council the U.S. chief delegate said such action "seems to me to be positively embarrassing," and could be compared with that of a "petulant actress, jealous of her supporting cast."

Stevenson drew immediate fire from Soviet Ambassador Nikolai T. Fedorenko, who said Stevenson was himself playing the role of "a second-rate actor." As for defense of the OAS, Fedorenko said this reminded him of a statement by former New York Gov. Alfred E. Smith that "however thinly you slice the baloney, baloney remains baloney."

Stevenson was opposing a suggestion from French delegate Roger Seydoux and supported by the Soviet Union and Jordan for enlargement of the five-man U.N. mission in Santo Domingo headed by Jose Antonio Mayobre. He is the special representative of Secretary-General U. Thant.

Stevenson defended vigorously the role of regional organizations such as the OAS. He said their mission "is not competitive with the United Nations, but complementary to it. Their roles are not mutually exclusive but mutually reinforcing."

He said that if the council is dissatisfied with the work of the OAS, "Why doesn't the council say so?

"All I hear is the monotonous Communist vocabulary of insults and epihtets from Cuba, and the imprecise suggestions from others that somehow the United Nations should be doing more to preserve its franchise in the peacekeeping business."

Paratroops Are Freed By Rebels

Santo Domingo, Dominican Republic (AP) — Three American paratroopers, who had wandered into rebel territory by mistake, were released by the rebel Dominican regime Wednesday.

They were turned over to representatives of the Organization of American States (OAS) after spending the night in rebel hands. They said they had been well treated.

Given To OAS

They were turned over to Enrique Ferrer Vieyra of Argentina on the staff of the OAS by Col. Juan Lora Fernandez, chief of staff of the rebel army.

"They treated us perfectly like gentlemen," Blengeri said. He had enlisted in the Army while studying at Belleville Junior College at St. Louis, Mo.

Belngeri said he was not certain he would become an American citizen after his enlistment ends.

Lt. Leforce said their general treatment by the rebels was good but that right after their capture there were many hostile shouts and gestures such as fingers passed across the throat.

OAS Plans Conference Aug. 4 In Rio

Washington (AP)—The Organization of American States (OAS) Wednesday officially summoned an inter-American conference to meet in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, beginning Aug. 4.

The meeting originally had been scheduled for May 20, but was postponed because of the crisis in the Dominican Republic.

A key item for discussion at the August conference is expected to be President Johnson's proposal for establishment of a standby inter-American force which could be called upon to meet urgent political crisis. The Senate voted unanimously Tuesday to authorize use of $25 million of foreign aid funds to help finance a force under OAS control.

The meeting also will consider ways of giving the inter-American system greater effectiveness in facing urgent political problems, and will discuss economic and other problems.

Schools With Voc Ed To Get Federal Windfall

Nebraska's 225 high schools with vocational education programs will get a windfall shortly after June 30.

Cecil E. Stanley, assistant state education commissioner for vocational education, said Wednesday the recently received $850,000 in federal vocational educational funds "will be utilized to the greatest extent possible to reimburse existing programs."

The federal funds, anticipated in January, weren't released to the state until May 19, Stanley said. This left only a few weeks until June 30 for schools to purchase vocational education equipment and make claim for reimbursement.

Stanley said his office is expediting all claims received, but anticipates that a large number of schools, now in the process of closing out the 1964-65 school year, will not be able to process equipment needs prior to the June 30 deadline.

Rather than allow the federal funds to lapse, Stanley said percentage of reimbursement on instructional costs (salaries of teachers and instructors) will be increased.

Vocational agriculture instruction costs were being reimbursed at 29% while trade and distributive education costs were at 22%.

"We can't tell yet how much the reimbursement level can be increased to utilize unexpected funds," he said, "but we will go as far as we can toward the possible 50% maximum."

Stanley declined to speculate what percentage of the federal funds can be utilized, but said every effort will be made to utilize them all.

He noted that the federal allocation can be utilized for only five months of the existing programs prior to June 30.

Stanley said late approval of the Nebraska plan under the Federal Vocational Educational Act of 1963 by the federal agency caused the dilemma of too much, too late.

Stanley said the some 390 schools which presently do not have vocational educational programs have been advised of procedures for initiating such programs after July 1 under the continuing federal act.

Communications Net Explained

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

The concept of a consolidated, statewide communications system for Nebraska was outlined Wednesday before state officials and department heads.

The conference at the Nebraska Center followed by three months the appointment of a special committee by Gov. Frank B. Morrison to look into the possibility of combining present and future communications needs into a single system.

Robert B. Heilig, emergency plans officer for the Department of Roads, said the integrated, micro-wave system "could handle any type of transmission that any state agency could use."

The system could handle simultaneously voice, teletype, data processing, closed-circuit television and facsimile transmission.

In Close Touch

Heilig noted the facsimile transmission of aerial photos and maps could put the division offices, now ranging from 90 to 400 miles from Lincoln, virtually in finger-tip touch with headquarters.

"Maps could be instantaneously transmitted to field engineers with changes or new data," he said. "The Safety Patrol could transmit mug shots of criminals, fingerprints and forged instruments."

John B. Heffelfinger, a Kansas City communications consultant to the committee, said the integrated system would be tailored to communication needs of the various departments.

"Also," he said, "there are communications concepts that department heads may be able to adapt in improving administrative efficiency."

Col. Don Penterman, deputy state adjutant general, stressed that "day-to-day communication needs can be consolidated with emergency communications—both compatible in a single system."

Keyed To National Plan

The conferees were told the pilot study of an integrated, statewide communications system—the first of its kind—would be keyed to the national preparedness plan for natural or nuclear emergencies.

"All state agencies will have a responsibility in the national plan and communications wil be a vital, key link in its implementation," Lt. Col. Burl Johnson, state emergency planning officer, said.

Gov. Morrison told the conferees they were "plowing virgin soil" and other states are watching Nebraska's feasibility study, cost of which is being shared by the federal government.

He said he will make a recommendation to the Legislature on the next step to mesh state communications into a "main line" system.

ETV System 'Backbone'

Backbone of the statewide system will be the state's ETV system now under construction. The state educational television network will be linked by a micro-wave system.

Micro-wave with simultaneous transmission possible over 600 channels can be adapted to any combination of voice, television, data processing and teletype channels.

Pointing out that micro-wave can afford the same communication privacy as telphone lines, a technician noted greater reliability as well as protection against the severe weather conditions is obtainable in micro-wave than in wire communications.

The conferees were shown a number of demonstrations, including the transmission of computer data over microwaves.

1st Phase Of State Cooling Job On Time

The first phase of the Capitol's air conditioning system was completely operating prior to the June 1 deadline, State Engineer John Hossack said Wednesday.

The general contractor, Natkin and Co., beat the deadline "by two or three days" after unexpected problems delayed earlier completion.

Hossack said the second phase, completing the system and including the northeast quadrant of the building, East Senate chamber and law library, and three remaining tower floors, must be completed by May 1, 1966, but heating work must be ready by Oct. 10.

This final phase is under contract for $255,475.

"The only complaints I've heard about the new system," Hossack said, "is that it's too darn cold."

But, he noted, any air conditioning system as complicated as the one installed must go through a period of adjustment.

Communications Net Explained

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

The concept of a consolidated, statewide communications system for Nebraska was outlined Wednesday before state officials and department heads.

The conference at the Nebraska Center followed by three months the appointment of a special committee by Gov. Frank B. Morrison to look into the possibility of combining present and future communications needs into a single system.

Robert B. Heilig, emergency plans officer for the Department of Roads, said the integrated, micro-wave system "could handle any type of transmission that any state agency could use."

The system could handle simultaneously voice, teletype, data processing, closed-circuit television and facsimile transmission.

In Close Touch

Heilig noted the facsimile transmission of aerial photos and maps could put the division offices, now ranging from 90 to 400 miles from Lincoln, virtually in finger-tip touch with headquarters.

"Maps could be instantaneously transmitted to field engineers with changes or new data," he said. "The Safety Patrol could transmit mug shots of criminals, fingerprints and forged instruments."

John B. Heffelfinger, a Kansas City communications consultant to the committee, said the integrated system would be tailored to communication needs of the various departments.

"Also," he said, "there are communications concepts that department heads may be able to adapt in improving administrative efficiency."

Col. Don Penterman, deputy state adjutant general, stressed that "day-to-day communication needs can be consolidated with emergency communications—both compatible in a single system."

Keyed To National Plan

The conferees were told the pilot study of an integrated, statewide communications system—the first of its kind—would be keyed to the national preparedness plan for natural or nuclear emergencies.

"All state agencies will have a responsibility in the national plan and communications wil be a vital, key link in its implementation," Lt. Col. Burl Johnson, state emergency planning officer, said.

Gov. Morrison told the conferees they were "plowing virgin soil" and other states are watching Nebraska's feasibility study, cost of which is being shared by the federal government.

He said he will make a recommendation to the Legislature on the next step to mesh state communications into a "main line" system.

ETV System 'Backbone'

Backbone of the statewide system will be the state's ETV system now under construction. The state educational television network will be linked by a micro-wave system.

Micro-wave with simultaneous transmission possible over 600 channels can be adapted to any combination of voice, television, data processing and telelype channels.

Pointing out that microwave can afford the same communication privacy as telphone lines, a technician noted greater reliability as well as protection against the severe weather conditions is obtainable in micro-wave than in wire communications.

The conferees were shown a number of demonstrations, including the transmission of computer data over microwaves.

1st Phase Of State Cooling Job On Time

The first phase of the Capitol's air conditioning system was completely operating prior to the June 1 deadline, State Engineer John Hossack said Wednesday.

The general contractor, Natkin and Co., beat the deadline "by two or three days" after unexpected problems delayed earlier completion.

Hossack said the second phase, completing the system and including the northeast quadrant of the building, East Senate chamber and law library, and three remaining tower floors, must be completed by May 1, 1966, but heating work must be ready by Oct. 10.

This final phase is under contract for $255,475.

"The only complaints I've heard about the new system," Hossack said, "is that it's too darn cold."

But, he noted, any air conditioning system as complicated as the one installed must go through a period of adjustment.

POSTCARD by Stan Delaplane

At 10 in the sunny New York morning, I caught American Airlines' Flight 3 and flew to Los Angeles.

Consuming enroute: About five hours.

Half of a pocket-size novel. Two martinis, a crab cocktail and one steak, medium-rare.

A first-run movie. A glass of Bordeaux. A slice of mocha cake — with so many calories they could have weighed me and charged overweight in flight.

"Back to normalcy," cried President Warren Harding, campaigning from his Ohio front porch.

What is normal to modern man? — 170 million passengers on the jets this year).

In the last "normal" four weeks, I got on four airplanes. Two helicopters. One train. Drove a rent car the length of Italy. Rode a liner across the Atlantic.

Stayed in 10 hotels. Ate in I don't know how many restaurants — Scottish beef to Italian pasta.

At home people only said: "Did they show a good movie? The last time we flew to Paris, they showed etc. etc."

It's a normal life. (Radio was still called "wireless" when Harding was elected 45 years ago.)

In the morning I gathered up two children. Boarded a United flight for San Francisco — 50 minutes. Consuming one lunch. Two balloons. Four pages of the San Francisco paper — which had come down one hour before on the same plane.

Opened the accumulated mail. Finding several stern notes: "If this account is not paid within 10 days, we will be forced etc. etc."

That is back to normalcy, all right.

Senator Fulbright's suggestion to give up "the debaucheries of Paris" didn't work. And a number of complaints have come to the French Tourist Office from tourists who could not find a debauching spot. (London's the place.)

Europe is still with tourists of all nationalities — it's a wealthy modern world we live in.

Hotels are almost impossible to get. For this, the French blame the Americans. The Americans blame the Germans. The Germans say it's the British. And all Europe, it seems to me, is full of Scandinavians.

The cute little item you used to shop—to amaze and infuriate your stay-at-home friends — is now available in import gift shops from Miami to Seattle. And often at as good a price.

Language is still a problem. Those ads — "Practically everybody speaks English" are true. In England. Elsewhere I guess everybody speaks English. Except the person you're talking to.

After 109 passengers are seated, ready to fly to Europe, they always have to page the airport for the missing 110th. (What is wrong with that guy anyway?)

☆ ☆ ☆

A garlicky, winey dinner in a restaurant in Florence. An evening in an English pub. All polished brass and firelight, in a thatched roof village near lonely Dartmoor.

A train ride along the blue Mediterranean. The buzz of insects in the grassy ruins in a quiet street in Pompeii.

The smell of sea fog. The sound of music on an ocean liner at sunset in mid-Atlantic. And a flight across the whole United States, in just time enough to have a movie and lunch. The normal life.

MUD's Well Field Application OK'd

State Water Resources Director Dan S. Jones Wednesday granted the Metropolitan Utilities District (MUD) of Omaha authority to establish a large water well field along the Platte River south of Omaha.

MUD proposes a 35-well field to supply the water needs of Omaha and surrounding areas. Completion date is set for July, 1967.

The utilities district estimates the total cost of the facility, including a treating plant and mains to transport the water some 15 miles, at $16 million.

Jones' order followed four days of hearings earlier this year at which strong protests to the well field were voiced.

The wells would be located in Sarpy and Cass Counties. The field would have the capacity to pump a maximum 60,000,000 gallons a day. The district estimates that the daily average would be 40,000,000 gallons.

Protests to establishing the field were voiced primarily by Sarpy County, the Bellevue Rod and Gun Club and several individuals at the hearings.

—At the maximum draw of 60,000,000 gallons a day, the river would be lowered less than one and a quarter inches at the time of the lowest record discharge on Sept. 3, 1955, and "it would be lowered considerably less at the highest river discharges that are generally present."

—The MUD field would generally not harm water levels for nearby irrigation and other water wells.

—The field would not hamper local industrial or other developments, since none of the Platte discharge is now being "diverted and beneficially used" before it is discharged into the Missouri River some five miles downstream from the proposed MUD site.

To charges that transporting the water to Omaha from the Platte would constitute an illegal diversion from one watershed to another, Jones answered:

Special Statute

"This proceeding is one brought under a special statute covering a special subject, namely, the withdrawing, transporting and using of ground water by cities, villages or municipal corporations supplying water to cities and villages."

—At the hearings MUD spokesmen said the district would be unable to meet water demands after 1967 without the Platte well field.

Constitutional Amendments Hiked To 10

The number of constitutional amendments placed on the ballot by the current Nebraska Legislature for voter approval or rejection next year was increased Wednesday to 10.

Lawmakers approved 48-1 a bill, LB843, proposing a constitutional amendment authorizing the Legislature to pay or cancel unpaid taxes or assessments against real estate owned or acquired by the state or governmental subdivisions.

The measure was sponsored by Sens. Eric Rasmussen of Fairmont, Dale Payne of Papillion and W. H. Hasebroock of West Point.

Even before Wednesday's action, the Legislature had proposed more constitutional changes than any Nebraska Legislature since the turn of the century.

The full list of bills passed Wednesday (E-Emergency clause):

LB326—Permitting bank drafts to be used as the deposit required by a bidder on the lease of school lands. (Kinkaid) (49-0)

LB262—Increasing from $500 to $1,000 the maximum purchase which a county may make without asking for sealed bids. (Skarda) (47-0).

LB475—Giving rights of way to military vehicles on streets and highways when on authorized duty or during national or state emergency. (Warner, Stryker, E. Rasmussen, Skarda, Mrs. Rasmussen, Hefner, Mahoney) (46-0).

LB561—Permitting co-voters a constitutional amendment authorizing the Legislature to pay or cancel unpaid taxes or assessments against real estate owned or acquired by the state or governmental subdivisions. (E. Rasmussen, Payne, Hasebroock) (46-1).

Bridges Back

Lysinger Attacks 'Employe Raids' By Fruit Growers

A state senator said Wednesday fruit growers from California and other western states are moving into Nebraska to try and recruit migrant farm workers to work in their orchards.

Sen. Richard Lysinger of Ravenna said the "employe raids" are the result of Congress failing to renew the Mexican Farm Labor Law last year.

Lysinger described them as "transient employers" and proposed they be required to file regular reports with the State Labor Department. He said they should also pay recruitment licensing fees.

The Legislature responded by attaching an amendment to a labor bill requiring them to do just that. Lysinger said he hopes the measure will stop the practice. He said Nebraska needs all the farm workers it can get.

The rider was placed on LB851 which will increase license fees for employment agencies. The bill will come up for final reading soon.

U.S. Troop Discretion Is Needed

Washington (AP) — The White House said Wednesday that discretionary authority to commit U.S. ground forces to fight alongside Vietnamese troops was given to avoid a situation that could easily enable the Communist Viet Cong to gain great advantage.

In a statement read by Presidential Press Secretary George E. Reedy, the White House once again defined the combat mission of U.S. ground units in Viet Nam he said there has been no change in the role in recent days or weeks.

There was some difference in emphasis but virtually no difference in substance from previous explanations of the U.S. role in Viet Nam.

Dual Role

Last Friday a military spokesman in Saigon declared that U.S. forces have a dual role: "To be stationed at important places and add to the defense, and to participate in battle in what we call combat support of the government forces when it becomes necessary."

This statement passed al-tions. This concept did most unnoticed. On Saturday the State Department, responding to a request, defined the U.S. policy of conducting an aggressive defense of installations. This concept did not tie down U.S. forces to the immediate base area.

There was no mention of combat support for Viet Nam forces until Tuesday. State Department Press Officer Robert J. McCloskey said this authority had been given to Gen. William C. Westmoreland, chief of the U.S. military assistance command in Saigon. McCloskey said the authority had been granted in recent weeks.

Discretion

If the U.S. military commander did not have this discretionary authority, the White House said, "A situation might easily arise in which heavy loss of life might occur and great advantage might be won by the Viet Cong because of delays in communications."

While stressing the danger of communication delays, the White House emphasized that any change of the primary mission would be a matter for decision in Washington.

The statement read by Reedy reflected sharp White House concern over the choice of words used by the State Department spokesman Tuesday in presenting the combat support order as something new, qualified sources said.

Javits Charge

There was no reply offered to charges by New York Republican Sen. Jacob K. Javits in the Senate Wednesday that the United States is moving toward a "massive bogdown and struggle in Asia without the specific consent of Congress." He said before President Johnson commits U.S. troops to a large-scale ground war he should ask Congress to pass a resolution approving such action.

Javits asked whether the buildup in U.S. troop strength would lead to crossing of the 17th Parallel into North Viet Nam by ground forces.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk, appearing on the nationwide morning television "Today" show (NBC), reaffirmed that the United States is not going to be forced out of Southeast Asia

"We don't expect these men to sit there like hypnotized rabbits waiting for the Viet Cong to strike," Rusk said. "They are out in the surrounding countryside to be sure the Viet Cong is kept off balance . . . We would expect during this monsoon season there would be some sharp engagements between the Viet Cong and our people."

MUD's Well Field Application OK'd

State Water Resources Director Dan S. Jones Wednesday granted the Metropolitan Utilities District (MUD) of Omaha authority to establish a large water well field along the Platte River south of Omaha.

MUD proposes a 35-well field to supply the water needs of Omaha and surrounding areas. Completion date is set for July, 1967.

The utilities district estimates the total cost of the facility, including a treating plant and mains to transport the water some 15 miles, at $16 million.

Jones' order followed four days of hearings earlier this year at which strong protests to the well field were voiced.

The wells would be located in Sarpy and Cass Counties. The field would have the capacity to pump a maximum 60,000,000 gallons a day. The district estimates that the daily average would be 40,000,000 gallons.

Protests to establishing the field were voiced primarily by Sarpy County, the Bellevue Rod and Gun Club and several individuals at the hearings.

—At the maximum draw of 60,000,000 gallons a day, the river would be lowered less than one and a quarter inches at the time of the lowest record discharge on Sept. 3, 1955, and "it would be lowered considerably less at the highest river discharges that are generally present."

—The MUD field would generally not harm water levels for nearby irrigation and other water wells.

—The field would not hamper local industrial or other developments, since none of the Platte discharge is now being "diverted and beneficially used" before it is discharged into the Missouri River some five miles downstream from the proposed MUD site.

To charges that transporting the water to Omaha from the Platte would constitute an illegal diversion from one watershed to another, Jones answered:

Special Statute

"This proceeding is one brought under a special statute covering a special subject, namely, the withdrawing, transporting and using of ground water by cities, villages or municipal corporations supplying water to cities and villages;

"The director is obligated to consider that the statute is valid and constitutional; and that for that reason, this decision is confined to the provisions of the statute involved and no consideration is given to the issue of illegal diversion of water from one watershed to another."

At the hearings MUD spokesmen said the district would be unable to meet water demands after 1967 without the Platte well field.

Constitutional Amendments Hiked To 10

The number of constitutional amendments placed on the ballot by the current Nebraska Legislature for voter approval or rejection next year was increased Wednesday to 10.

Lawmakers approved 48-1 a bill, LB443, proposing a constitutional amendment authorizing the Legislature to pay or cancel unpaid taxes or assessments against real estate owned or acquired by the state or governmental subdivisions.

The measure was sponsored by Sens. Eric Rasmussen of Fairmont, Dale Payne of Papillion and W. H. Hasebroock of West Point.

Even before Wednesday's action, the Legislature had proposed more constitutional changes than any Nebraska Legislature since the turn of the century.

The full list of bills passed Wednesday (E-Emergency clause):

LB226—Permitting bank drafts to be used as the deposit required by a bidder on the lease of school lands. (Knight) (49-0).

LB262—Increasing from $500 to $1,000 the maximum purchase which a county may make without asking for sealed bids. (Skarda) (47-0).

LB476—Giving right of way to military vehicles on streets and highways when on authorized duty or during national or state emergency. (Warner, Stryker, E. Rasmussen, Skarda, R. Rasmussen, Bowen, Mahoney) (E) (49-0).

LB443 — Submitting to voters a constitutional amendment authorizing the Legislature to pay or cancel unpaid taxes or assessments against real estate owned or acquired by the state or governmental subdivisions. (E. Rasmussen, Payne, Hasebroock) (48-1).

Lysinger Attacks 'Employe Raids' By Fruit Growers

A state senator said Wednesday fruit growers from California and other western states are moving into Nebraska to try and recruit migrant farm workers to work in their orchards.

Sen. Richard Lysinger of Ravenna said the "employe raids" are the result of Congress failing to renew the Mexican Farm Labor Law last year.

Lysinger described them as "transient employers" and proposed they be required to file regular reports with the State Labor Department. He said they should also pay recruitment licensing fees.

The Legislature responded by attaching an amendment to a labor bill requiring them to do just that. Lysinger said he hopes the measure will stop the practice. He said Nebraska needs all the farm workers it can get.

The rider was placed on LB851 which will increase license fees for employment agencies. The bill will come up for final reading soon.

Bill Would Give Trade Schools Aid

The Legislature's Education Committee Wednesday approved a plan under which the state would provide financial assistance to trade schools established through local initiative.

The committee did so by amending a bill which had called for establishment of a system of state-operated trade schools. As amended, the measure, LB482, provides that the state will supply a maximum of $100,000 for each new trade school, with not more than $500,000 appropriated in state aid for the next two years.

LB482, a product of an interim study, was first advanced to the floor by the Education Committee last month, but then was pulled back for Wednesday's amendments which completely changed the bill.

The committee adopted the amendments on a 8-0 vote, then advanced the bill to the floor, 7-0.

The committee last month advanced Sen. Maurice Kremer's LB581 which provides for the establishment of area trade schools. The bill, now awaiting first round floor debate, authorizes educational service units and counties or areas meeting minimum property valuation standards to levy a tax of up to two mills to finance an area trade school.

The bill is coordinaed with LB 301, which also has received committee approval. LB301 divides the state into 19 educational service units.

If the three coordinated trade school bills are passed by the Legislature, trade schools would be established by petitioning the state education board for approval, then submitting the proposal to voters in the area served by the school. Federal and state funds would be available to help finance construction of facilities.

Clean Politics Bills Planned By Governor

Gov. Frank Morrison said Wednesday he will seek introduction of bills prohibiting anonymous political campaign literature and requiring candidates to fully disclose campaign contributions.

"Politics must be kept as clean as humanly posible," the governor said. "Corrupt campaign practices have the same effect as throwing sand in a machine."

Douglas County Election Commissioner Jerry Hassett announced Tuesday that he has drafted a bill to eliminate smear literature in political campaigns.

Gov. Morrison said the bill has his "complete endorsement and support."

The bill would require all campaign literature to contain the name and business address of the printer and name and street address of the person or committee requesting the printing. This would apply to handbills, pamphlets, advertisements, circulars, postcards, photographs, placards or letters in all elections.

Hassett said the proposal has the support of representatives of both major political parties and the Rev. Neil Danberg, chairman of the State Fair Campaign Practices Committee.

Morrison said his full-disclosure bill would require candidates to file reports with the secretary of state showing the amount and sources of every campaign contribution.

Contribution reports now must only show the contributions made to candidates committees and not contributions made directly to the candidate himself.

Murdered Negro Deputy Buried In Louisiana

Bogalusa, La. (AP) — O'Neal Moore — victim of night-riders' bullets a week ago—was buried Wednesday in the sandy soil of southeast Louisiana.

The first Negro deputy in Washington Parish (County) was put to rest after an emotion-charged funeral.

His widow, who held back her tears during services in the small frame Mount Zion Missionary Baptist Church, mumbled, "My poor darling," as she stood mournfully before his casket.

Wiping away tears with a crumpled handkerchief," she said, "I love you, I love you. Please don't leave me."

Moore, 34, a native of near-by Poplarville, Miss., was killed in a volley of gunfire as he and a squad car partner, Creed Rogers, were on routine patrol at Varnado, seven miles north of Bogalusa.

WEEPING AT FUNERAL . . . Mrs. Moore and deputy's father, Stephen.

A Bogalusa white man, Ernest McElveen, 41, has been charged with murder in the slaying. State, federal and local officers working on the case figured at least three men were involved.

The terrorist shooting came after a series of racial clashes in Bogalusa, scene of a Negro drive for desegregation of public facilities and equal job opportunity.

The small church, located on a gravel road west of Varnado, was jammed with more than 400 well-dressed Negroes. About 200 other persons clustered at front and side entrances.

Among those attending were James Farmer, director of the Congress Of Racial Equality and Dr. Robert W. Spike, executive director of the Commission of Race and Religion for the National Council of Churches. Dr. Spike is white.

Bill Would Give Trade Schools Aid

The Legislature's Education Committee Wednesday approved a plan under which the state would provide financial assistance to trade schools established through local initiative.

The committee did so by amending a bill which had called for establishment of a system of state-operated trade schools. As amended, the measure, LB482, provides that the state will supply a maximum of $100,000 for each new trade school, with not more than $500,000 appropriated in state aid for the next two years.

LB482, a product of an interim study, was first advanced to the floor by the Education Committee last month, but then was pulled back for Wednesday's amendments which completely changed the bill.

The committee adopted the amendments on a 8-0 vote, then advanced the bill to the floor, 7-0

The committee last month advanced Sen. Maurice Kremer's LB581 which provides for the establishment of area trade schools. The bill, now awaiting first round floor debate, authorizes educational service units and counties or areas meeting minimum property valuation standards to levy a tax of up to two mills to finance an area trade school

The bill is coordinaed with LB 301, which also has received committee approval. LB301 divides the state into 19 educational service units.

If the three coordinated trade school bills are passed by the Legislature, trade schools would be established by petitioning the state education board for approval, then submitting the proposal to voters in the area served by the school. Federal and state funds would be available to help finance construction of facilities.

Clean Politics Bills Planned By Governor

Gov. Frank Morrison said Wednesday he will seek introduction of bills prohibiting anonymous political campaign literature and requiring candidates to fully disclose campaign contributions

"Politics must be kept as clean as humanly posible," the governor said. "Corrupt campaign practices have the same effect as throwing sand in a machine."

Douglas County Election Commissioner Jerry Hassett announced Tuesday that he has drafted a bill to eliminate smear literature in political campaigns.

Gov Morrison said the bill has his "complete endorsement and support."

The bill would require all campaign literature to contain the name and business address of the printer and name and street address of the person or committee requesting the printing. This would apply to handbills, pamphlets, advertisements, circulars, postcards, photographs, placards or letters in all elections.

Hassett said the proposal has the support of representatives of both major political parties and the Rev. Neil Danberg, chairman of the State Fair Campaign Practices Committee.

Morrison said his full-disclosure bill would require candidates to file reports with the secretary of state showing the amount and sources of every campaign contribution.

Contribution reports now must only show the contributions made to candidates committees and not contributions made directly to the candidate himself.

Senator Tries To Move Bill

Sen. Fern Orme of Lincoln moved in the Legislature Wednesday to pluck from the hands of the Education Committee a bill to establish a state trade school at North Platte.

The measure, LB480, has been stalled in committee by an even split of committee members.

Action on her motion to bring the measure to the floor and place it on general file was deferred until Thursday at Mrs. Orme's request.

LB480 is one of a half dozen bills reposing in the Education Committee proposing establishment of state trade schools at specific locations, financed and operated by the state as is the only present state vocational educational training school, at Milford.

The committee has sent to the floor a bill, LB851, which permits establishment of area trade schools, financed by the area covered.

Sen. Maurice Kremer of Aurora and others backing the area concept have maintained that if the state itself establishes new trade schools, the area approach will never be used.

Sen. Ross Rasmussen of Hooper, Education Committee chairman, resisted the effort to seize LB480 from the committee. He related how the committee has favored a local initiative approach and said he was hopeful that any money the state might spend on a new trade school go instead for matching money to help local or area interests establish and run such schools.

Sen. Kremer said that if any bills for state trade schools at specific locations reach the floor, so much dissension will develop that the Legislature will adjourn without taking any action.

Sen. Cecil Craft of North Platte, a co-sponsor of LB480, said that if there was one thing that the 1963 Legislature agreed upon, it was the need for more trade schools. He said the area approach may work in Eastern Nebraska, but will not work in the west where distances are greater.

Sen. S. H. Brauer Sr. of Norfolk said LB480 would represent a start "to meet our obligation" to "a forgotten segment of our high school students."

An interim study committee headed by Mrs. Orme recommended establishment of a system of trade schools and specified that the first such school be established at North Platte.

Other bills in the committee call for establishing such schools also at Sidney, O'Neill, Norfolk, Ogallala and Broken Bow.

Under a legislative policy voted recently, any bills calling for an expenditure of more than $20,000 which may still be reposing in committee after Friday of this week automatically will be killed. Mrs. Orme said that it was to forestall that fate for LB480 that she made her motion Wednesday to bring the bill to the floor.

Withdrawal Of Cellular Study Measure Asked

Sen. Marvin E. Stromer of Lincoln Wednesday requested legislative permission to withdraw his bill proposing a .18 mill tax for one year to create a special University of Nebraska cellular research fund.

The bill, LB827, is currently resting in the Budget Committee.

Stromer said he is requesting withdrawal for two reasons, including the possibility that pending federal legislation may allow the state to participate in a joint program of basic cellular research aimed at cancer and allied diseases.

"Until I know what Congress will do, LB827 may be a little premature," he said. Congressional action may be forthcoming either late this year or early in 1966, he said.

Stromer said the other reason for withdrawal is the fact that "the general construction plans approved for the University in LB890 are agreeable to me."

'Functional Budget' Hit By Bowen

Sen. Kenneth Bowen of Red Cloud, Speaker of the Legislature, Wednesday blamed so-called "functional budgeting" for an increase in general fund appropriations which he said may prove to have doubled in a four-year period

Functional budgeting, which the Budget Committee has increasingly adopted at the last two sessions, gets away from lump sum appropriating and sets out the money needed for individual programs and uses.

In one of his regular reports to constituents, Sen. Bowen said functional budgeting "has been so satisfactory that it has proved to be unsatisfactory."

"The functional budget produces information to substantiate needs in the many departments of state government. It does such a good job that it is difficult for any member or group of members to cut one dime off of the budget recommended by this respectable committee."

Bowen said functional budgeting has failed because it establishes needs "regardless of ability to raise revenue."

"One should consider first the ability of a state, a county, a city or a school district to produce funds and then these funds should be allocated to the best interest of the state as a whole.

"I am sure that no businessman would set up a budget without giving some consideration as to where the necessary funds would come from in order to meet the expenses he anticipated . . .

"Any legislative committee and especially the Budget Committee should take into consideration the amount of revenue and the equity in raising that revenue when they recommend increased expenditures to the legislative body as a whole."

Bowen said "never in the history of the Unicameral have the expenditures increased so rapidly as they have in the past two sessions of the Legislature."

Youth Corps Project OKd By Morrison

Gov. Frank Morrison announced Wednesday his initial approval of a $62,932 Neighborhood Youth Corps project to aid in the development of Indian Cave State Park in southeast Nebraska.

The project will be operated by the State Game Commission, giving training and summer work to about 90 youths ages 16 to 21. Federal funds will total $56,364.

Morrison said the youths will be recruited from Auburn, Humboldt, Falls City, Nebraska City and Tecumseh.

They will do fencing and clearing work unable to be done by machinery in portions of the park.

Provision Limiting Job Agencies Fees Cut From Bill

The Legislature Wednesday removed from pending legislation a provision limiting private employment agencies to charges not exceeding 50% of the applicant's first monthly salary.

The provision, contained in LB851, was unconstitutional, Sen. Hal Bauer of Lincoln informed his colleagues.

Senator Tries To Move Bill

Sen. Fern Orme of Lincoln moved in the Legislature Wednesday to pluck from the hands of the Education Committee a bill to establish a state trade school at North Platte.

The measure, LB480, has been stalled in committee by an even split of committee members.

Action on her motion to bring the measure to the floor and place it on general file was deferred until Thursday at Mrs. Orme's request.

LB480 is one of a half dozen bills reposing in the Education Committee proposing establishment of state trade schools at specific locations, financed and operated by the state as is the only present state vocational educational training school, at Milford.

The committee has sent to the floor a bill, LB851, which permits establishment of area trade schools, financed by the area covered.

Sen. Maurice Kremer of Aurora and others backing the area concept have maintained that if the state itself establishes new trade schools, the area approach will never be used.

Sen. Ross Rasmussen of Hooper, Education Committee chairman, resisted the effort to seize LB480 from the committee. He related how the committee has favored a local initiative approach and said he was hopeful that any money the state might spend on a new trade school go instead for matching money to help local or area interests establish and run such schools.

Sen. Kremer said that if any bills for state trade schools at specific locations reach the floor, so much dissension will develop that the Legislature will adjourn without taking any action.

Sen. Cecil Craft of North Platte, a co-sponsor of LB480, said that if there was one thing that the 1963 Legislature agreed upon, it was the need for more trade schools. He said the area approach may work in Eastern Nebraska, but will not work in the west where distances are greater.

Sen. S. H. Brauer Sr. of Norfolk said LB480 would represent a start "to meet our obligation" to "a forgotten segment of our high school students."

An interim study committee headed by Mrs. Orme recommended establishment of a system of trade schools and specified that the first such school be established at North Platte.

Other bills in the committee call for establishing such schools also at Sidney, O'Neill, Norfolk, Ogallala and Broken Bow.

Under a legislative policy voted recently, any bills calling for an expenditure of more than $20,000 which may still be reposing in committee after Friday of this week automatically will be killed. Mrs. Orme said that it was to forestall that fate for LB480 that she made her motion Wednesday to bring the bill to the floor.

Withdrawal Of Cellular Study Measure Asked

Sen. Marvin E. Stromer of Lincoln Wednesday requested legislative permission to withdraw his bill proposing a .18 mill tax for one year to create a special University of Nebraska cellular research fund.

The bill, LB827, is currently resting in the Budget Committee.

Stromer said he is requesting withdrawal for two reasons, including the possibility that pending federal legislation may allow the state to participate in a joint program of basic cellular research aimed at cancer and allied diseases.

"Until I know what Congress will do, LB827 may be a little premature," he said. Congressional action may be forthcoming either late this year or early in 1966, he said.

Stromer said the other reason for withdrawal is the fact that "the general construction plans approved for the University in LB890 are agreeable to me."

Hallam Plant Part Studied In California

J. Denny Cochran, station superintendent, said two of the moderator elements have been removed from the core of the atomic reactor.

One has been removed to the plant's maintenance room and part of it will also be sent to Atomics International.

The atomic powered generating facilities at the Consumers plant were shut down last September when it was learned that seven of the 141 moderator elements were leaking liquid sodium which circulates through the reactor.

Cochran said the remaining five moderators that have sprung leaks probably will be removed by August. He said he didn't know how long it would take Atomics International to analyze the trouble and make recommendations on the situation.

Heasty W. Reesman, state director for the FHA, said emergency loans are available to farmers and ranchers unable to obtain credit from local sources.

Membership in the Woman's Society of Christian Service showed an increase of 108 and Methodist Mens Clubs showed a decrease of 137 members.

A "Sandhills Methodist Council" was approved by the conference. The council will replace the Mobile Ministry which has been in existence in the northwest district since 1946.

For the past seven years the Rev. Earl Reed, based at Lakeside, has served the Sandhill area as mobile minister. From 1954 to 1963 the Rev. Leon Foster, now of Crawford, also served in another mobile unit. The Rev. Otto M. Fabre, now retired, served in a mobile unit from 1951 to 1959. The first mobile minister in Nebraska Methodism was the Rev. Albert C. Monkman, who now lives at Crowell Memorial Home at Blair.

The Nebraska Methodist Board of Missions has approved more than $3,000 for the development of the new Sandhills Council project.

Charles Judge, representative of the Methodist Publishing House, presented a check for $12,137 to the conference Claimants Society pension program.

The Publishing House, the only self-supporting general agency of the Methodist Church, appropriates net profits, after proper reserves have been set aside for operation, to the Conference Claimants Fund.

Laymen Honored

The Nebraska Methodist Board of Hospitals and Homes honored four laymen Wednesday for their contributions to Methodist-related institutions in the state.

The awards went to:

Mrs. Albert Burt of Holdrege for service to the Methodist Memorial Home for the elderly at Holdrege;

Mrs. Adah Hester Young, Benkelman, for service to the Sarah Ann Hester Memorial Home for the elderly in Benkelman;

R. M. Van Steenberg, Scottsbluff, for service to the West Nebraska General Hospital;

Mrs. Charles W. Mead, Omaha, for service to Epworth Village, a home for emotionally disturbed youngsters at York.

Hallam Plant Part Studied In California

J. Denny Cochran, station superintendent, said two of the moderator elements have been removed from the core of the atomic reactor.

One has been removed to the plant's maintenance room and part of it will also be sent to Atomics International.

The atomic powered generating facilities at the Consumers plant were shut down last Septenber when it was learned that seven of the 141 moderator elements were leaking liquid sodium which circulates through the reactor.

Cochran said the remaining five moderators that have sprung leaks probably will be removed by August. He said he didn't know how long it would take Atomics International to analyze the trouble and make recommendations on the situation.

FHA Will Lend Money In Twenty Weather-Hit Spots

The Farmers Home Administration is making emergency loans available to 20 Nebraska counties, Gov. Frank Morrison announced Wednesday.

Counties eligible for the federal loans have either suffered crop damage from the prolonged western Nebraska drought or were hit by tornadoes in early May.

The counties are Antelope, Banner, Boone, Box Butte, Chase, Dawes, Dundy, Frontier, Greeley, Hayes, Hitchcock, Keith, Morrill, Perkins, Pierce, Red Willow, Scotts Bluff, Sheridan, Sioux and Wheeler.

Heasty W. Reesman, state director for the FHA, said emergency loans are available to farmers and ranchers unable to obtain credit from local sources.

Actual Value Bill Advances In Unicam

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

The Legislature Wednesday handed 24-19 first round floor approval to a heavily amended bill which would provide that actual value of property for tax purposes shall mean market value in the ordinary course of trade.

The bill, LB87, was amended again at the request of Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff in order to return it basically to its original form.

Taken from the formula for determining actual value, if LB87 were enacted into law, would be five additional factors now written into basic tax legislation.

Included are earning capacity of property, its relative location, desirability and functional use, reproduction costs less depreciation, and comparison with other properties of known or recognized value.

Those five factors are inherently considered in market value, State Tax Commissioner George Dworak told the Legislature in an informal meeting earlier this month.

Taken from the amended bill were provisions which had restored all factors, but required both the assessor and the taxpayer to assign a dollar value to each when determining the actual value of property.

Sen. Elvin Adamson of Valentine said that, if the bill passes, he hopes the Legislature would clearly establish its intent that other factors be considered as a part of market value.

Also advanced on a 20-6 count was another Carpenter bill, LB101, which authorizes cities and counties to issue bonds for construction of streets and highways, and use gasoline tax funds to retire such bonds.

Adamson won acceptance of an amendment which confines the use of gasoline tax funds to construction work on intersections, federal aid routes and state highways.

Voting against the motion to advance from general file were Sens. Pat Moulton and Henry Pedersen Jr., both of Omaha, and Sens. Frank Nelson of O'Neill, Ira Paine of Grand Island, Elmer Wallwey of Emerson, and William Wylie of Elgin.

2 Bills From Budget Committee Accepted

The Legislature's Budget Committee delivered two new bills to the floor for introduction Wednesday, and both were received without dissent.

LB911 would give the University of Nebraska Regents the authority to determine the rates to be charged for the care of patients at the University Hospital in Omaha.

Sen. Richard Marvel of Hastings, Budget Committee chairman, said the latter measure is designed to permit the University Hospital to eliminate a presently required $4 per day charge to the counties for the treatment of patients at the hospital.

He said this charge prevents the hospital from participating in certain financial help programs, including the Kerr-Mills program of medical assistance to the indigent aged.

Were the bill accepted, the change would make available another $1.4 million, of which $600,000 would go to the Welfare Department and $800,000 would be available to the general fund, Marvel said.

Both LB910 and LB911 were placed on general file without assignment to committee for further hearing.

Methodists Report Membership Up

Omaha — Methodist membership in Nebraska has increased by 1,420 over the previous year. This announcevent was made during the Nebraska Methodist Conference in Omaha by the conference statistician Woodrow W. Leypoldt, minister at Albion.

Membership in the 1964-65 year was 137,361. Membership during the 1965-66 year (May 31 to June 1) was 138,781. Another notable increase was noted in the church school for children through 11 years of age. An increase of 4,667 was noted over last year's children's division total of 34,671.

Membership in the Woman's Society of Christian Service showed an increase of 108 and Methodist Mens Clubs showed a decrease of 137 members.

A "Sandhills Methodist Council" was approved by the conference. The council will replace the Mobile Ministry which has been in existence in the northwest district since 1946.

For the past seven years the Rev. Earl Reed, based at Lakeside, has served the Sandhill area as mobile minister. From 1954 to 1963 the Rev. Leon Foster, now of Crawford, also served in another mobile unit. The Rev. Otto M. Fabre, now retired, served in a mobile unit from 1951 to 1959. The first mobile minister in Nebraska Methodism was the Rev. Albert C. Monkman, who now lives at Crowell Memorial Home at Blair.

The Nebraska Methodist Board of Missions has approved more than $3,000 for the development of the new Sandhills Council project.

Charles Judge, representative of the Methodist Publishing House, presented a check for $12,137 to the conference Claimants Society pension program.

The Publishing House, the only self-supporting general agency of the Methodist Church, appropriates net profits, after proper reserves have been set aside for operation, to the Conference Claimants Fund.

Laymen Honored

The Nebraska Methodist Board of Hospitals and Homes honored four laymen Wednesday for their contributions to Methodist-related institutions in the state.

The awards went to:

Mrs. Albert Burt of Holdrege for service to the Methodist Memorial Home for the elderly at Holdrege;

Mrs. Adah Hester Young, Benkelman, for service to the Sarah Ann Hester Memorial Home for the elderly in Benkelman;

R. M. Van Steenberg, Scottsbluff, for service to the West Nebraska General Hospital;

Norden Asks Road Vacation; To Expand Plant

By BOB SCHREPF
Star Staff Writer

The City-County Planning Commission Wednesday recommended that the SYA Highway, a county road running from Oak Creek northwest to Cornhusker Highway, be vacated.

Action came after a request for the vacation by Norden Laboratories, Inc. Norden owns a large tract which the SYA road intersects, and plans expansion of its existing plant.

Under the recommendation, the road would be vacated, subject to easements, and the bridge over Oak Creek would be abandoned. Access to Cornhusker Highway would be reached by using 1st St., which is paved.

Recommended

Planning Director Douglas Brogden recommended the vacation and said that the move would eliminate a dangerous intersection (SYA and Cornhusker).

The commission denied a request by Estella and Xene Noble for a change of zone from A-2 single family dwelling and B-two family dwelling to L heavy industry for property on 3rd St., between A and Garfield.

Attorney Robert Zimmerman said that the zoning change was desired in order to permit Noble to continue operating a small garage business.

Brogden told the commission that the area is well developed with dwellings and that the garage operation is an illegal use of the land.

He commented that if a program of removal of the houses and development of the area for industry was initiated, he would approve a zoning change.

Postponed

Action on a request by Willard Rake for a special permit to expand salvage yard operations at No. 70th and U.S. 6 was postponed until the next meeting.

Wednesday's session was the first for new commission appointees Adam Breckenridge and Daniel Remigio.

Breckenridge is a vice chancellor of the University of Nebraska; Remigio is Lincoln manager for Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co.

Other business:

—Change of zone from D multiple dwelling to I commercial, requested by John Dietrich and the Planning Commission, for three lots at 47th and Huntington, approved.

—Request for a special permit by Bud Imlay to operate a tap dancing studio at 609 So. 37th, approved.

—Vacation of streets and alleys in an area bounded by 7th, 10th and Superior, approved.

—Change of zone from AA rural and public use to K light industry, requested by Lena and Otis Glebe for property at Folsom and South, approved.

—Final plats for Westland Heights addition, between A and South Sts., east of Burlington Ave.; and Rent-Worth Industrial Park, So. 48th, north of Old Cheney Road, approved.

MONKEY SETS FIRE TO HOME

Firemen said the pet, while monkeying around in the kitchen, apparently turned on a burner of the electric stove. It ignited some paper plates and napkins on the stove top, then spread to other items in the kitchen. The blaze caused small damage.

Lincoln, Omaha To Ask AEC To Build Accelerator In State

The Lincoln and Omaha Chambers of Commerce will present a bid Monday to the Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) for a proposed $280,000 proton accelerator.

Dr. Emerson Jones, atomic scientist who has done the detail work for the joint bid, will make the presentation to the AEC.

The 200 B.E.V. proton accelerator will conduct research on the nucleas of the atom.

Selection Set

Fraker said the AEC will select the site for the accelerator by the end of the year.

He said the final design for the project would be initiated in 1967 and construction would probably begin in 1968. It would take eight years to construct.

Bids from all over the nation are being made, Fraker said, including from Denver, Atlanta and several East and West Coast cities.

The facility would be of gigantic size—40-feet deep in the ground and a mile in diameter.

Would Employ 2,000

Fraker said the AEC facility would employ 2,000 scientific and technical personnel. He said he had no idea of the total number of persons who would be employed.

In addition to the 2,000 regular scientific personnel, Fraker said about 1,000 persons would be coming in and out on a visiting basis from institutions such as the University of California.

Actual Value Bill Advances In Unicam

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

The Legislature Wednesday handed 24-19 first round floor approval to a heavily amended bill which would provide that actual value of property for tax purposes shall mean market value in the ordinary course of trade.

The bill, LB87, was amended again at the request of Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff in order to return it basically to its original form.

Taken from the formula for determining actual value, if LB87 were enacted into law, would be five additional factors now written into basic tax legislation.

Included are earning capacity of property, its relative location, desirability and functional use, reproduction costs less depreciation, and comparison with other properties of known or recognized value.

Those five factors are inherently considered in market value, State Tax Commissioner George Dworak told the Legislature in an informal meeting earlier this month.

Taken from the amended bill were provisions which had restored all factors, but required both the assessor and the taxpayer to assign a dollar value to each when determining the actual value of property.

Sen. Elvin Adamson of Valentine said that, if the bill passes, he hopes the Legislature would clearly establish its intent that other factors be considered as a part of market value.

Also advanced on a 20-6 count was another Carpenter bill, LB101, which authorizes cities and counties to issue bonds for construction of streets and highways, and use gasoline tax funds to retire such bonds.

Adamson won acceptance of an amendment which confines the use of gasoline tax funds to construction work on intersections, federal aid routes and state highways.

Voting against the motion to advance from general file were Sens. Pat Moulton and Henry Pedersen Jr., both of Omaha, and Sens. Frank Nelson of O'Neill, Ira Paine of Grand Island, Elmer Wallwey of Emerson, and William Wylie of Elgin.

2 Bills From Budget Committee Accepted

The Legislature's Budget Committee delivered two new bills to the floor for introduction Wednesday, and both were received without dissent.

LB911 would give the University of Nebraska Regents the authority to determine the rates to be charged for the care of patients at the University Hospital in Omaha.

Sen. Richard Marvel of Hastings, Budget Committee chairman, said the latter measure is designed to permit the University Hospital to eliminate a presently required $4 per day charge to the counties for the treatment of patients at the hospital.

He said this charge prevents the hospital from participating in certain financial help programs, including the Kerr Mills program of medical assistance to the indigent aged.

Were the bill accepted, the charge would make available another $1.4 million, of which $600,000 would go to the Welfare Department and $800,000 would be available to the general fund, Marvel said.

Both LB910 and LB911 were placed on general file without assignment to committee for further hearing.

Diplomat Shooting Unsolved

Munich, Germany (AP)—Two mystery gunmen shot and wounded a Yugoslav diplomat Wednesday as he sat in a car by a Bavarian lake with a Yugoslav waitress who works in West Germany.

A spokesman for the Yugoslav Consulate General in Munich said the shooting apparently had political implications. It came at a time when President Tito of Yugoslavia was visiting in Communist East Germany.

Condition Improved

The victim was Andrija Klaric, 35, consul for Yugoslavia in Munich. He is married and the father of a 4-year-old child. He was shot through the lung but a hospital at the lakeside city of Meersberg said his condition, at first critical, had improved after an operation.

He was talking in his parked car to Dara Rogic, 38, when the attack came. She rolled out of the car to escape the volley of shots, but Klaric slumped over the wheel, bleeding.

Police searching for the two attackers questioned Yugoslav exiles at their places of work. They said Miss Rogic refused to give information.

Rightist Suspected

This was the second case of an assault on an official representative of Yugoslavia in West Germany. Less than three years ago, an employee of the Yugoslavian consulate in Bonn was murdered by rightist Yugoslav exile groups.

Georg Pendzic, chief of the press department of the Yugoslav Consulate General in Munich, said Klaric, adviser to Yugoslav workers here, was unlikely to have made enemies through his work, and believed the attack to be politically motivated.

Klaric was arranging a Yugoslav folk-song festival for next Sunday and was being helped by Miss Rogic.

Pendzic said it was to be assumed that the attempted assassins could be found in circles of the exiled extremist Ustacha, the pro-Nazi quisling group in Yugoslavia during the war.

State Will Help Recruit Poverty Program Aides

Local offices of the Nebraska Division of Employment will cooperate in the nationwide effort to recruit 2,000 candidates for youth opportunity center counselors under the government's antipoverty program.

State Labor Commissioner Lambert Eitel said recruits will receive intensive training at a major university for an eight-week period beginning July 6 and four weeks of on the job training.

"This will be a wonderful opportunity to join a new program designed to solve the problems of unemployed disadvantaged youth," Eitel said.

Permit Needed To Import Bees

State Agriculture Director Pearle F. Finigan said Wednesday a special permit must now be obtained to import colonies of bees and used bee equipment into Nebraska.

He said a law passed by the Legislature also requires all owners or operators of bees in the state to post in a conspicuous place in each of their bee yards their names and addresses.

Yards of bees located at the owner's or operator's place of residence are excluded from this provision.

Finigan said the new act, which is in effect, sets up a Honey Advisory Board of seven members which will advise the Agriculture Department as to the needs of the beekeeping industry.

Finigan said he will announce appointments to the board soon.

Norden Asks Road Vacation; To Expand Plant

By BOB SCHREPF
Star Staff Writer

The City-County Planning Commission Wednesday recommended that the SYA Highway, a county road running from Oak Creek northwest to Cornhusker Highway, be vacated.

Action came after a request for the vacation by Norden Laboratories, Inc. Norden owns a large tract which the SYA road intersects, and plans expansion of its existing plant.

Under the recommendation, the road would be vacated, subject to easements, and the bridge over Oak Creek would be abandoned. Access to Cornhusker Highway would be reached by using 1st St., which is paved.

Recommended

Planning Director Douglas Brogden recommended the vacation and said that the move would eliminate a dangerous intersection (SYA and Cornhusker).

The commission denied a request by Estella and Xene Noble for a change of zone from A-2 single family dwelling and B-two family dwelling to L heavy industry for property on 3rd St., between A and Garfield.

Attorney Robert Zimmerman said that the zoning change was desired in order to permit Noble to continue operating a small garage business.

Brogden told the commission that the area is well developed with dwellings and that the garage operation is an illegal use of the land.

He commented that if a program of removal of the houses and development of the area for industry was initiated, he would approve a zoning change.

Postponed

Action on a request by Willard Rake for a special permit to expand salvage yard operations at No. 70th and U.S. 6 was postponed until the next meeting.

Wednesday's session was the first for new commission appointees Adam Breckenridge and Daniel Remigio.

Breckenridge is a vice chancellor of the University of Nebraska; Remigio is Lincoln manager for Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co.

Other business:

—Change of zone from D multiple dwelling to I commercial, requested by John Dietrich and the Planning Commission, for three lots at 47th and Huntington, approved.

MONKEY SETS FIRE TO HOME

Firemen said the pet, while monkeying around in the kitchen, apparently turned on a burner of the electric stove. It ignited some paper plates and napkins on the stove top, then spread to other items in the kitchen. The blaze caused small damage.

—Request for a special permit by Bud Imlay to operate a tap dancing studio at 609 So. 37th, approved.

—Vacation of streets and alleys in an area bounded by 7th, 10th and Superior, approved.

Lincoln, Omaha To Ask AEC To Build Accelerator In State

The Lincoln and Omaha Chambers of Commerce will present a bid Monday to the Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) for a proposed $280,000 proton accelerator.

Dr. Emerson Jones, atomic scientist who has done the detail work for the joint bid, will make the presentation to the AEC.

The 200 B.E.V. proton accelerator will conduct research on the nucleas of the atom.

Selection Set

Fraker said the AEC will select the site for the accelerator by the end of the year.

He said the final design for the project would be initiated in 1967 and construction would probably begin in 1968. It would take eight years to construct.

Bids from all over the nation are being made, Fraker said, including from Denver, Atlanta and several East and West Coast cities.

The facility would be of gigantic size—40-feet deep in the ground and a mile in diameter.

Would Employ 2,000

Fraker said the AEC facility would employ 2,000 scientific and technical personnel. He said he had no idea of the total number of persons who would be employed.

In addition to the 2,000 regular scientific personnel, Fraker said about 1,000 persons would be coming in and out on a visiting basis from institutions such as the University of California.

THE FOUR CORNERS OF EARTH ARE REAL

Washington (AP) — Satellite scientists have reported they have found that the four corners of the earth really exist —they're not merely mythical points for world travels.

You can journey to them, but you can't see them with the naked eye.

They were discovered through soundings by experimental satellites measuring the pull of gravity, scientists of the Johns Hopkins University Applied Physical Laboratory reported.

Big Bulges

The corners are sort of giant bulges in the earth's surface, each stretching over several thousand square miles. Mountains on the bulges are not considered because they are merely pinpoints that have no effect on the gravitational variations.

One high point centers over Ireland in the Northern Hemisphere and sprawls northward toward the North Pole. Another extends across the equator from New Guinea northward toward Japan. A third corner is south of Africa centered about half way to Antarctica. And the fourth corner is west of South America with its highest point off Peru.

Satellite sounding revealed that at the center of these high points — or corners — the pull of gravity is greater than expected for the latitude of more than 0.002%, or 20 milligals. This is enough to pull the satellite downward a few hundred feet, the scientists reported.

The soundings were carried out by the ANNA—Army, Navy, NASA and Air Force—satellitt and Navy experimental satellites.

The measurements are made by what is called "the doppler shift of the frequency" of an ultrastable transmitter in the satellite.

Diplomat Shooting Unsolved

Munich, Germany (AP)—Two mystery gunmen shot and wounded a Yugoslav diplomat Wednesday as he sat in a car by a Bavarian lake with a Yugoslav waitress who works in West Germany.

A spokesman for the Yugoslav Consulate General in Munich said the shooting apparently had political implications. It came at a time when President Tito of Yugoslavia was visiting in Communist East Germany.

Condition Improved

The victim was Andrija Klaric, 35, consul for Yugoslavia in Munich. He is married and the father of a 4-year-old child. He was shot through the lung but a hospital at the lakeside city of Meersberg said his condition, at first critical, had improved after an operation.

He was talking in his parked car to Dara Rogic, 38, when the attack came. She rolled out of the car to escape the volley of shots, but Klaric slumped over the wheel, bleeding.

Police searching for the two attackers questioned Yugoslav exiles at their places of work. They said Miss Rogic refused to give information.

Rightist Suspected

This was the second case of an assault on an official representative of Yugoslavia in West Germany. Less than three years ago, an employee of the Yugoslavian consulate in Bonn was murdered by rightist Yugoslav exile groups.

Georg Pendzic, chief of the press department of the Yugoslav Consulate General in Munich, said Klaric, adviser to Yugoslav workers here, was unlikely to have made enemies through his work, and believed the attack to be politically motivated.

Klaric was arranging a Yugoslav folk-song festival for next Sunday and was being helped by Miss Rogic.

Pendzic said it was to be assumed that the attempted assassins could be found in circles of the exiled extremist Ustacha, the pro-Nazi quisling group in Yugoslavia during the war.

State Will Help Recruit Poverty Program Aides

Local offices of the Nebraska Division of Employment will cooperate in the nationwide effort to recruit 2,000 candidates for youth opportunity center counselors under the government's anti-poverty program.

State Labor Commissioner Lambert Eitel said recruits will receive intensive training at a major university for an eight-week period beginning July 6 and four weeks of on the job training.

"This will be a wonderful opportunity to join a new program designed to solve the problems of unemployed disadvantaged youth," Eitel said.

Permit Needed To Import Bees

State Agriculture Director Pearle F. Finigan said Wednesday a special permit must now be obtained to import colonies of bees and used bee equipment into Nebraska.

He said a law passed by the Legislature also requires all owners or operators of bees in the state to post in a conspicuous place in each of their bee yards their names and addresses.

Yards of bees located at the owner's or operator's place of residence are excluded from this provision.

Finigan said the new act, which is in effect, sets up a Honey Advisory Board of seven members which will advise the Agriculture Department as to the needs of the beekeeping industry.

Finigan said he will announce appointments to the board soon.

Showing JFK Film Okayed

Washington (UPI) —The House, over sharp Republican opposition, voted Wednesday to permit showings in the United States of a government-sponsored documentary film about the late President John F. Kennedy.

Key GOP members, while emphasizing their respect and affection for the late president, said the film was biased. They predicted it would be widely used for Democratic political purposes.

Before the authorizing legislation was approved and sent to the Senate, members first approved, then finally rejected an amendment to specify that the film's showings must be "without charge."

Would Mean TV

In effect this would have scuttled plans of the bill's sponsors to show it in movie houses, and would have shifted the emphasis to television broadcasts.

The 90-minute film, produced by the United States Information Agency (USIA) and currently being shown in English versions and 29 other languages in 117 overseas countries, is entitled "Years of Lightning, Day of Drums."

It has been highly praised by foreign audiences and a number of domestic critics who have seen private showings.

Republicans conceded it is a great film for foreign propaganda purposes. They charged, however, that it exaggerates Kennedy's role in such fields as civil rights and space development, and said its distribution domestically could wreck the tradition that USIA operates only abroad.

"The next thing could be a film on some living American," said Rep. Peter Frelinghuysen, R-N.J.—in what some took to be a reference to other members of the Kennedy family —"an attorney general or a United States senator."

LBJ WINS FIRST ROUND IN RIGHT-TO-WORK BATTLE

Washington (UPI) —President Johnson won his frist congressional battle over right-to-work laws Wednesday when a House labor subcommittee voted 6 to 3 for their repeal.

The bill would eliminate Section 14B of the Taft-Hartley Act, which authorizes states to outlaw the so-called union shop agreements.

Under a union shop, a worker must join a union after he is hired or lose his job. At present, the union shop is banned in 19 states, including Nebraska.

A major goal of organized labor, the repeal measure now goes to the House Education and Labor Committee.

Subcommittee Chairman Frank Thompson, D-N.J., said he would try to call it up at a full committee hearing Thursday. Committee approval appears likely.

Submitted to Congress by Johnson last month, the repeal bill triggered a toe-to-toe fight between labor on the one side, and business and industry on the other.

Supporters say they have enough votes to carry the day when the bill gets to the floor. But they concede that pressure is building up on wavering members.

Senate Panel Favors LBJ Coinage Bill

Washington (UPI) — The Senate Banking Committee, Wednesday unanimously approved President Johnson's request to eliminate silver from dimes and quarters and reduce its content in half dollars.

The committee headed by Sen. A. Willis Robertson, D-Va., ignored Western senators' pleas for more time and moved swiftly to send the new coinage bill to the Senate floor.

It was learned, however, that the committee had voted 8-4 against an amendment offered by Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, D-Maine, to eliminate silver from the half dollar bearing the portrait of the late President Kennedy.

As approved by the Senate committee, the legislation would authorize the elimination of silver from dimes and quarters and a reduction in the silver content of half dollars from 90% to 40%.

The President asked for the change as a means of saving the nation's fast-dwindling silver supply.

Famed Bandit Killed

Senate Refuses Aid Ban Proposal

Washington (AP)—The Senate turned down Wednesday a plan to halt foreign aid to any nation that is more than a year behind in paying its United Nations dues and assessments.

It also rejected an effort to strip the two-year foreign aid authorization bill—$3.35 billion annually—back to a one-year plan.

Sen. Ernest Gruening, D-Alaska, lost his effort to make it a one-year bill 63 to 26. And Sen. Jack Miller, R-Iowa, went down 59 to 27 on the United Nations proposal.

Callan Introduces Bill Covering Use Of Tribes' Funds

Rep. Clair Callan, D-Neb., Wednesday introduced a bill which would prescribe the distribution of funds due the Omaha Indian Tribe at Macy.

The sum of $1,750,000, awarded by the Indian Claims Commission about 18 months ago for land taken from the reservation, plus interest accrued since then, is owed the tribe.

Callan's bill provides that no more than $270 each shall be paid those who qualify as eligible under a roll to be prepared by the secretary of interior. The balance would be used by the tribe for purposes which must be approved by the secretary.

"Plans are for the tribe to set up funds for education, industrial and economic development, and other worthwhile projects," Callan said.

NO WORRIES about the weather in the suburban areas

We have discovered one good thing about this rainy weather we have been having—and this concerns the small fry who should not be hard to find these days. Mothers can just follow the little footprints and their whereabouts should become apparent. But there may be another school of thought on this subject—doubtless there are those who hold that muddy marks all over the beautiful carpets and newly waxed floors, aren't what a hostess would most desire for that neighborhood coffee the following morning.

Yet, who in Park Manor has time to worry about mudprints with all of the traveling and entertaining that has been going on in the area. So, let's get up out of the mud and swing into the day's social news.

PARK MANOR

It was off to the lake to enjoy sunning, skiing and boating for Mr. and Mrs. Donald Nelson last weekend. Mr. and Mrs. Nelson and their sons, Duayne and Dennis left Friday for the Fremont lakes where their cabin and boat were waiting for them. On Saturday the family was joined by other water enthusiasts, namely Mr. and Mrs. Laird Wolfe and son, Bob. After a full day of sun and water, the seven retreated to the barbecue and prepared food fit for any water sportster. After a fun weekend, it was back to Lincoln again for the seven weekenders.

Today is a big day for Miss Mary Elm, and the reason it is all so exciting is because she and Miss Ruth Ruzicka of Ord, are leaving for summer camp. The two will spend the summer in the Black Hills at Sylvan Lodge on Sylvan Lake. After Mr. and Mrs. Howard Elm bid their daughter a fond farewell today, they might find things around the house to be much quieter. But, it won't be too long before things will pick up again—summers have a way of slipping by quite rapidly.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Allgood Jr. report a recent visitor at their home. Their guest for a week was their son, Robert Allgood of Dayton, Ohio. Mr. Allgood arrived a week ago Friday to spend his vacation time with his parents and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Allgood, Sr.

Arriving today for a four-day stay in the Park Manor area are Mr. and Mrs. John Lamphere of Carroll, Iowa. Mr. and Mrs. Lamphere will be the guests of Mr. Lamphere's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Lamphere. We found there was a reason for the Iowa couples visit to the city—it seems that on Saturday, Mr. Lamphere will receive his Masters Degree in Speech Therapy from the University of Nebraska. We hear that a celebration is planned for that evening but these plans are still in the making.

EASTBOROUGH

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Taylor had houseguests from Chadron last week. They were Mr. Taylor's parents Mr. and Mrs. James Taylor, who arrived on Friday, May 28 and remained until last Friday. The out-of-town guests visited with the elder Mrs. Taylor's uncle, Fred Zimmerle, while in Lincoln, but went to Fullerton with our suburban residents on Sunday, Memorial Day, to see her mother Mrs. Ida Zimmerle, and her brother-in-law and sister Mr. and Mrs. Carl Waggner.

Annual Picnic

The election of new officers of private duty Practical Nurses was held Tuesday evening when the group met for its annual picnic supper at the home of Mrs. Fred Schroeder.

Named to office were Mrs. Lela Johnson, chairman; Mrs. Dorothy Donovan, secretary-treasurer; and Mrs. Fred Schroeder, program chairman.

Officers

Other officers for the coming year will be Mrs. Robert E. Smith, vice president; Mrs. Bill Fagerberg, secretary; Mrs. Roy Thelander, treasurer; and Mrs. Gerald Baruth, publicity.

Mrs. E. Wendell Stevens, director, and Mrs. Robert Beggs, accompanist, will continue with the group for another year.

Showing JFK Film Okayed

Washington (UPI) —The House, over sharp Republican opposition, voted Wednesday to permit showings in the United States of a government-sponsored documentary film about the late President John F. Kennedy.

Key GOP members, while emphasizing their respect and affection for the late president, said the film was biased. They predicted it would be widely used for Democratic political purposes.

Before the authorizing legislation was approved and sent to the Senate, members first approved, then finally rejected an amendment to specify that the film's showings must be "without charge."

Would Mean TV

In effect this would have scuttled plans of the bill's sponsors to show it in movie houses, and would have shifted the emphasis to television broadcasts.

The 90-minute film, produced by the United States Information Agency (USIA) and currently being shown in English versions and 29 other languages in 117 overseas countries, is entitled "Years of Lightning, Day of Drums."

It has been highly praised by foreign audiences and a number of domestic critics who have seen private showings.

Republicans conceded it is a great film for foreign propaganda purposes. They charged, however, that it exaggerates Kennedy's role in such fields as civil rights and space development, and said its distribution domestically could wreck the tradition that USIA operates only abroad.

"The next thing could be a film on some living American," said Rep. Peter Frelinghuysen, R-N.J.—in what some took to be a reference to other members of the Kennedy family —"an attorney general or a United States senator."

LBJ WINS FIRST ROUND IN RIGHT-TO-WORK BATTLE

Washington (UPI) —President Johnson won his frist congressional battle over right-to-work laws Wednesday when a House labor subcommittee voted 6 to 3 for their repeal.

The bill would eliminate Section 14B of the Taft-Hartley Act, which authorizes states to outlaw the so-called union shop agreements.

Under a union shop, a worker must join a union after he is hired or lose his job. At present, the union shop is banned in 19 states, including Nebraska.

A major goal of organized labor, the repeal measure now goes to the House Education and Labor Committee.

Subcommittee Chairman Frank Thompson, D-N.J., said he would try to call it up at a full committee hearing Thursday. Committee approval appears likely.

Submitted to Congress by Johnson last month, the repeal bill triggered a toe-to-toe fight between labor on the one side, and business and industry on the other.

Supporters say they have enough votes to carry the day when the bill gets to the floor. But they concede that pressure is building up on wavering members.

Senate Panel Favors LBJ Coinage Bill

Washington (UPI) — The Senate Banking Committee, Wednesday unanimously approved President Johnson's request to eliminate silver from dimes and quarters and reduce its content in half dollars.

The committee headed by Sen. A. Willis Robertson, D-Va., ignored Western senators' pleas for more time and moved swiftly to send the new coinage bill to the Senate floor.

It was learned, however, that the committee had voted 8-4 against an amendment offered by Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, D-Maine, to eliminate silver from the half dollar bearing the portrait of the late President Kennedy.

As approved by the Senate committee, the legislation would authorize the elimination of silver from dimes and quarters and a reduction in the silver content of half dollars from 90% to 40%.

The President asked for the change as a means of saving the nation's fast-dwindling silver supply.

Senate Refuses Aid Ban Proposal

Washington (AP)—The Senate turned down Wednesday a plan to halt foreign aid to any nation that is more than a year behind in paying its United Nations dues and assessments.

It also rejected an effort to strip the two-year foreign aid authorization bill—$3.35 billion annually—back to a one-year plan.

Sen. Ernest Gruening, D-Alaska, lost his effort to make it a one-year bill 63 to 26. And Sen. Jack Miller, R-Iowa, went down 59 to 27 on the United Nations proposal.

Famed Bandit Killed

Bogota, Columbia (UPI) — Efrian Gonzalez, the notorious Colombian bandit accused of 100 murders, was shot and killed while trying to flee army machine gun and cannon fire.

THE TALK around town

There is news all over town this morning—There is a new address, for instance—there are parties for brides-elect—and there is the traditional Swingfest coming up at the Lincoln Country Club—

• • •

But first the new address—Mr. and Mrs. James MacLean have sold their home at 1234 Fall Creek Rd., to Dr. and Mrs. Gordon Pejsar—but Dr. and Mrs. Pejsar and their three sons, Steve, Gregg and Doug, will not be moving until some time next month.

The MacLeans, however, are hoping they will be more or less settled in their Trenridge apartment before mid-July.

• • •

We'll talk about the brides now—and get into the Swingfest later.

We'll begin with Miss Sharon Hoppe who has an August date for her marriage to Michael Peshek. Miss Hoppe arrives home today from Golden, Colo., where she has been teaching, and she barely will have time to unpack before the courtesy ball begins rolling.

As a matter of fact Miss Hoppe is cast in the hostess role herself on Friday when she entertains in prenuptial courtesy to June bride-elect Miss Peggy Stenten whose marriage to John Colwell will be solemnized on Saturday, June 19.

• • •

On the following day—Saturday—Miss Hoppe will be the honoree. Her hostesses for a brunch and linen shower will be Mrs. Jerry Hunt and Mrs. James MacLean who will entertain at the home of Mrs. Hunt. The guest list will include a group of old friends.

We're skipping next week—party-wise for Miss Hoppe, that is—but the merry-go-round begins to whirl again on Tuesday, June 22 when Mrs. William T. Edwards pays prenuptial courtesy to the bride-elect. From then on it is to be a mad dash from one party to another—and we'll get to those courtesies another day.

• • •

We begin calling the roll on Swingfest guests this morning—but we only have skimmed the surface—So, more about the Swingfest at a later date—and right now on to the guests we already have down in our little black book.

Early arrivals will include Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Sowles of Winter Park, Fla., formerly of Lincoln, who are expected in town on Monday. Mr. and Mrs. Sowles will spend their first day or two in Lincoln as the house guests of T. J. Farrell, but when the Swingfest festivities are underway they will have Mr. and Mrs. Harry Haynie as their host and hostess.

• • •

We hear that Mr. and Mrs. William Mowbray are looking forward to greeting Mr. and Mrs. Max Griffiths of Kansas City, Mo., for whom the LCC Swingfest is on the 'must' list. They come each June to the Swingfest, and always are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Mowbray.

* * *

And from Ogallala in time for the Swingfest activities will come Mr. and Mrs. William Mueller who are to be the house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. White.

• • •

Omaha and Kansas City will share guest honors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Vaulx Risser who are expecting Mr. and Mrs. George Samson of Omaha, and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Anderson of Kansas City.

BRIDE at church ceremony

The marriage of Miss Hattie Jackson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Jackson of Colcord, Okla., to Kiff Achord, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald T. Achord, was solemnized Sunday evening, June 6, at the College View Seventh-Day Adventist Church. The lines of the service were read at 7:30 o'clock by Elder R. W. Fowler.

Floor-length frocks of pastel yellow satin were worn by the attendants, who were Miss Glende Zytkoskee, the maid of honor, and the bridesmaids, Miss Carol Ann Hedlun, Loveland, Colo., and Miss Sharlett Daniels.

Tad Achord of Loma Linda, Calif., served his brother as best man, and seating the guests were Ken Liggett, Alpha, Ill.; Larry Shineman, Franklin; Bill Achord, also a brother of the bridegroom, Darrell Jensen, Dennis Olson and Chuck Seeger.

The bride appeared in a gown of white silk organza over satin. Petal applique in satin framed the rounding neckline of the long-sleeved basque, and the applique motif was repeated in the trim of the bell skirt, which was completed by a detachable train extending to chapel length. She carried an arrangement of pale yellow roses, white carnations and stephanotis.

Mr. and Mrs. Achord left for a wedding trip to northern California, after which they will live at Escondido, Calif., where both will be faculty members at San Pasqual Academy. Both are graduates of Union College.

Prenuptial Honoree

Miss Jeannine Heckman of Lincoln, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Heckman of Osceola, has been honored at several bridal courtesies in recent weeks preceding her marriage to Timothy Darnauer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Darnauer, on Sunday, June 27.

Friday evening, May 28, the bride-elect was presented a miscellaneous shower at a party given by Mrs. Ed Wilhelm and Mrs. Con Floth at the home of Mrs. Floth.

Mrs. Emil Darnauer was hostess at her home on Sunday, May 23, when she entertained at tea in courtesy to her son's fiancee.

Also entertaining recently for the bride-to-be were Mrs. Clarence Deer and Mrs. Clara Bender, who were cohostesses at a bridal shower held at the home of Mrs. Deer.

Wedding

For the Saturday, June 5, wedding of Miss Teresa Ann Rennick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George William Rennick of Pilger, and Gary Leonard Gray, son of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin P. Gray of Denver, bouquets of white and pink gladioli decorated the chancel of the Methodist Church at Pilger. The Rev. Howard Robertson read the lines of the 3 o'clock service, and Mrs. Terry Sapp of Hastings, organist, played the wedding music.

Wearing Empire frocks of pink silk shantung sashed in velvet were Mrs. Darryl W. Frerichs of Aurora, Colo., the matron of honor, and the bridesmaids, Miss Mary Helen Bucknell, Minden, and Mrs. John Thomas Leingang, Palo Alto, Calif. Each carried three long-stemmed, pink roses.

Grant Gray of Littleton, Colo., served as best man, and the ushers were William Rennick and Samuel Rennick, Pilger; Dale Gray, Denver; and David Snyder, Lincoln.

The bride's gown was fashioned of white Chantilly lace over peau de soie. The snug basque was designed with fitted, elbow sleeves, and the skirt of controlled fullness was complemented by a detachable train of the silk held to the back waist by a draped bow. A circlet of white sweetheart roses and stephanotis held to the head her illusion veil, and she carried a cascade of white roses.

JULY wedding planned

Mr. and Mrs. LaVerne H. Griepenstroh are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Kathleen Isabelle, t Henry Jarold Johnson, son of Mrs. Harriet T. Johnson of Salina, Kan.

The wedding will take place July 3, at East Lincoln Christian Church.

The bride-elect and her fiance attended Nebraska Wesleyan University the past year. During the summer months, Mr. Johnson will participate as a research assistant in the National Science Foundation-sponsored summer student trainee program at Iowa State University in Ames. Mr. Johnson plans to continue his studies in chemical engineering next fall at Kansas State University, Manhattan, Kan.

Callan Introduces Bill Covering Use Of Tribes' Funds

Rep. Clair Callan, D-Neb., Wednesday introduced a bill which would prescribe the distribution of funds due the Omaha Indian Tribe at Macy.

The sum of $1,750,000, awarded by the Indian Claims Commission about 18 months ago for land taken from the reservation, plus interest accrued since then, is owed the tribe

Callan's bill provides that no more than $270 each shall be paid those who qualify as eligible under a roll to be prepared by the secretary of interior. The balance would be used by the tribe for purposes which must be approved by the secretary.

"Plans are for the tribe to set up funds for education, industrial and economic development, and other worthwhile projects," Callan said

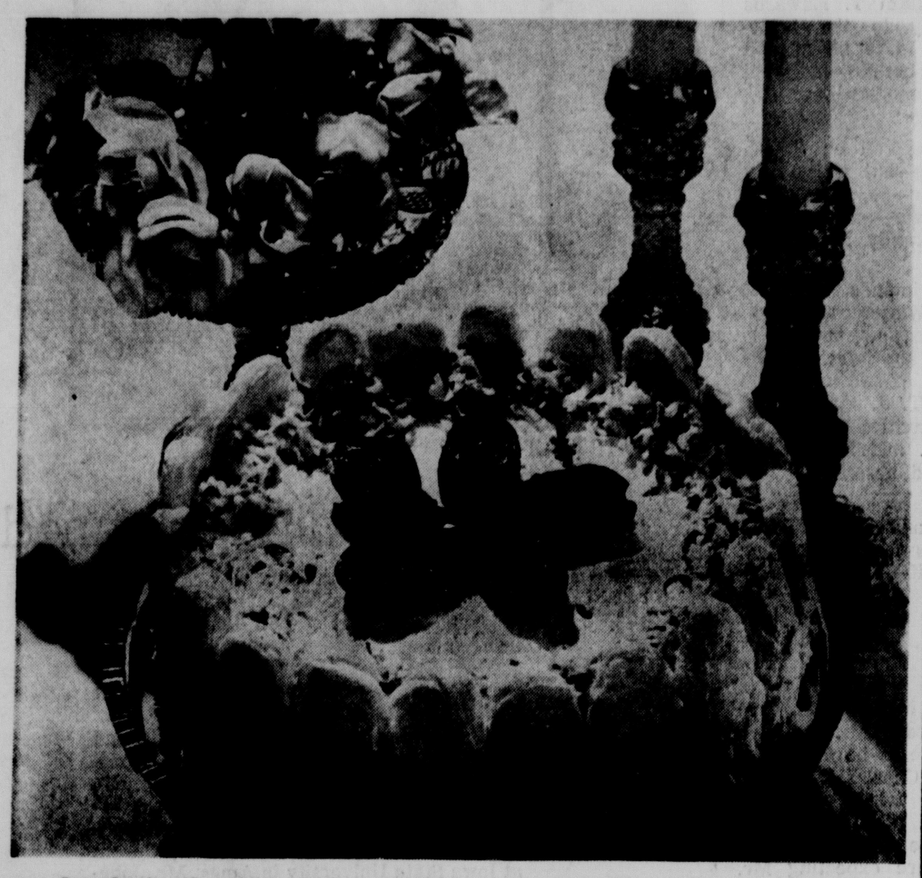
elegant make-ahead dessert



June begins the party season — for the brides, for the guests, for the graduates — or just for fun. A dessert that is as delightful to the eye as it is to the taste is what every hostess desires. She also wants that "something different"—something that will tantalize the curiosity of her guests.

Here is one that will bring plaudits — It is simple, and may be made ahead — which is a factor in easy entertaining.

GLAMOUR DESSERT

1 cup chopped dried figs
1 cup water
2 tablespoons honey
1 tablespoon lemon juice
2 packages whip 'n chill lemon dessert mix
1 cup cold milk
½ cup flaked coconut
½ dozen ladyfingers
Toasted coconut (ptional)

Combine dried figs, water, honey and lemon juice in saucepan. Bring to boil and simmer, covered for 5 minutes; chill. Drain, measuring syrup. Add cold water to syrup to make 1 cup. In deep bowl, thoroughly blend dessert mix with cold milk. Whip at highest speed of electric mixer 1 minute. Mixture will be thick. Blend in 1 cup fig syrup; whip at high speed 2 minutes. Fold in drained figs and coconut. Split ladyfingers; stand up around sides of spring-form pan. Spoon in fig mixture. Chill several hours. Garnish with toasted coconut, if desired. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

ABBY

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My sister, who is planning to be married in September, has a problem I think maybe you can help her with. (I'll call her Sharon.) Well, Sharon borrowed her girl friend's wedding gown because she didn't want to go to the expense of buying one. About a week ago Sharon's fiance's aunt, who lives in Texas, sent her a beautiful brand new bridal outfit. This woman has never met Sharon, but because Sharon's fiance is her favorite nephew she wanted to do something real nice for his bride. The outfit looks very expensive and it seems a shame for her to spend all that money on a bridal outfit when Sharon already has one. And besides, Sharon would much rather have a TV set. Should she keep it? She hates to hurt her girl friend's feelings by not wearing the gown after accepting it. But she doesn't want to hurt her fiance's aunt's feelings, either. What should she do?

HER SISTER

DEAR SISTER: Although the aunt meant well, she should not have sent a bridal outfit as a gift without knowing whether or not it was needed — or wanted. Sharon should return it with a letter of thanks, explaining that she has her bridal ensemble. But no mention should be made about what she would prefer instead, unless she is asked.

DEAR ABBY: I am 21, not bad looking, have a good personality but I am a little shy until I get to know a person. I don't have a steady boy friend. I work in a large office building, and I keep running into a very nice-looking young man who must be about 24 or 25 years old. I know he's noticed me, but he has never made any effort to get acquainted with me.

One of the girls who works where I work was with me when he passed by and she said she didn't know his name, but she knew in which office he worked and she was sure he wasn't married. I would like to meet him. I have an idea that he would also like to meet me, but he is also shy. How do I break the ice? A nice girl can't just start talking to a strange man, can she?

SHY BUT INTERESTED

DEAR SHY: No, a "nice" girl cannot just start talking to a strange man—but if you want to "break the ice"—crack a smile, and leave the rest to Providence.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: What is your opinion of a man who constantly smokes cigars?

CURIOUS

DEAR CURIOUS: He is courageous, self-confident, masculine, sophisticated and uninhibited. Or would like to be.

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
Pass	Pass	1♣	4♠
Dble	Pass	5♣

Opening lead — king of spades.

This hand occurred in a team match. The players were all very good and presumably knew what they were doing, but the hand itself was so unusual that it is hard to draw clear conclusions about what should have happened instead of what did happen.

At the first table the bidding went as shown. Undoubtedly South had the values for a forcing two bid, even with only 16 high-card points, but he elected to open with a club. Probably he felt that the bidding would not die at one club with his freakish distribution and that he would be able to judge later how far to go after he had heard from the other players at the table.

However, South's judgment proved faulty when North doubled four spades. A jump to six clubs would have done more justice to his hand, but even better would have been a five diamond bid. This would have identified at least six clubs and five diamonds, as well as the high-card strength to stand a six club or six diamond response from North.

West led a spade and South made seven.

North	East	South	West
Pass	Pass	6♣	6♠
7♣

Here South decided to cast science to the winds and opened with six clubs. He hoped in this way to silence the opponents and thus inhibit a worthwhile sacrifice.

Whatever the merits of the bid, it did not succeed. West refused to be shut out and came in with six spades (which would have gone down four).

North probably should have doubled, but he elected to bid seven clubs instead. West had no way of knowing whether or not this contract could be made but wisely chose to risk an grand slam being scored against him. He hoped that the opening lead of the ace of hearts would live to see the light of day. It did.

NO WORRIES about the weather in the suburban areas

We have discovered one good thing about this rainy weather we [illegible] having—and this concerns the [illegible] who should not be hard to find these days. Mothers can just follow the little footprints and their whereabouts should become apparent. But there may be another school of thought on this subject—doubtless there are those who hold that muddy marks all over the beautiful carpets and newly waxed floors, aren't what a hostess would most desire for that neighborhood coffee the following morning.

Yet, who in Park Manor has time to worry about mudprints with all of the traveling and entertaining that has been going on in the area. So, let's get up out of the mud and swing into the day's social news.

PARK MANOR

It was off to the lake to enjoy sunning, skiing and boating for Mr. and Mrs. Donald Nelson last weekend. Mr. and Mrs. Nelson and their sons, Duayne and Dennis left Friday for the Fremont lakes where their cabin and boat were waiting for them. On Saturday the family was joined by other water enthusiasts, namely Mr and Mrs. Laird Wolfe and son, Bob. After a full day of sun and water, the seven retreated to the barbecue and prepared food fit for any water sportster. After a fun weekend, it was back to Lincoln again for the seven weekenders.

Today is a big day for Miss Mary Elm, and the reason it is all so exciting is because she and Miss Ruth Ruzicka of Ord, are leaving for summer camp. The two will spend the summer in the Black Hills at Sylvan Lodge on Sylvan Lake. After Mr. and Mrs. Howard Elm bid their daughter a fond farewell today, they might find things around the house to be much quieter. But, it won't be too long before things will pick up again—summers have a way of slipping by quite rapidly.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Allgood Jr. report a recent visitor at their home. Their guest for a week was their son, Robert Allgood of Dayton, Ohio. Mr. Allgood arrived a week ago Friday to spend his vacation time with his parents and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Allgood, Sr.

Arriving today for a four-day stay in the Park Manor area are Mr. and Mrs. John Lamphere of Carroll, Iowa. Mr. and Mrs. Lamphere will be the guests of Mr. Lamphere's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Lamphere. We found there was a reason for the Iowa couples visit to the city—it seems that on Saturday, Mr. Lamphere will receive his Masters Degree in Speech Therapy from the University of Nebraska. We hear that a celebration is planned for that evening but these plans are still in the making.

EASTBOROUGH

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Taylor had house-guests from Chadron last week. They were Mr. Taylor's parents Mr. and Mrs. James Taylor, who arrived on Friday, May 28 and remained until last Friday. The out-of-town guests visited with the elder Mrs. Taylor's uncle, Fred Zimmerle, while in Lincoln, but went to Fullerton with our suburban residents on Sunday, Memorial Day, to see her mother Mrs. Ida Zimmerle, and her brother-in-law and sister Mr. and Mrs. Carl Waggner.

Annual Picnic

The election of new officers of private duty Practical Nurses was held Tuesday evening when the group met for its annual picnic supper at the home of Mrs. Fred Schroeder.

Named to office were Mrs. Lela Johnson, chairman; Mrs. Dorothy Donovan, secretary-treasurer; and Mrs. Fred Schroeder, program chairman.

Officers

Other officers for the coming year will be Mrs. Robert E. Smith, vice president; Mrs. Bill Fagerberg, secretary; Mrs. Roy Thelander, treasurer; and Mrs. Gerald Baruth, publicity.

Mrs. E. Wendell Stevens, director, and Mrs. Robert Beggs, accompanist, will continue with the group for another year.

WHAT They're Reading

Many novels are merely costume pieces that entertain us at the time we read them, but there are, of course, novels that have flesh and blood inside those costumes. Samuel Johnson once asked: "Was there ever yet anything written by mere man that was wished longer by its readers, excepting 'Don Quixote', 'Robinson Crusoe' and 'The Pilgrim's Progress?"

What is the basis of our love for romance except this: that everybody who admires beauty in all things is a romantic one. Merely to copy life, as some novelists do today, is to produce nonsense, something utterly useless.

Go to a well written novel and see the difference. What is the argument for example, pertinent to our times to be extracted from Victor Hugo's "Les Miserables" published a hundred years ago? Hugo's impeachment is not of men but of man-administered institutions which, he suggests, have become a source of fearful peril by weakening the individual's sense of responsibility.

Or take the more personal narratives which put on record the struggles of men within themselves: Hamlet, Prince of Denmark, whose inward turmoil lasted for two and a half months; Henry Faust, for whom the ordeal stretched over fifty years.

John Bunyan's "Pilgrim's Progress," published in 1678, ran into eleven editions and many pirated issues in 10 years. It has spread to the remotest corners of the earth. It is not only a guide to a way of life—much sought after in these days—but a gripping novel full of dramatic incidents. As for "Don Quixote," published in 1605, it can be read as a tale of adventure but it is also a manual of tolerance and indulgent pity.

"The Swiss Family Robinson" has an average of three things happening on every one of its 500 pages. The happenings have to do with life as it must be lived if a man is to get through it with decency, comfort, usefulness, and a fair degree of distinction.

But, we conclude this short outline of novels to review the standings on this week's best-seller list. The first thing you will notice is that "Herzog" has returned to the number one position on the fiction list after riding the number two spot for the past two weeks.

Fiction

1. "Herzog," Bellow
2. "The Ambassador," West
3. "Up the Down Staircase," Kaufman
4. "Hotel," Hailey
5. "Don't Stop the Carnival," Wouk
6. "Funeral in Berlin," Deighton
7. "Flight of the Falcon," du Maurier
8. "Hurry Sundown," Gilden
9. "Pillar of Iron," Caldwell
10. "The Man," Wallace

Non-Fiction

1. "Markings," Hammarskjold
2. "Queen Victoria: Born to Succeed," Longford
3. "My Shadow Ran Fast," Sands
4. "The Founding Fathers," Whalen
5. "Journal of a Soul," Pope John XXIII
6. "The Oxford History of the American People," Morison
7. "Sixpence in Her Shoe," McGinley
8. "The Italians," Barzini
9. "Design for Survival," Power
10. "Catherine the Great," Oldenbourg

WHY GROW OLD?

Josephine Bowman

Q. What can one do for aging hands especially bumps on the knuck' ?

A. I don't think there is anything one can do for bumps on the knuckles. Many women develop these as the years go by. Of course you can minimize the effect of these by keeping the hands as attractive as possible in every other way, with the use of hand lotions to soften the skin and good manicures. Many women notice the first brown spots on their hands after a summer in the . If you are doing a lot of gardening, wear cotton gloves while working with the flowers.

Q. What vitamin has a special effect on the eyes?

A. Vitamin A! A deficiency in this vitamin can cause night blindness, (make it difficult to see in the dark).

Stretc ercises

Q. My measurements are almost right for me except my hips and thighs. Could you please tell me if running will make them smaller? I was wondering about that because athletes run to build muscles and I want to lose. I am 2½ inches too large in the hips and 2 inches too large in the thighs. I have tried to lose these inches by doing exercises, but so far haven't succeeded. Any help you can give me will be appreciated.

A. I doubt very much that you could run enough to make a great difference either way. The stretching-type exercises are best for spot reducing. These do work. I do not know which exercises you have been doing or how faithfully you have done them or for how long. If you or any of my readers would like to have my exercises for slimming the hips and thighs, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for them to me in care of this newspaper.

M Right

Q. I am a 16-year-old girl who would appreciate your opinion. I am 5 feet 7½ and weigh 135 pounds (sometimes it goes up to 140 pounds). Mother says I am just right, but of course I disagree with her.

A. Your mother is right. Your weight is right for your height and age. I judge that you have a tendency to gain. Don't let it go higher.

Q. Is is a good exercise to strengthen the arches of the feet? I sit with my heels resting on the floor. Then I curl my toes back toward me and then point them toward the floor as far as I can.

A. Yes, It is a splendid exercise for the arches.

THE TALK around town

There is news all over town this morning—There is a new address, for instance—there are parties for brides-elect—and there is the traditional Swingfest coming up at the Lincoln Country Club—

• • •

But first the new address—Mr. and Mrs. James MacLean have sold their home at 1234 Fall Creek Rd., to Dr. and Mrs. Gordon Pejsar—but Dr. and Mrs. Pejsar and their three sons, Steve, Gregg and Doug, will not be moving until some time next month.

The MacLeans, however, are hoping they will be more or less settled in their Trenridge apartment before mid-July.

• • •

We'll talk about the brides now—and get into the Swingfest later.

We'll begin with Miss Sharon Hoppe who has an August date for her marriage to Michael Peshek. Miss Hoppe arrives home today from Golden, Colo., where she has been teaching, and she barely will have time to unpack before the courtesy ball begins rolling.

As a matter of fact Miss Hoppe is cast in the hostess role herself on Friday when she entertains in prenuptial courtesy to June bride-elect Miss Peggy Stenten whose marriage to John Colwell will be solemnized on Saturday, June 19.

• • •

On the following day—Saturday—Miss Hoppe will be the honoree. Her hostesses for a brunch and linen shower will be Mrs. Jerry Hunt and Mrs. James MacLean who will entertain at the home of Mrs. Hunt. The guest list will include a group of old friends.

We're skipping next week—party-wise for Miss Hoppe, that is—but the merry-go-round begins to whirl again on Tuesday, June 22 when Mrs. William T. Edwards pays prenuptial courtesy to the bride-elect. From then on it is to be a mad dash from one party to another—and we'll get to those courtesies another day.

• • •

We begin calling the roll on Swingfest guests this morning—but we only have skimmed the surface—So, more about the Swingfest at a later date—and right now on to the guests we already have down in our little black book.

Early arrivals will include Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Sowles of Winter Park, Fla., formerly of Lincoln, who are expected in town on Monday. Mr. and Mrs. Sowles will spend their first day or two in Lincoln as the house guests of T. J. Farrell, but when the Swingfest festivities are underway they will have Mr. and Mrs. Harry Haynie as their host and hostess.

• • •

We hear that Mr. and Mrs. William Mowbray are looking forward to greeting Mr. and Mrs. Max Griffiths of Kansas City, Mo., for whom the LCC Swingfest is on the 'must' list. They come each June to the Swingfest, and always are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Mowbray.

• • •

And from Ogallala in time for the Swingfest activities will come Mr. and Mrs. William Mueller who are to be the house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. White.

• • •

Omaha and Kansas City will share guest honors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Vaulx Risser who are expecting Mr. and Mrs. George Samson of Omaha, and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Anderson of Kansas City.

BRIDE at church ceremony

The marriage of Miss Hattie Jackson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Jackson of Colcord, Okla., to Kiff Achord, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald T. Achord, was solemnized Sunday evening, June 6, at the College View Seventh-Day Adventist Church. The lines of the service were read at 7:30 o'clock by Elder R. W. Fowler.

Floor-length frocks of pastel yellow satin were worn by the attendants, who were Miss Glende Zytkoskee, the maid of honor, and the bridesmaids, Miss Carol Ann Hedlun, Loveland, Colo., and Miss Sharlett Daniels.

Tad Achord of Loma Linda, Calif., served his brother as best man, and seating the guests were Ken Liggett, Alpha, Ill.; Larry Shineman, Franklin; Bill Achord, also a brother of the bridegroom, Darrell Jensen, Dennis Olson and Chuck Seeger.

The bride appeared in a gown of white silk organza over satin. Petal applique in satin framed the rounding neckline of the long-sleeved basque, and the applique motif was repeated in the trim of the bell skirt, which was completed by a detachable train extending to chapel length. She carried an arrangement of pale yellow roses, white carnations and stephanotis.

Mr. and Mrs. Achord left for a wedding trip to northern California, after which they will live at Escondido, Calif., where both will be faculty members at San Pasqual Academy. Both are graduates of Union College.

Prenuptial Honoree

Miss Jeannine Heckman of Lincoln, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Heckman of Osceola, has been honored at several bridal courtesies in recent weeks preceding her marriage to Timothy Darnauer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Darnauer, on Sunday, June 27.

Friday evening, May 28, the bride-elect was presented a miscellaneous shower at a party given by Mrs. Ed Wilhelm and Mrs. Con Floth at the home of Mrs. Floth.

Mrs. Emil Darnauer was hostess at her home on Sunday, May 23, when she entertained at tea in courtesy to her son's fiancee.

Also entertaining recently for the bride-to-be were Mrs. Clarence Deer and Mrs. Clara Bender, who were cohostesses at a bridal shower held at the home of Mrs. Deer.

Wedding

For the Saturday, June 5, wedding of Miss Teresa Ann Rennick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George William Rennick of Pilger, and Gary Leonard Gray, son of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin P. Gray of Denver, bouquets of white and pink gladioli decorated the chancel of the Methodist Church at Pilger. The Rev. Howard Robertson read the lines of the 3 o'clock service, and Mrs. Terry Sapp of Hastings, organist, played the wedding music.

Wearing Empire frocks of pink silk shantung sashed in velvet were Mrs. Darryl W. Frerichs of Aurora, Colo., the matron of honor, and the bridesmaids, Miss Mary Helen Bucknell, Minden, and Mrs. John Thomas Leingang, Palo Alto, Calif. Each carried three long-stemmed, pink roses.

Grant Gray of Littleton, Colo., served as best man, and the ushers were William Rennick and Samuel Rennick, Pilger; Dale Gray, Denver, and David Snyder, Lincoln.

The bride's gown was fashioned of white Chantilly lace over peau de soie. The snug basque was designed with fitted, elbow sleeves, and the skirt of controlled fullness was complemented by a detachable train of the silk held to the back waist by a draped bow. A circlet of white sweetheart roses and stephanotis held to the head her illusion veil, and she carried a cascade of white roses.

JULY wedding planned

Mr. and Mrs. LaVerne H. Griepenstroh are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Kathleen Isabelle, t Henry Jarold Johnson, son of Mrs Harriet T Johnson of Salina, Kan.

The wedding will take place July 3, at East Lincoln Christian Church.

The bride-elect and her fiance attended Nebraska Wesleyan University the past year. During the summer months, Mr. Johnson will participate as a research assistant in the National Science Foundation-sponsored summer student trainee program at Iowa State University in Ames. Mr. Johnson plans to continue his studies in chemical engineering next fall at Kansas State University, Manhattan, Kan.

THE GIRLS

elegant make-ahead dessert

June begins the party season — for the brides, for the guests, for the graduates — or just for fun. A dessert that is as delightful to the eye as it is to the taste is what every hostess desires. She also wants that "something different"—something that will tantalize the curiosity of her guests.

Here is one that will bring plaudits — It is simple, and may be made ahead — which is a factor in easy entertaining.

GLAMOUR DESSERT

1 cup chopped dried figs
1 cup water
2 tablespoons honey
1 tablespoon lemon juice
2 packages whip 'n chill lemon dessert mix
1 cup cold milk
½ cup flaked coconut
½ dozen ladyfingers
Toasted coconut (ptional)

Combine dried figs, water, honey and lemon juice in saucepan. Bring to boil and simmer, covered for 5 minutes; chill. Drain, measuring syrup. Add cold water to syrup to make 1 cup. In deep bowl, thoroughly blend dessert mix with cold milk. Whip at highest speed of electric mixer 1 minute. Mixture will be thick. Blend in 1 cup fig syrup; whip at high speed 2 minutes. Fold in drained figs and coconut. Split ladyfingers; stand up around sides of spring-form pan. Spoon in fig mixture. Chill several hours. Garnish with toasted coconut, if desired. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

ABBY

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My sister, who is planning to be married in September, has a problem I think maybe you can help her with. (I'll call her Sharon.) Well, Sharon borrowed her girl friend's wedding gown because she didn't want to go to the expense of buying one. About a week ago Sharon's fiance's aunt, who lives in Texas, sent her a beautiful brand new bridal outfit. This woman has never met Sharon, but because Sharon's fiance is her favorite nephew she wanted to do something real nice for his bride. The outfit looks very expensive and it seems a shame for her to spend all that money on a bridal outfit when Sharon already has one. And besides, Sharon would much rather have a TV set. Should she keep it? She hates to hurt her girl friend's feelings by not wearing the gown after accepting it. But she doesn't want to hurt her fiance's aunt's feelings, either. What should she do?

HER SISTER

DEAR SISTER: Although the aunt meant well, she should not have sent a bridal outfit as a gift without knowing whether or not it was needed — or wanted. Sharon should return it with a letter of thanks, explaining that she has her bridal ensemble. But no mention should be made about what she would prefer instead, unless she is asked.

DEAR ABBY: I am 21, not bad looking, have a good personality but I am a little shy until I get to know a person. I don't have a steady boy friend. I work in a large office building, and I keep running into a very nice-looking young man who must be about 24 or 25 years old. I know he's noticed me, but he has never made any effort to get acquainted with me.

One of the girls who works where I work was with me when he passed by and she said she didn't know his name, but she knew in which office he worked and she was sure he wasn't married. I would like to meet him. I have an idea that he would also like to meet me, but he is also shy. How do I break the ice? A nice girl can't just start talking to a strange man, can she?

SHY BUT INTERESTED

DEAR SHY: No, a "nice" girl cannot just start talking to a strange man—but if you want to "break the ice"—crack a smile, and leave the rest to Providence.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: What is your opinion of a man who constantly smokes cigars?

CURIOUS

DEAR CURIOUS: He is courageous, self-confident, masculine, sophisticated and uninhibited. Or would like to be.

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
Pass	Pass	1♣	4♠
Dble	Pass	5♣

Opening lead — king of spades.

This hand occurred in a team match. The players were all very good and presumably knew what they were doing, but the hand itself was so unusual that it is hard to draw clear conclusions about what should have happened instead of what did happen.

At the first table the bidding went as shown. Undoubtedly South had the values for a forcing two bid, even with only 16 high-card points, but he elected to open with a club. Probably he felt that the bidding would not die at one club with his freakish distribution and that he would be able to judge later how far to go after he had heard from the other players at the table.

However, South's judgment proved faulty when North doubled four spades. A jump to six clubs would have done more justice to his hand, but even better would have been a five diamond bid. This would have identified at least six clubs and five diamonds, as well as the high-card strength to stand a six club or six diamond response from North.

West led a spade and South made seven.

North	East	South	West
Pass	Pass	6♣	6♦
7♣

Here South decided to cast science to the winds and opened with six clubs. He hoped in this way to silence the opponents and thus inhibit a worthwhile sacrifice.

Whatever the merits of the bid, it did not succeed. West refused to be shut out and came in with six spades (which would have gone down four).

North probably should have doubled, but he elected to bid seven clubs instead. West had no way of knowing whether or not this contract could be made but wisely chose to risk an grand slam being scored against him. He hoped that the opening lead of the ace of hearts would live to see the light of day. It did.

Keane Fines 3 Yankees $250 Apiece

Kansas City (AP)—The New York Yankees, mired in eighth place in the American League, leveled $250 fines on three players Wednesday for breaking training. The Yankees refused to divulge the names of the players, but reporters traveling with the club who had observed the incident that brought about the levies, reported two of the fined players were $100,000-a-year outfielder Mickey Mantle and relief pitcher Hal Reniff.

MICKEY MANTLE

Ralph Houk, general manager of the Yankees who had been in New York for the baseball draft, flew to Kansas City to announce the fines at a hastily called press conference.

"A few people broke training," Houk said. "Three players were fined $250 apiece. A few others were talked to."

Houk, who refused to divulge the names of the players involved, said Manager Johnny Keane "handled the whole thing and handled it well."

The incidents referred to apparently took place Sunday after the Yankees finished a doubleheader in New York and had about three hours to spare before catching a plane out of Newark, N.J., airport.

The Yankees went out to eat, and when they reached the airport, there was a 2½-hour delay before the plane took off. The incidents apparently took place during those five or six hours.

"We didn't like it to go unnoticed — it got out of hand," said Houk, referring to the incidents. "It was a public show. If somebody wants to carry on, there's a place for it. That was not the place."

Keane, who resigned his job with the world champion St. Louis Cardinals to move over to the American League champion Yankees, called Houk about the incidents Monday. Monday night Keane met with the Yankees and settled the issue.

Then Houk flew into Kansas City to make an official announcement.

The incident was the second this season involving Yankee players.

During spring training, outfielder Roger Maris and third baseman Clete Boyer were involved in a ruckus at a Fort Lauderdale, Fla., night spot and accused of slugging male model Jerome Modzelewski.

Braves Eye Mid-Season Move South

Knoxville, Tenn. (AP)—The National League Braves, still hoping for an early exit from Milwaukee, offered half a million dollars Wednesday for relief that, if granted, would permit the club to move to Atlanta this summer.

Braves board chairman William Bartholomay said he offered Milwaukee County officials $400,000 and Teams, Inc., another $100,000 to sever contractual ties binding the team to Milwaukee.

But in Milwaukee, it appeared Bartholomay's offer would receive no more favorable reception than it did when he breached it informally last winter to two representatives of Teams, the group of Milwaukee business leaders formed to seek a different, permanent baseball franchise for the city.

County Executive John Doyne said he would have no statement immediately. He said he hoped to meet first with County board chairman Eugene Grobschmidt and with County Corporation counsel Robert Russell, who has been authorized by the county to bring an antitrust action against the Braves and other possible defendants in connection with the franchise transfer.

A Teams spokesman would say only that "we don't want to be cavalier about this. We'll have a meeting and discuss it."

Grobschmidt himself stated his reaction more succiently when asked for comment.

"To hell with 'em," he said.

Despite a current second place standing in the league, Batholomay said the Braves have received dismal support from fans in the Wisconsin city.

Matson May Miss NCAA Competition

Fort Worth (AP)—Randy Matson's strained left knee is acting up again and the world's first 70-foot shot putter may by-pass the NCAA track and field meet next week, the Star-Telegram reported Wednesday.

"I talked to Randy today," Texas A&M Coach Charley Thomas told the Star-Telegram, "and he says the knee is throbbing more than ever. He was told if he laid off practice for two weeks, the rest would strengthen the knee. It hasn't."

Matson is employed in Houston this summer. He is to have the knee examined by Dr. Tom Moore Thursday.

The sophomore injured the knee last winter stepping from a tub. He had the knee bandaged when he reached 70 feet 7 inches in the Southwest Conference meet a month ago.

Baseball Brass Pleased With First Free Agent Draft

New York (AP)—Professional baseball's first free agent draft continued to grind out names of high school boys and college athletes Wednesday as the majors carried their talent search to all corners of the nation.

"The reaction from the boys and their families has been very pleasant," said Commissioner Ford Frick, who reported most of the clubs had contacted their draftees.

"There are bound to be some bugs in the machinery because this is the first time we have tried it," said Frick. "We have been working over two years on this plan with the hope of letting the clubs who finish down in the leagues get a better chance at the new talent. I am very hopeful that it will work out."

Warren Giles, president of the National League, who had been less enthusiastic about the idea, said the real test will come in the next six months.

"In six months we will know how many signed and how much this helped in savings," said Giles. "Some boys are sure to get $100,000 or $150,000. The clubs may not save money but the idea distributing talent then will be of prime importance.

"Basically, the purpose of this draft is the same as that for the old draft and the waiver rule—to give the low clubs in the standings a chance to help themselves.

"I am very much impressed at how well prepared these teams were when they came to this meeting with their extensive scouting reports. Anything that stimulates scouting has to help."

Joe Cronin, president of the American League, said, "this is a great thing for baseball all over the country. Every kid with a bat is waiting to see if he has been picked."

Bill DeWitt, president of the Cincinnati Reds, said the draft had gone much smoother than had been expected. He pointed out that the ground work represented an investment of $6 million in scouts, salaries and expenses.

The first club to pass a chance to pick was the Boston Red Sox, who yielded in the fifth round of the Class A draft. By that time a total of 429 players had been drafted in all classifications. Boston reported it already had some 20 players on its list.

Philadelphia was next to withdraw, quitting the floor shortly before the noon break after reporting it had drafted about 33 men.

Each of the 20 major league teams selected one man Tuesday, and each of the 20 Triple A farms picked two. Each of the Class Double A farms took four. Then the unlimited Class A selections started.

The draft finally ended at 5:28 p.m. with a total of 826 players named in the two-day session. There were 23 rounds in the class A draft that ended the activities.

Houston drafted the most players in all classifications with 72. Baltimore was next with 70.

Under baseball law, questioned by some legal sources, the player can negotiate only with the drafting club for a six-month period. If he is not signed he goes back into the pool for a January draft.

A rough breakdown of the draft showed that high school boys outnumber collegians on a 2-1 basis. Any player not drafted is free to sign with any club.

Bob Howsam, general manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, suggested a change in the system in future years by which all big league clubs would get equal chances at the draft, regardless of the number of their farms.

SUN DEVILS STAY UNBEATEN

Meet St. Louis Again Thursday

. . . BUCKEYES MEET COUGARS

By HAL BROWN
Star Sports Editor

Omaha — Arizona State crushed its third straight foe Wednesday night with a 9-4 romp over Ohio State to take the only unbeaten record into Thursday night's College World Series action.

The Sun Devils won earlier games by 14-1 over Lafayette and 13-3 over St. Louis.

St. Louis and Washington State, each with one loss, kept their chances alive Wednesday.

A long triple by Tom Daly gave St. Louis a 5-3 win over Florida State, and Washington State held off a ninth inning rally for 3-2 win over Connecticut at Rosnblatt Stadium.

Arizona State will meet St. Louis at 8:30 Thursday, and Ohio State goes against Washington State at 6 p.m. in rematches of Tuesday night's games.

Arlin retired only one batter before being relieved by Ron Kitchton. Before Arlin left however, the Sun Devils rapped him for six runs on four hits with the help of four Ohio State errors.

Arizona State added another run in the second on a long home run down the right field line by Monday, first in the last 39 games. Monday was the major league's No. 1 draft choice Tuesday with the Kansas City A's making the pick.

Connecticut had the bases loaded with only one out in top of the ninth with Washington State holding a 3-1 lead, but Cougar pitcher Mike Avey pitched out of the jam with only a sacrifice fly doing further damage.

Avey, who pitched Washington State's opening win here Monday, came on in relief with the bases loaded and two out in the eighth and forced pinch hitter Tom Bugbee to hit into a force out.

Washington State scored what proved to be the winning run in the eighth on a walk to Dale Ford, a wild pitch and Wally Lito's double that chased Bud Beemer, running for Ford, home.

Daly's triple over Florida State centerfielder Bob Wilcox's head rolled to the 430-foot sign, and allowed Jim Dix and Gerald Boehmer to break up a 3-3 deadlock. St. Louis, the District 5 representative, had to call on John Marcum, a crafty left-hander who had won an opening game Monday, to put down a mild uprising by the losers in the ninth inning.

Marcum, who came in after Wally Lembeck, the winning pitcher, was relieved in the sixth, walked Gary Nichols to start the ninth. Marcum forced pinch hitter Joe McKinney to ground out to second, got pinch hitter Gerry Chmielewski on a popup to first and made Dick Fernandez ground out to third, ending the game.

Guy Hollamon Racing Night Set Sunday

Track owners Jerry Gerdes and Jerry Biskup announced today that plans were nearly complete for the big "Guy Hollamon Night" racing card slated Sunday at Midwest Speedway.

The two owners will join drivers in the Nebraska Super Modified Racing Association and the track officials in presenting $1545 to the Hollamon Fund.

Both Biskup and Gerdes expressed the hope that fans will turn out in record numbers for this special program. It will be the only racing card slated Sunday in the entire Lincoln area.

Hollamon was injured when hit by a super modified car out of control in the pit area at Eagle Raceway on May 1. He suffered a multiple fractured right leg and arm, crushed elbow plus head injuries.

Drivers on the program will run for half their usual purse which will bring $700 of the total and this will be matched by Gerdes and Biskup. The other $145 will be the salaries normally paid the officials.

Michel Jazy Shatters World Record In Mile

. . . RUNS 3:53.6

Rennes, France (AP)—Michel Jazy of France bettered the world record for the one-mile run with a time of 3:53.6 Wednesday night.

Jazy's world record effort came just one week after he had bettered the European record with a 3:55.5 run in the Paris suburb of St. Maur.

Last Sunday Jazy bettered the European record for 5,000 meters. He covered the distance in 13:34.4 to beat the old record held by Vladimir Kuts of Russia at 13:35.

Jazy, 26, is a veteran French distance runner and was France's main hope for a gold medal at the Tokyo Olympic Games.

He placed second in the 1,500 meters at the Rome Olympics but decided to switch to the 5,000 meters for Tokyo. There, he ran into difficulties with the pace and finished fifth.

About 3,000 persons watched the race. Jazy had said in advance that he would be out to beat the world record if weather conditions were right.

MICHEL JAZY

The temperature was about 60 degrees, and the wind was negligible.

Jazy sprinted through the last 50 meters. When he crossed the finish line, he said he felt that he had beaten his European record but had failed in the world record attempt. When the time was announced, Jazy jumped with joy.

Jean Kerveadou set the pace in the first lap of 400 meters which went at 57.3. Jean Wadoux then took over, and Jazy finished the second lap in 1:56, which put him about three seconds in advance of his scheduled time for a record.

Gerard Vervoort set the pace in the third lap, but the time for the 1200 meters was not announced. On the final lap, Jazy raced ahead and was spurred on by the screaming crowd.

He passed the 1,500-meter mark in 3:38.4.

Jazy complained later that a number of previous races had been run on the track before the mile and that the footing was hard.

"Without this," he said, "I think I could have done 3:52."

Vervoort finished second in 3:59.9. Michel Bernard was third in 4:00.9, and Claude Nicolas was fourth in 4:03.2. All are from France.

Pepitone, Tresh Home Runs Help New York Wallop A's

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The New York Yankees, the defending American League champions now mired in eighth place, reacted to a series of $250 fines Wednesday night by whipping the Kansas City Athletics 5-1 for their fifth victory in six games.

General Manager Ralph Houk disclosed the fines, levied against three players for breaking training, in a hastily called press conference at Kansas City before the game.

The victory, achieved on two-run homers by Joe Pepitone and Tom Tresh, moved the Yankees to within 9½ games of the first place Minnesota Twins, who lost to Cleveland 2-1.

The Twins broke a scoreless tie with a run in the eighth inning, but Cleveland pulled the game out in the ninth on a two-run homer by Max Alvis.

The first place Los Angeles Dodgers also lost in the National League. They took a 7-3 pasting from Philadelphia, which was helped by Tony Taylor's three-run homer in the third.

Another three-run homer by Ernie Banks gave the Chicago Cubs a 4-2 victory over second place Milwaukee.

Bill White also homered with two on to help St. Louis defeat Cincinnati 6-4. The Reds filled the bases with two out in the ninth, but reliever Barney Schultz struck out Pete Rose to end the game.

Willie Mays' hit his 18th homer with one on and singled home the tie-breaking run in the eighth to pace San Francisco to a 4-2 victory over the New York Mets. Pittsburgh beat Houston 11-3 for its fifth in a row and 17th victory in 19 games.

Jim King's homer in the 10th inning gave Washington a 3-2 triumph over Baltimore and Tony Horton drove in three runs to lead Boston over the Chicago White Sox 4-2.

Willie Horton and Al Kaline each knocked in two runs in support of Hank Aguirre's five-hit pitching as Detroit defeated the Los Angeles Angels, 4-2.

The Tigers pinned the loss on rookie left-hander Marcelino Lopez, 7-4. Lopez was a victim of bad luck in the first inning when right fielder Clinton lost Horton's fly in the twilight for a two-run double. The blow followed a double by Don Demeter and a walk to Kaline.

HARVEY'S TOO LATE

Harvey Kuenn of the Chicago Cubs has too much ground to cover as he attempts to advance to third base against the Milwaukee Braves Wednesday. Braves' third baseman Ed Mathews has just taken the throw from left field.

WHAT They're Reading

Many novels are merely costume pieces that entertain us at the time we read them, but there are, of course, novels that have flesh and blood inside those costumes. Samuel Johnson once asked: "Was there ever yet anything written by mere man that was wished longer by its readers, excepting 'Don Quixote', 'Robinson Crusoe' and 'The Pilgrim's Progress?"

What is the basis of our love for romance except this: that everybody who admires beauty in all things is a romantic one. Merely to copy life, as some novelists do today, is to produce nonsense, something utterly useless.

Go to a well written novel and see the difference. What is the argument for example, pertinent to our times to be extracted from Victor Hugo's "Les Miserables" published a hundred years ago? Hugo's impeachment is not of men but of man-administered institutions which, he suggests, have become a source of fearful peril by weakening the individual's sense of responsibility.

Or take the more personal narratives which put on record the struggles of men within themselves: Hamlet, Prince of Denmark, whose inward turmoil lasted for two and a half months; Henry Faust, for whom the ordeal stretched over fifty years.

John Bunyan's "Pilgrim's Progress," published in 1678, ran into eleven editions and many pirated issues in 10 years. It has spread to the remotest corners of the earth. It is not only a guide to a way of life—much sought after in these days—but a gripping novel full of dramatic incidents. As for "Don Quixote," published in 1605, it can be read as a tale of adventure but it is also a manual of tolerance and indulgent pity.

"The Swiss Family Robinson" has an average of three things happening on every one of its 500 pages. The happenings have to do with life as it must be lived if a man is to get through it with decency, comfort, usefulness, and a fair degree of distinction.

But, we conclude this short outline of novels to review the standings on this week's best-seller list. The first thing you will notice is that "Herzog" has returned to the number one position on the fiction list after riding the number two spot for the past two weeks.

Fiction

1. "Herzog," Bellow
2. "The Ambassador," West
3. "Up the Down Staircase," Kaufman
4. "Hotel," Hailey
5. "Don't Stop the Carnival," Wouk
6. "Funeral in Berlin," Deighton
7. "Flight of the Falcon," du Maurier
8. "Hurry Sundown," Gilden
9. "Pillar of Iron," Caldwell
10. "The Man," Wallace

Non-Fiction

1. "Markings," Hammarskjold
2. "Queen Victoria: Born to Succeed," Longford
3. "My Shadow Ran Fast," Sands
4. "The Founding Fathers," Whalen
5. "Journal of a Soul," Pope John XXIII
6. "The Oxford History of the American People," Morison
7. "Sixpence in Her Shoe," McGinley
8. "The Italians," Barzini
9. "Design for Survival," Power
10. "Catherine the Great," Oldenbourg

WHY GROW OLD?

Josephine Bowman

Q. What can one do for aging hands especially bumps on the knuck' ?

A. I don't think there is anything one can do for bumps on the knuckles. Many women develop these as the years go by. Of course you can minimize the effect of these by keeping the hands as attractive as possible in every other way, with the use of hand lotions to soften the skin and good manicures. Many women notice the first brown spots on their hands after a summer in the : . If you are doing a lot of gardening, wear cotton gloves while working with the flowers.

Q. What vitamin has a special effect on the eyes?

A. Vitamin A! A deficiency in this vitamin can cause night blindness, (make it difficult to see in the dark).

Stretc rcises

Q. My measurements are almost right for me except my hips and thighs. Could you please tell me if running will make them smaller? I was wondering about that because athletes run to build muscles and I want to lose. I am 2½ inches too large in the hips and 2 inches too large in the thighs. I have tried to lose these inches by doing exercises, but so far haven't succeeded. Any help you can give me will be appreciated.

A. I doubt very much that you could run enough to make a great difference either way. The stretching-type exercises are best for spot reducing. These do work. I do not know which exercises you have been doing or how faithfully you have done them or for how long. If you or any of my readers would like to have my exercises for slimming the hips and thighs, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for them to me in care of this newspaper.

M Right

Q. I am a 16-year-old girl who would appreciate your opinion. I am 5 feet 7½ and weigh 135 pounds (sometimes it goes up to 140 pounds). Mother says I am just right, but of course I disagree with her.

A. Your mother is r t. Your weight is right for your height and age. I judge that you have a tendency to gain. Don't let it go higher.

Q. Is is a good exercise to strengthen the arches of the feet? I sit with my heels resting on the floor. Then I curl my toes back toward me and then point them toward the floor as far as I can.

A. Yes, It is a splendid exercise for the arches.

Palmer Team Wins Event At Cleveland

Cleveland (AP) — Arnold Palmer teamed up with three Clevelanders Wednesday to capture the pro-amateur event in the last preliminary to the $135,000 Cleveland Open Golf Tournament.

Palmer, troubled for more than a week with a nagging cold, shot a one over par 38-34-72 over Highland Park's 6,821-yard layout.

But partners Claude Blair, James Stanton and Pete Hlinka chipped in with considerable help as the quartet finished with a best ball total of 57, 14 under par.

Best individuar effort of the day was turned in by Terry Dill, a three-year pro from Fort Worth, Tex.

Dill, riding a wave of seven birdies and only two bogeys, finished with a five-under 34-32-66. His victory was worth $1,000, and Palmer picked up $800 for his team's triumph.

A stroke behind at 67 were PGA titlist Bobby Nichols, Tommy Jacobs and Mason Rudolph. Bracketed at 68 were Al Besselink, Bert Weaver, and Ray Floyd, Paul Harney, Sam Snead and Lionel Hebert. Both Weaver and Floyd bogeyed the last two holes of their round.

OMAHA LOSES IN NAIA MEET

St. Joseph, Mo. (AP)—Carson-Newman of Tennessee moved into the championship round of the ninth annual NAIA Baseball Tournament with a 4-1 Victory over Omaha Wednesday night.

Southpaw John Manney pitched a one-hitter for Carson-Newman, equaling an NAIA tournament record. He struck out 12 and yielded four walks in lifting his record to 7-1.

—SETS PACE IN BRITISH AMATEUR—

McDonald Wins Again

Porthcawl, Wales (AP)—Hunter McDonald, a 24-year-old emigrant Scot, became America's brightest hope to win the British Amateur Golf Championship Wednesday after his second smashing victory over a former champion.

McDonald, who moved to Detroit from his native Glasgow about a year ago, conquered Dick Chapman, the 1951 British titleholder from Palm Beach, Fla., in a tense 19-hole third round match. He had knocked out Michael Lunt, 1963 British champion, in the second round Tuesday.

The victory put young McDonald into the round of 32, along with such American veterans as Bill Hyndman, Bob Gardner and Jack Penrose, who are considered capable of winning the championship if they can summon enough endurance.

Four 18-hole rounds are scheduled in the next two days with the 36-hole final Saturday on the 6,700-year, par 36-36-72 Royal Porthcawl course.

In all, seven Americans won third round matches and eight were beaten.

Hyndman, a 49-year-old Philadelphian, made one great shot that gave him a 1-up victory over Colin Strachan, a young Scot. Gardner, a 44-year-old broker from Essex Fells, N.J., defeated Mike Barker of England 6 and 5, and Penrose, 51, of Philadelphia, beat Tony Howard of England 5 and 4.

Eliminated were Tom Stanley, Upper Brookville, N.Y.: Frank Bostock, Phoenix, Ariz.; Owen Mandeville, Larchmont, N.Y.: Bob Kuntz, also of Larchmont; Bob Roos, San Francisco; Bill Castleman, White Sulphur Springs, W.Va., and John Hendrickson, Flourtown, Pa.

Although he is listed as an American, McDonald says he has not made up his mind whether to return to Scotland. He has not applied for American citizenship.

His match against Chapman was a thriller all the way. "We were at each other's throats throughout the match," McDonald said. "Both of us were hitting the ball for the hole all the way and either of us could have had a 68 or 69 if some of them had been going in."

The match was even going to the 17th, where Chapman got into trouble in the rough and took a six. McDonald gave away his advantage on the 18th after hitting the green with his approach. He putted weakly, eight feet short, then missed that one after Chapman had hit a gorgeous shot out of a sand bunker inches from the cup.

On the 330-yard extra hole, McDonald hit an amazing wedge shot out of the rough that stopped only inches from the hole for a birdie three. Chapman's approach was in a hollow, well short of the cup, and his putt was wide.

Hyndman's magnificent second shot on the 510-yard 17th was the winner. He took a three wood, sailed a shot over a bunker to within six feet and holed the putt for an eagle three. That put him one up, despite some atrocious putting at the start.

NBA Talks Of Adding 10th Team

Boston (AP) — Club owners of the National Basketball Association discussed Wedneday adding a 10th team to the league, but were not expected to take final action.

League President Walter Kennedy said "no definitive action will be taken."

Kennedy said there were no representatives at the league's annual meeting from cities seeking an NBA franchise and "none are coming."

He reiterated that "there is no possibility we will expand during the current season."

Several cities have been mentioned as possible sites for a franchise including Pittsburgh, Cleveland, and Chicago. Kennedy said there is also "a remote possibility of expansion to the Southwest."

The league president said that over the past two years his office has received 31 inquiries from communities seeking a franchise.

At present the NBA has five teams in its Western Division and only four in the Eastern.

'Strangers' Dominate Majors' Batting Races

. . . CONFIDENCE HELPS COLEMAN

By STEVE SNIDER

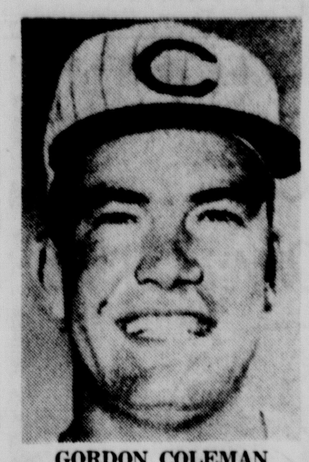
Hank Aaron, Willie Mays and Joe Torre, all National Leaguers, are the only tried-and-true hitters who moved in front in the early going. Many of the others are perfect strangers to the upper strata, but let's take a look, starting with the National:

Gordon Coleman, Cincinnati — Never batted .300 in the majors, won back his first base job this spring and that zoomed his confidence.



GORDON COLEMAN

Hank Aaron, Milwaukee—Two-time bat champ (1956-59). Only once under .300 since rookie year. Best bet.

Willie Mays, San Francisco — Won bat title in '54, has hit .345 and .347. Always a contender despite mid-season slumps.

Ed Kranepool, New York —Only 20. Hit high in brief minor-league tests; maturing rapidly.

Richie Allen, Philadelphia —Hit .318 as rookie a year ago and that's about his current pace.

American League

Vic Davalillo, Cleveland—Has only a casual interest in swinging for the fences; could be type for a high average.

Dick McAuliffe, Detroit—A real stranger; has .255 lifetime mark.

Felix Mantilla, Boston—Not much for average in seven NL seasons but over .300 for his two in the American. A sleeper.

Pete Ward, Chicago—Another third year man; has feet on ground. Once hit .328 at Rochester.

Keane Fines 3 Yankees $250 Apiece

Kansas City (AP)—The New York Yankees, mired in eighth place in the American League, leveled $250 fines on three players Wednesday for breaking training The Yankees refused to divulge the names of the players, but reporters traveling with the club who had observed the incident that brought about the levies, reported two of the fined players were $100,000-a-year outfielder Mickey Mantle and relief pitcher Hal Reniff.

MICKEY MANTLE

Ralph Houk, general manager of the Yankees who had been in New York for the baseball draft, flew to Kansas City to announce the fines at a hastily called press conference.

"A few people broke training," Houk said. "Three players were fined $250 apiece. A few others were talked to."

Houk, who refused to divulge the names of the players involved, said Manager Johnny Keane "handled the whole thing and handled it well."

The incidents referred to apparently took place Sunday after the Yankees finished a doubleheader in New York and had about three hours to spare before catching a plane out of Newark, N.J., airport.

The Yankees went out to eat, and when they reached the airport, there was a 2½-hour delay before the plane took off. The incidents apparently took place during those five or six hours

"We didn't like it to go unnoticed — it got out of hand," said Houk, referring to the incidents "It was a public show. If somebody wants to carry on, there's a place for it. That was not the place."

Keane, who resigned his job with the world champion St. Louis Cardinals to move over to the American League champion Yankees, called Houk about the incidents Monday. Monday night Keane met with the Yankees and settled the issue.

Then Houk flew into Kansas City to make an official announcement

The incident was the second this season involving Yankee players.

During spring training, outfielder Roger Maris and third baseman Clete Boyer were involved in a ruckus at a Fort Lauderdale, Fla., night spot and accused of slugging male model Jerome Modzelewski.

Braves Eye Mid-Season Move South

Knoxville, Tenn. (AP)—The National League Braves, still hoping for an early exit from Milwaukee, offered half a million dollars Wednesday for relief that, if granted, would permit the club to move to Atlanta this summer

Braves board chairman William Bartholomay said he offered Milwaukee County officials $400,000 and Teams, Inc., another $100,000 to sever contractual ties binding the team to Milwaukee.

But in Milwaukee, it appeared Bartholomay's offer would receive no more favorable reception than it did when he breached it informally last winter to two representatives of Teams, the group of Milwaukee business leaders formed to seek a different, permanent baseball franchise for the city.

County Executive John Doyne said he would have no statement immediately. He said he hoped to meet first with County board chairman Eugene Grobschmidt and with County Corporation counsel Robert Russell, who has been authorized by the county to bring an antitrust action against the Braves and other possible defendants in connection with the franchise transfer

A Teams spokesman would say only that "we don't want to be cavalier about this. We'll have a meeting and discuss it."

Grobschmidt himself stated his reaction more succiently when asked for comment

"To hell with 'em," he said.

Despite a current second place standing in the league, Batholomay said the Braves have received dismal support from fans in the Wisconsin city.

Matson May Miss NCAA Competition

Fort Worth (AP)—Randy Matson's strained left knee is acting up again and the world's first 70-foot shot putter may by-pass the NCAA track and field meet next week, the Star-Telegram reported Wednesday.

"I talked to Randy today," Texas A&M Coach Charley Thomas told the Star-Telegram, "and he says the knee is throbbing more than ever. He was told if he laid off practice for two weeks, the rest would strengthen the knee. It hasn't."

Matson is employed in Houston this summer. He is to have the knee examined by Dr. Tom Moore Thursday.

The sophomore injured the knee last winter stepping from a tub. He had the knee bandaged when he reached 70 feet 7 inches in the Southwest Conference meet a month ago.

Baseball Brass Pleased With First Free Agent Draft

New York (AP)—Professional baseball's first free agent draft continued to grind out names of high school boys and college athletes Wednesday as the majors carried their talent search to all corners of the nation.

"The reaction from the boys and their families has been very pleasant," said Commissioner Ford Frick, who reported most of the clubs had contacted their draftees.

"There are bound to be some bugs in the machinery because this is the first time we have tried it," said Frick. "We have been working over two years on this plan with the hope of letting the clubs who finish down in the leagues get a better chance at the new talent. I am very hopeful that it will work out."

Warren Giles, president of the National League, who had been less enthusiastic about the idea, said the real test will come in the next six months.

"In six months we will know how many signed and how much this helped in savings," said Giles "Some boys are sure to get $100,000 or $150,000. The clubs may not save money but the idea distributing talent then will be of prime importance.

"Basically, the purpose of this draft is the same as that for the old draft and the waiver rule—to give the low clubs in the standings a chance to help themselves.

"I am very much impressed at how well prepared these teams were when they came to this meeting with their extensive scouting reports. Anything that stimulates scouting has to help."

Joe Cronin, president of the American League, said, "this is a great thing for baseball all over the country. Every kid with a bat is waiting to see if he has been picked."

Bill DeWitt, president of the Cincinnati Reds, said the draft had gone much smoother than had been expected. He pointed out that the ground work represented an investment of $6 million in scouts, salaries and expenses.

The first club to pass a chance to pick was the Boston Red Sox, who yielded in the fifth round of the Class A draft By that time a total of 429 players had been drafted in all classifications. Boston reported it already had some 20 players on its list.

Philadelphia was next to withdraw, quitting the floor shortly before the noon break after reporting it had drafted about 33 men.

Each of the 20 major league teams selected one man Tuesday, and each of the 20 Triple A farms picked two Each of the Class Double A farms took four Then the unlimited Class A selections started.

The draft finally ended at 5:28 p.m. with a total of 826 players named in the two-day session There were 23 rounds in the class A draft that ended the activities.

Houston drafted the most players in all classifications with 72 Baltimore was next with 70.

Under baseball law, questioned by some legal sources, the player can negotiate only with the drafting club for a six-month period. If he is not signed he goes back into the pool for a January draft.

A rough breakdown of the draft showed that high school boys outnumber collegians on a 2-1 basis. Any player not drafted is free to sign with any club.

Bob Howsam, general manager of the St Louis Cardinals, suggested a change in the system in future years by which all big league clubs would get equal chances at the draft, regardless of the number of their farms.

SUN DEVILS STAY UNBEATEN

Meet St. Louis Again Thursday

By HAL BROWN
Star Sports Editor

Omaha — Arizona State crushed its third straight foe Wednesday night with a 9-4 romp over Ohio State to take the only unbeaten record into Thursday night's College World Series action

The Sun Devils won earlier games by 14-1 over Lafayette and 13-3 over St. Louis.

St Louis and Washington State, each with one loss, kept their chances alive Wednesday

A long triple by Tom Daly gave St. Louis a 5-3 win over Florida State, and Washington State held off a ninth inning rally for 3-2 win over Connecticut at Rosnblatt Stadium.

Arizona State will meet St. Louis at 8:30 Thursday, and Ohio State goes against Washington State at 6 p.m. in rematches of Tuesday night's games.

Arlin retired only one batter before being relieved by Ron Kitchton. Before Arlin left however, the Sun Devils rapped him for six runs on four hits with the help of four Ohio State errors.

Arizona State added another run in the second on a long home run down the right field line by Monday, first in the last 39 games. Monday was the major league's No. 1 draft choice Tuesday with the Kansas City A's making the pick.

Connecticut had the bases loaded with only one out in top of the ninth with Washington State holding a 3-1 lead, but Cougar pitcher Mike Avey pitched out of the jam with only a sacrifice fly doing further damage.

Avey, who pitched Washington State's opening win here Monday, came on in relief with the bases loaded and two out in the eighth and forced pinch hitter Tom Bugbee to hit into a force out.

Washington State scored what proved to be the winning run in the eighth on a walk to Dale Ford, a wild pitch and Wally Lito's double that chased Bud Beemer, running for Ford, home.

Daly's triple over Florida State centerfielder Bob Wilcox's head rolled to the 430-foot sign, and allowed Jim Dix and Gerald Boehmer to break up a 3-3 deadlock. St. Louis, the District 5 representative, had to call on John Marcum, a crafty left-hander who had won an opening game Monday, to put down a mild uprising by the losers in the ninth inning.

Marcum, who came in after Wally Lembeck, the winning pitcher, was relieved in the sixth, walked Gary Nichols to start the ninth. Marcum forced pinch hitter Joe McKinney to ground out to second, got pinch hitter Gerry Chmielewski on a popup to first and made Dick Fernandez ground out to third, ending the game.

Guy Hollamon Racing Night Set Sunday

Track owners Jerry Gerdes and Jerry Biskup announced today that plans were nearly complete for the big "Guy Hollamon Night" racing card slated Sunday at Midwest Speedway.

The two owners will join drivers in the Nebraska Super Modified Racing Association and the track officials in presenting $1545 to the Hollamon Fund.

Both Biskup and Gerdes expressed the hope that fans will turn out in record numbers for this special program. It will be the only racing card slated Sunday in the entire Lincoln area.

Hollamon was injured when hit by a super modified car out of control in the pit area at Eagle Raceway on May 1. He suffered a multiple fractured right leg and arm, crushed elbow plus head injuries

Drivers on the program will run for half their usual purse which will bring $700 of the total and this will be matched by Gerdes and Biskup. The other $145 will be the salaries normally paid the officials.

Michel Jazy Shatters World Record In Mile

. . . RUNS 3:53.6

Rennes, France (AP)—Michel Jazy of France bettered the world record for the one-mile run with a time of 3:53 6 Wednesday night.

Jazy's world record effort came just one week after he had bettered the European record with a 3:55.5 run in the Paris suburb of St. Maur.

Last Sunday Jazy bettered the European record for 5,000 meters. He covered the distance in 13 34 4 to beat the old record held by Vladimir Kuts of Russia at 13 35.

Jazy, 26, is a veteran French distance runner and was France's main hope for a gold medal at the Tokyo Olympic Games.

He placed second in the 1,500 meters at the Rome Olympics but decided to switch to the 5,000 meters for Tokyo. There, he ran into difficulties with the pace and finished fifth.

About 3,000 persons watched the race. Jazy had said in advance that he would be out to beat the world record if weather conditions were right.

MICHEL JAZY

The temperature was about 60 degrees, and the wind was negligible.

Jazy sprinted through the last 50 meters. When he crossed the finish line, he said he felt that he had beaten his European record but had failed in the world record attempt. When the time was announced, Jazy jumped with joy.

Jean Kerveadou set the pace in the first lap of 400 meters which went at 57.3. Jean Wadoux then took over, and Jazy finished the second lap in 1:56, which put him about three seconds in advance of his scheduled time for a record

Gerard Vervoort set the pace in the third lap, but the time for the 1200 meters was not announced. On the final lap, Jazy raced ahead and was spurred on by the screaming crowd.

He passed the 1,500-meter mark in 3:38.4.

Jazy complained later that a number of previous races had been run on the track before the mile and that the footing was hard.

"Without this," he said, "I think I could have done 3 52."

Vervoort finished second in 3 59.9. Michel Bernard was third in 4:00 9, and Claude Nicolas was fourth in 4:03.2. All are from France.

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The New York Yankees, the defending American League champions now mired in eighth place, reacted to a series of $250 fines Wednesday night by whipping the Kansas City Athletics 5-1 for their fifth victory in six games.

General Manager Ralph Houk disclosed the fines, levied against three players for breaking training, in a hastily called press conference at Kansas City before the game.

The victory, achieved on two-run homers by Joe Pepitone and Tom Tresh, moved the Yankees to within 9½ games of the first place Minnesota Twins, who lost to Cleveland 2-1.

The Twins broke a scoreless tie with a run in the eighth inning, but Cleveland pulled the game out in the ninth on a two-run homer by Max Alvis.

The first place Los Angeles Dodgers also lost in the National League. They took a 7-3 pasting from Philadelphia, which was helped by Tony Taylor's three-run homer in the third.

Another three-run homer by Ernie Banks gave the Chicago Cubs a 4-2 victory over second place Milwaukee

Bill White also homered with two on to help St. Louis defeat Cincinnati 6-4. The Reds filled the bases with two out in the ninth, but reliever Barney Schultz struck out Pete Rose to end the game.

Willie Mays' hit his 18th homer with one on and singled home the tie-breaking run in the eighth to pace San Francisco to a 4-2 victory over the New York Mets. Pittsburgh beat Houston 11-3 for its fifth in a row and 17th victory in 19 games.

Jim King's homer in the 10th inning gave Washington a 3-2 triumph over Baltimore and Tony Horton drove in three runs to lead Boston over the Chicago White Sox 4-2.

Willie Horton and Al Kaline each knocked in two runs in support of Hank Aguirre's five-hit pitching as Detroit defeated the Los Angeles Angels, 4-2.

The Tigers pinned the loss on rookie left-hander Marcelino Lopez, 7-4. Lopez was a victim of bad luck in the first inning when right fielder Clinton lost Horton's fly in the twilight for a two-run double. The blow followed a double by Don Demeter and a walk to Kaline.

Vote For Sorensen Approved, 36-5

The Legislature Wednesday voted to permit Lt. Gov. Philip Sorensen to break a 24-24 tie vote on the state income tax bill should it occur when the measure reaches final reading.

A legislative resolution stating that the Unicameral interprets the state constitution to permit the lieutenant governor to break a 24-24 deadlock on final reading was approved on a 36-5 vote.

Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff, who authored the resolution, said it was specifically designed to allow Sorensen to break a 24-24 deadlock on LB797, the income tax bill.

Could Go To Court

If Sorensen were to do so, Carpenter said, his action could then be submitted to the State Supreme Court for a test of its constitutionality.

The constitution provides that the lieutenant governor may break tie votes, but it also requires a bill to receive a majority vote of the elected members of the Legislature to be enacted into law.

All Oppose It

All five senators who voted against Resolution 56 hail from Douglas County, and all oppose the income tax bill. Sorensen has said he would vote in favor of the measure if given the opportunity.

Carpenter said that "we have to admire his courage, whether we agree with his judgment or not. This gentleman has my respect because he is willing to do the unusual political thing," that is to take a position on a controversial issue when he may not need to.

Sorensen's position contrasts with that of Gov. Frank Morrison, Carpenter noted. Morrison opposes the bill, but has pledged not to veto it.

Uganda Public Stock

Kampala, Uganda (AP)—Uganda opened its first public stock exchange this week with an offering by the Parastatal Uganda Development Corp. of 60,000 shares in subsidiary companies engaged in textiles, cement and real estate. A spokesman said textiles that paid a 15% dividend last year were offered at par to attract investment—but only Uganda citizens can buy.

REVIVE BILL ON SESSIONS

By a two vote margin, the Legislature Wednesday revived a bill which would submit to voters a constitutional amendment requiring annual legislative sessions beginning in 1968.

The motion to revive the measure, LB904, carried on a 27-20 vote, with 25 affirmative votes needed. The bill, which was introduced by 10 lawmakers, had been killed by the Urban Affairs Committee.

"It would give us a better functioning Legislature," said Norfolk Sen. S. H. Brauer Sr., chief introducer of LB904 and author of the revival motion. "Budget sessions would give senators a better opportunity to study the budget needs of the state."

Several senators voiced support for placing the bill on general file so more extensive study could be made of the annual sessions concept. Hastings Sen. Richard Marvel suggested that legislators investigate how other states handle their annual sessions.

Omaha Sen. George Syas, chairman of the Urban Affairs Committee, spoke out against revival of the bill, contending "people are weary that we've been down here this long shaking them up" and that annual sessions would cost more money.

Committee Gets Two More Reapportionment Plans

The Legislatore's Committee on Committees Wednesday received two additional legislative reapportionment proposals, raising its number of plans to four.

Both proposals, published in the Lincoln Journal as examples which could be formed by crossing county lines, were submitted to the committee by Sen. Chet Paxton of Thedford.

Palmer Team Wins Event At Cleveland

Cleveland (AP) — Arnold Palmer teamed up with three Clevelanders Wednesday to capture the pro-amateur event in the last preliminary to the $135,000 Cleveland Open Golf Tournament.

Palmer, troubled for more than a week with a nagging cold, shot a one over par 38-34-72 over Highland Park's 6,821-yard layout.

But partners Claude Blair, James Stanton and Pete Hlinka chipped in with considerable help as the quartet finished with a best ball total of 57, 14 under par.

Dill, riding a wave of seven birdies and only two bogeys, finished with a five-under 34-32-66. His victory was worth $1,000, and Palmer picked up $800 for his team's triumph.

A stroke behind at 67 were PGA titlist Bobby Nichols, Tommy Jacobs and Mason Rudolph. Bracketed at 68 were Al Besselink, Bert Weaver, and Ray Floyd, Paul Harney, Sam Snead and Lionel Hebert. Both Weaver and Floyd bogeyed the last two holes of their round.

The former Browns are Mike Scarry, who will handle the collegians' defensive line; Mike McCormack, who'll be in Charge of the offensive line; Howard Hopalong Cassady, who will coach the receivers and flankers, and, Marion Motley, who will concentrate on the All-Stars' blocking.

—SETS PACE IN BRITISH AMATEUR—

McDonald Wins Again

Porthcawl, Wales (AP)—Hunter McDonald, a 24-year-old emigrant Scot, became America's brightest hope to win the British Amateur Golf Championship Wednesday after his second smashing victory over a former champion.

McDonald, who moved to Detroit from his native Glasgow about a year ago, conquered Dick Chapman, the 1951 British titleholder from Palm Beach, Fla., in a tense 19-hole third round match. He had knocked out Michael Lunt, 1963 British champion, in the second round Tuesday.

The victory put young McDonald into the round of 32, along with such American veterans as Bill Hyndman, Bob Gardner and Jack Penrose, who are considered capable of winning the championship if they can summon enough endurance.

Four 18-hole rounds are scheduled in the next two days with the 36-hole final Saturday on the 6,700-year, par 36-36-72 Royal Porthcawl course.

In all, seven Americans won third round matches and eight were beaten.

Hyndman, a 49-year-old Philadelphian, made one great shot that gave him a 1-up victory over Colin Strachan, a young Scot. Gardner, a 44-year-old broker from Essex Fells, N.J., defeated Mike Barker of England 6 and 5, and Penrose, 51, of Philadelphia, beat Tony Howard of England 5 and 4.

Eliminated were Tom Stanley, Upper Brookville, N.Y.; Frank Bostock, Phoenix, Ariz.; Owen Mandeville, Larchmont, N.Y.; Bob Kuntz, also of Larchmont; Bob Roos, San Francisco; Bill Castleman, White Sulphur Springs, W.Va., and John Hendrickson, Flourtown, Pa.

Although he is listed as an American, McDonald says he has not made up his mind whether to return to Scotland. He has not applied for American citizenship.

His match against Chapman was a thriller all the way. "We were at each other's throats throughout the match," McDonald said. "Both of us were hitting the ball for the hole all the way and either of us could have had a 68 or 69 if some of them had been going in."

The match was even going to the 17th, where Chapman got into trouble in the rough and took a six. McDonald gave away his advantage on the 18th after hitting the green with his approach. He putted weakly, eight feet short, then missed that one after Chapman had hit a gorgeous shot out of a sand bunker inches from the cup.

On the 330-yard extra hole, McDonald hit an amazing wedge shot out of the rough that stopped only inches from the hole for a birdie three. Chapman's approach was in a hollow, well short of the cup, and his putt was wide.

Hyndman's magnificent second shot on the 510-yard 17th was the winner. He took a three wood, sailed a shot over a bunker to within six feet and holed the putt for an eagle three. That put him one up, despite some atrocious putting at the start.

NBA Talks Of Adding 10th Team

Boston (AP) — Club owners of the National Basketball Association discussed Wednesday adding a 10th team to the league, but were not expected to take final action.

League President Walter Kennedy said "no definitive action will be taken."

Kennedy said there were no representatives at the league's annual meeting from cities seeking an NBA franchise and "none are coming."

He reiterated that "there is no possibility we will expand during the current season."

Several cities have been mentioned as possible sites for a franchise including Pittsburgh, Cleveland, and Chicago. Kennedy said there is also "a remote possibility of expansion to the Southwest."

The league president said that over the past two years his office has received 31 inquiries from communities seeking a franchise.

At present the NBA has five teams in its Western Division and only four in the Eastern.

Vikings Get Lowe

St. Paul-Minneapolis (AP) — The Minnesota Vikings announced Wednesday they have acquired defensive back Gary Lowe from the Detroit Lions in exchange for an undisclosed choice in next December's draft.

'Strangers' Dominate Majors' Batting Races

. . . CONFIDENCE HELPS COLEMAN

By STEVE SNIDER

Hank Aaron, Willie Mays and Joe Torre, all National Leaguers, are the only tried-and-true hitters who moved in front in the early going. Many of the others are perfect strangers to the upper strata, but let's take a look, starting with the National:

Gordon Coleman, Cincinnati — Never batted .300 in the majors, won back his first base job this spring and that zoomed his confidence.

Hank Aaron, Milwaukee—Two-time bat champ (1956-59). Only once under .300 since rookie year. Best bet.

Willie Mays, San Francisco — Won bat title in '54, has hit .345 and .347. Always a contender despite mid-season slumps.

Ed Kranepool, New York—Only 20. Hit high in brief minor-league tests; maturing rapidly.

Richie Allen, Philadelphia—Hit .318 as rookie a year ago and that's about his current pace.

GORDON COLEMAN

American League

Vic Davalillo, Cleveland—Has only a casual interest in swinging for the fences; could be type for a high average.

Felix Mantilla, Boston—Not much for average in seven NL seasons but over .300 for his two in the American. A sleeper.

Pete Ward, Chicago—Another third year man; has feet on ground. Once hit .328 at Rochester.

Speedy Scot Liked

Westbury, N.Y. (AP)—Six of the speediest trotters in the land take aim Thursday night at the world record of 1:59 4/5 with Speedy Scot the even money choice to win the $25,000 Rodney Trot at Roosevelt Raceway.

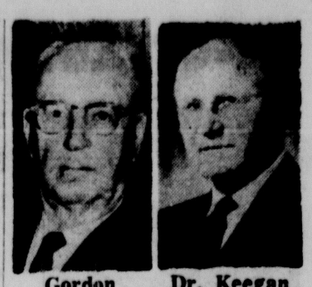
Med College Will Honor 2 Omahans



Gordon Dr. Keegan

Omaha — An Omaha businessman and a neurosurgeon will receive Distinguished Service to Medicine citations at the commencement of the University of Nebraska College of Medicine Sunday at 2:30 p.m. in the Omaha Civic Auditorium Music Hall.

The recipients:

A. W. Gordon Sr., chairman of the board, Omaha Loan and Building Association, and a key figure in the development of Omaha as a medical center.

It was in 1915 that Gordon, then on the executive committee of the Chamber of Commerce, wrote a report recommending that Omaha's future growth be tied to its development as an insurance center, an educational center and a medical center.

He was instrumental in the chartering of the University of Omaha when he was a regent of that educational institution.

Gordon was a key figure in the acquisition of land and the development of the three related institutions — Meyer Therapy Center for Children, Hattie B. Munroe Home and Dr. J. P. Lord School.

Dr. Keegan has gained international recognition for his work in neurosurgery.

Born on a farm near Axtell, Kan., he received his doctor of medicine degree from the University of Nebraska Medical College in 1915 and joined the faculty the next year.

WWI Veteran

After service in World War I, he returned to the campus and was made dean of the College of Medicine in 1925, a position he held for four years and then relinquished to devote his time to teaching and practice.

Dr. Keegan established a new dermotome chart which for the first time made it possible for physicians to delineate the paths of nerves as they leave the spinal canal and travel to the extremities of the body, and thus diagnose with accuracy which nerve is involved in a given disease.

Dr. and Mrs. Keegan have a daughter and a son, Mrs. Morris F. Miller and Norman Keegan, both of Omaha.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon have a son, A. W., Jr., of Omaha; and two daughters, Mrs. Carl Ranney, Austin, Tex., and Mrs. Robert Wunderlich, Nehawka, Neb.

Vote For Sorensen Approved, 36-5

The Legislature Wednesday voted to permit Lt. Gov. Philip Sorensen to break a 24-24 tie vote on the state income tax bill should it occur when the measure reaches final reading.

A legislative resolution stating that the Unicameral interprets the state constitution to permit the lieutenant governor to break a 24-24 deadlock on final reading was approved on a 36-5 vote.

Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff, who authored the resolution, said it was specifically designed to allow Sorensen to break a 24-24 deadlock on LB797, the income tax bill.

Could Go To Court

If Sorensen were to do so, Carpenter said, his action could then be submitted to the State Supreme Court for a test of its constitutionality.

The constitution provides that the lieutenant governor may break tie votes, but it also requires a bill to receive a majority vote of the elected members of the Legislature to be enacted into law.

The latter provision indicates that the votes of 25 senators may be needed, thus rendering the lieutenant governor's authority to break a 24-24 tie on final reading ineffective.

Sorensen has requested an attorney general's opinion on the question, but has not yet received a reply.

All Oppose It

All five senators who voted against Resolution 56 hail from Douglas County, and all oppose the income tax bill. Sorensen has said he would vote in favor of the measure if given the opportunity.

Carpenter said that "we have to admire his courage, whether we agree with his judgment or not. This gentleman has my respect because he is willing to do the unusual political thing," that is to take a position on a controversial issue when he may not need to.

Sorensen's position contrasts with that of Gov. Frank Morrison, Carpenter noted. Morrison opposes the bill, but has pledged not to veto it.

Uganda Public Stock

Kampala, Uganda (AP) — Uganda opened its first public stock exchange this week with an offering by the Parastatal Uganda Development Corp. of 60,000 shares in subsidiary companies engaged in textiles, cement and real estate. A spokesman said textiles that paid a 15% dividend last year were offered at par to attract investment—but only Uganda citizens can buy.

REVIVE BILL ON SESSIONS

By a two vote margin, the Legislature Wednesday revived a bill which would submit to voters a constitutional amendment requiring annual legislative sessions beginning in 1968.

The motion to revive the measure, LB904, carried on a 27-20 vote, with 25 affirmative votes needed. The bill, which was introduced by 10 lawmakers, had been killed by the Urban Affairs Committee.

The constitutional amendment would authorize budget sessions not exceeding 45 days each in even-numbered years with regulation sessions in odd-numbered years.

"It would give us a better functioning Legislature," said Norfolk Sen. S. H. Brauer Sr., chief introducer of LB904 and author of the revival motion. "Budget sessions would give senators a better opportunity to study the budget needs of the state."

Several senators voiced support for placing the bill on general file so more extensive study could be made of the annual sessions concept. Hastings Sen. Richard Marvel suggested that legislators investigate how other states handle their annual sessions.

Omaha Sen. George Syas, chairman of the Urban Affairs Committee, spoke out against revival of the bill, contending "people are weary that we've been down here this long shaking them up" and that annual sessions would cost more money.

Committee Gets Two More Reapportionment Plans

The Legislatore's Committee on Committees Wednesday received two additional legislative reapportionment proposals raising its number of plans to four.

Both proposals, published in the Lincoln Journal as examples which could be formed by crossing county lines, were submitted to the committee by Sen Chet Paxton of Thedford.

Deadline for submission of reapportionment plans to the committee is Friday.

Missouri Reservoirs' Water Storage In May Sets Record

Omaha (UPI)—Water flows into six Missouri reservoirs continued to boost water storage at a record rate during May, according to the Missouri River reservoir control center.

The May storage gain set a new record for water storage growth in May totaling 50,644,000 acre-feet, the greatest amount of water the system has ever held.

New power generation records accompanied the water gains during May. Daily generation by the system surpassed the previous record by 15%. Monthly generation reached a new high with 710 million kilowatt hours, an increase of 48% over May, 1964, and 17% greater than the previous high set in August of 1964.

The coincidental system peak of 1,374,000 kilowatts which occurred between 11 a.m. and 12 noon on May 17 was also a new record surpassing the previous peak of 1,308,000 kilowatts set January 28 of this year.

Individual plant records were set at Big Bend, Garrison and Fort Peck. On May 19 the Big Bend power plant reached the half way mark with unit No. 4 going on the line. The remaining four are scheduled to be operating next year.

Use of the navigation channel between Omaha and Sioux City, which opened last year, continues to show growth.

Negroes' 'Apathy' Blamed For Poor Turnout At Polls

Negro apathy and indifference are among the major reasons that Negroes in Charlottesville, Va., do not vote, persons attending a panel discussion at the Unitarian Church were told Wednesday night.

The discussion was held by college students who participated in a voter registration drive in the Southern city this spring.

Participants said there is no open public pressure or intimidation on the part of white persons to prevent Negroes from registering to vote.

Panel Moderator Marvin McNeff said the main purpose of the drive was to inform and educate Negroes as to the importance their vote can have. He said too many Negroes are not willing to pay the $4.99 poll tax Virginia requires.

McNeff said the nine-member group which made the trip visited about 1,100 families. They lived with Negro families, attended Negro church services and participated in integrated social activities.

Visions Of Tasty Food Dance In Atomic Committee's Heads

Washington (UPI)—Visions of plump strawberries, pineapples, mangoes and papayas danced in the heads of the congressional Atomic Energy Committee Wednesday.

Also of shrimp and oysters, haddock and Pacific crab.

The occasion was a committee review of the government's program for preserving foods through exposure to radiation. In recent years the Army has been using heavy radiation doses to stop decay in meats and the Atomic Energy Commission has been working with industry to slow deterioration in fish and fruits with smaller radiation doses.

Commissioner James T. Ramey of the AEC reported to the committee that "the outlook for commercial radiation pasteurization of fisheries products is good. Current research and development results on the preservation of a variety of fish, clams, shrimp and crabs indicate that products completely acceptable to the consumer can be furnished, with refrigerated shelf life extensions ranging from one week to several weeks."

Ramey said, "Several varieties of fruit also show significant promise of technical and commercial feasibility for radiation preservation. Strawberries in particular continue to be one of the best fruits..."

E. E. Fowler, director of the AEC's division of isotopes development, said the irradiation process, used to kill fruit flies and other insects, could help preserve pineapples, mangoes and papayas and eliminate the quarantine requirements that now bar importation of infested fruits such as papayas from Hawaii.

Culture Wins; Girls Won't Have To Be Covered

Bristol, England (AP)—The city council of this west England seaport put culture ahead of covering Wednesday and voted to let the Senegalese national dance company perform here next week with bare bosoms.

The city fathers at first refused, but yielded to pleas that bare bosoms were customary for the Senegalese girls in the show and that covering them would be an affront to the national culture.

Med College Will Honor 2 Omahans

Gordon Dr. Keegan

Omaha — An Omaha businessman and a neurosurgeon will receive Distinguished Service to Medicine citations at the commencement of the University of Nebraska College of Medicine Sunday at 2:30 p.m. in the Omaha Civic Auditorium Music Hall.

The recipients:

A. W. Gordon Sr., chairman of the board, Omaha Loan and Building Association, and a key figure in the development of Omana as a medical center.

It was in 1915 that Gordon, then on the executive committee of the Chamber of Commerce, wrote a report recommending that Omaha's future growth be tied to its development as an insurance center an educational center and a medical center.

He was instrumental in the chartering of the University of Omaha when he was a regent of that educational institution.

Gordon was a key figure in the acquisition of land and the development of the three related institutions — Meyer Therapy Center for Children, Hattie B. Munroe Home and Dr. J. P. Lord School.

Dr. Keegan has gained international recognition for his work in neurosurgery.

Born on a farm near Axtell, Kan., he received his doctor of medicine degree from the University of Nebraska Medical College in 1915 and joined the faculty the next year.

WWI Veteran

After service in World War I, he returned to the campus and was made dean of the College of Medicine in 1925, a position he held for four years and then relinquished to devote his time to teaching and practice.

Dr. Keegan established a new dermotome chart which for the first time made it possible for physicians to delineate the paths of nerves as they leave the spinal canal and travel to the extremities of the body, and thus diagnose with accuracy which nerve is involved in a given disease.

Dr. and Mrs. Keegan have a daughter and a son, Mrs. Morris F. Miller and Norman Keegan, both of Omaha.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon have a son, A. W., Jr., of Omaha; and two daughters, Mrs. Carl Ranney, Austin, Tex., and Mrs. Robert Wunderlich, Nehawka, Neb.

Stock Market Battered By Selling Wave

New York (AP) — Heavy selling battered the stock market Wednesday and threw it for another sharp loss.

The mood of recent declines, based more on a cautious drying-up of bids rather than active selling, changed radically as stocks were unloaded on a more emotional basis.

A rumor that President Johnson had suffered a heart attack triggered a short-lived wave of selling around the noon hour when volume was 1.8 million shares for the 60 minutes. The rumor was promptly denied by the President's personal physician and stocks rallied vigorously above their lows. The recovery almost erased the loss.

Selling snowballed in the final hour.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks sank 3.2 to 320.5, its lowest level since Dec. 15, 1964 when it closed at 320.0. The industrials were down 4.8, rails 1.5 to a low for the year and utilities 1.7.

American Telephone was the most active stock as it fell 1¼ to 67¾ on turnover of 99,400 shares.

Of 1,387 issues traded, 911 declined and 257 advanced. New lows for the year totaled 196 and new highs 8.

Twelve of the 15 most active stocks fell, 2 rose and Baldwin-Lima-Hamilton was unchanged.

Missouri Reservoirs' Water Storage In May Sets Record

Omaha (UPI)—Water flows into six Missouri reservoirs continued to boost water storage at a record rate during May, according to the Missouri River reservoir control center.

The May storage gain set a new record for water storage growth in May totaling 50,644,000 acre-feet, the greatest amount of water the system has ever held.

New power generation records accompanied the water gains during May. Daily generation by the system surpassed the previous record by 15%. Monthly generation reached a new high with 710 million kilowatt hours, an increase of 48% over May, 1964, and 17% greater than the previous high set in August of 1964.

The coincidental system peak of 1,374,000 kilowatts which occurred between 11 a.m. and 12 noon on May 17 was also a new record surpassing the previous peak of 1,308,000 kilowatts set January 28 of this year.

Individual plant records were set at Big Bend, Garrison and Fort Peck. On May 19 the Big Bend power plant reached the half way mark with unit No. 4 going on the line. The remaining four are scheduled to be operating next year.

Use of the navigation channel between Omaha and Sioux City, which opened last year, continues to show growth.

Negroes' 'Apathy' Blamed For Poor Turnout At Polls

Negro apathy and indifference are among the major reasons that Negroes in Charlottesville, Va., do not vote, persons attending a panel discussion at the Unitarian Church were told Wednesday night.

The discussion was held by college students who participated in a voter registration drive in the Southern city this spring.

Participants said there is no open public pressure or intimidation on the part of white persons to prevent Negroes from registering to vote.

Panel Moderator Marvin McNeff said the main purpose of the drive was to inform and educate Negroes as to the importance their vote can have. He said too many Negroes are not willing to pay the $4.99 poll tax Virginia requires.

McNeff said the nine-member group which made the trip visited about 1,100 families. They lived with Negro families, attended Negro church services and participated in integrated social activities.

Nebraska Youths In Attendance At LBJ Reception

By the Associated Press

President Johnson Wednesday received 600 boys and girls—27 of them from Nebraska—at a reception in the White House rose garden in connection with the ninth annual "rural electric youth day."

Earlier, the youths heard addresses by Norman Clapp, administrator of the Rural Electrification Administration, and Clyde T. Ellis, general manager of the National Rural Electric Cooperative Association (NRECA).

Wednesday's activities were part of a five-day tour of Washington, D.C. sponsored by the NRECA. The youngsters, mostly high school juniors, hail from 17 states.

The youths were awarded the free trips by their local rural electric districts following essay contests.

Top GOPs Call For Unity To Aid Bliss

. . . IKE PACES COFFERS-FILLER

Columbus, Ohio (AP) — Key Republicans led by former President Eisenhower called for unity Wednesday night to help National Chairman Ray Bliss reorganize the party "from the bottom to the top."

Eisenhower, pacing a million-dollar salute to Bliss in the chairman's home state, said Republicans must rebuild to challenge "lopsided political control.

At one point he referred to the "crushing, nationwide political defeat" of 1964. But he did not mention former Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, the party's nominee defeated by President Johnson. Goldwater was not invited to the tribute to the Ohioan who succeeded Goldwater's personal choice for national chairman, Dean Burch.

Eight Others

Eight other Republican leaders, including those prominent in the party's 1968 presidential speculation, joined Eisenhower's call for unity during an hour-long teleivsion program linking dinners in eight Ohio cities.

The ex-president asked all Republicans to back Bliss "as he seeks to fulfill his pledge of reorganizing, of reunifying, of re-energizing the party from the bottom to the top."

Top Professional

He termed Bliss a man of political "professionalism unexcelled in either party" and added: "I salute this tireless, dedicated man on whose ability so much depends."

Other speakers were former Vice President and 1960 presidential candidate Richard M. Nixon at Columbus, Michigan Gov. George Romney at Cleveland, Pennsylvania Gov. William Scranton at Toledo, Sen. George Murphy of California at Dayton, Sen. Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky at Youngstown, Chicago businessman Charles Percy at Lima, Rep. Gerald R. Ford of Michigan at Canton and actor Ronald Reagan of California at Cincinnati.

Eisenhower and Bliss shared a platform before 3,000 in Cleveland. An estimated 7,000 others watched in the other cities and viewers in Ohio and surrounding states looked in on a dozen commercial stations.

HOW CAPSULE LOOKED FROM SPACE

Alleged U.N. Attackers Get Court Victory

New York (AP) — A judge Wednesday quashed indictments against three anti-Castro Cubans accused of aiming a bazooka attack at the United Nations last December.

Queens Supreme Court Judge J. Irwin Shapiro said there was insufficient evidence against them to sustain the charge.

Judge Shapiro, who had taken under study confessions assertedly obtained from the trio by the Queen district attorney's office, said that the defendants' constitutional rights had been violated in obtaining the confessions.

Without the confessions, he added, there was no basis for the charges.

The three had been accused of firing a rocket launcher from Long Island City, Queens, across the East River toward the United Nations last Dec. 27 when Cuban Premier Fidel Castro's foreign minister, Che Guevera, was at a General Assembly meeting there.

The shells fell into the East River, 100 yards short of the U.N. building.

House Approves Bill Increasing Ceiling On Debt

The national debt fluctuates constantly, because high points in government receipts and expenditures come at different times. So long as the government operates at an over-all deficit, however, the debt continues a long-term rise. The deficit for the year beginning July 1 is now projected at $4.3 billion.

Schools Will See White's Walk In Color

Houston, Tex. (AP)—School children around the nation soon will be seeing some of the most fantastic film ever shot —astronaut Edward White's walk in space.

A National Aeronautics and Space Administration official said Wednesday that the colored film would be available for public showing "sometime within the next month."

He said narration would be added to the film and some shots of the lift off and recovery including James McDivitt and White receiving red-carpet treatment aboard the carrier USS Wasp.

NASA loans film to almost any organization that requests it. The space agency doesn't sell it for commercial use, but the spokesman said newsreels have been prepared in color of the spectacular feat.

Both the McDivitt and White families viewed the film in their homes.

Mrs. White called the film "fabulous. And it's even more fabulous when you realize it's your husband up there."

BEER OPENERS POSE PROBLEM

A critical shortage of beer can openers has developed. The black market now is selling them for the equivalent of $..50. Openers are no longer available at the American PX.

No explanation for the shortage has been disclosed.

Ocelot Is Tested For Rabies After Biting, Scratching

Beverly Hills, Calif. (UPI)—An ocelot which bit or scratched 11 persons, including actor Sal Mineo, was examined Wednesday to determine if it was rabid.

The pet, owned by theatrical agent William S. Balasco, died within a week after it was purchased.

County health authorities conducted an examination of the body to determine whether the animal was rabid.

Fink Natives Fete A Genuine Fink From Bug Tussle

Fink, Tex. (UPI) — This small town near the Texas-Oklahoma border is planning a week-long event of festivities to celebrate Be Kind to Finks Week, June 20-26.

NU Student Hurt Critically In Car Crash

Romaine Stadler, 19, was rushed to St. Elizabeth Hospital here.

Safety Patrolman James Snyder said Stadler was pinned in the wreckage of his car for nearly an hour after the crash which occurred on Highway 6 two miles west of Friend.

Snyder identified the truck driver as Charles W. Brown of Omaha.

While workers tugged to clear wreckage from the highway, three cars collided as they slowed to view the accident scene. Mr. and Mrs. Earl Schaeffer of Ruskin suffered slight injuries.

New Officers Of Methodist Youth Council Installed

Omaha—The 1965-66 state Youth Council officers for the Nebraska Conference of the Methodist Church were installed here at First Methodist Church. The installation service followed a worship servicefeaturing guest speaker Bishop W. Angie Smith, bishop of the Oklahoma-New Mexico Area of the Methodist Church.

The new Youth Council officers installed were:

Columbus District: Ralph Ford, Norfolk.
Geneva District: Larry Braye, Superior.
Kearney District: Ann Wahlgren, Gothenburg.
Lincoln District: Darrell Kermoade, Wilber.
McCook District: Dick Crandall, Wilcox.
Northeast District: Phyllis Roe, Ainsworth.
Northwest District: Pat Overstreet, Hemingford.
Omaha District: Van Hyde, Papillion.

Patricia Hall of Rising City was installed as a representative from the 1964-65 Council. Installing the officers was Nebraska Methodist associate program director Delvin A. Roper.

Following the worship service and the installation of Youth Council officers, a reception was held at the church for Bishop and Mrs. Kenneth W. Copeland and Bishop W. Angie Smith.

Colombia Revolution Appears Possible

For months, it has been involved in bitter political strife, coupled with murderous attacks by bandit gangs roving various parts of the country. There has been a wave of kidnapings of wealthy citizens too, and now the nation is confronted with an acute financial crisis.

Some experts here say that unless Colombians restore order and move quickly to end their political and financial problems, a Dominican-type civil war, or a Communist takeover could occur.

The value of the Colombian peso has been declining. And many people with financial reserves are sending them out of the country to guard against further possible devaluation or revolution.

The Colombian government has made some progress in reducing the attacks by bandit gangs, some of which proclaim sympathy with Cuba's Communist dictator Fidel Castro.

On the financial side, the government is operating in the red, and some have predicted the deficit may be 20% of the total budget.

And in politics there are signs that a 1957 political truce—aimed at ending the raids which brought death to thousands of Liberal and Conservative Party members—may be coming apart.

President Guillermo Leon Valencia's government is having trouble getting economic and fiscal reform measures through a congress that is torn by political bitterness building up in anticipation of the presidential election in May, 1966.

Visions Of Tasty Food Dance In Atomic Committee's Heads

Washington (UPI)—Visions of plump strawberries, pineapples, mangoes and papayas danced in the heads of the congressional Atomic Energy Committee Wednesday.

Also of shrimp and oysters, haddock and Pacific crab.

The occasion was a committee review of the government's program for preserving foods through exposure to radiation. In recent years the Army has been using heavy radiation doses to stop decay in meats and the Atomic Energy Commission has been working with industry to slow deterioration in fish and fruits with smaller radiation doses.

Commissioner James T. Ramey of the AEC reported to the committee that "the outlook for commercial radiation pasteurization of fisheries products is good. Current research and development results on the preservation of a variety of fish, clams, shrimp and crabs indicate that products completely acceptable to the consumer can be furnished, with refrigerated shelf life extensions ranging from one week to several weeks."

Ramey said, "Several varieties of fruit also show significant promise of technical and commercial feasibility for radiation preservation. Strawberries in particular continue to be one of the best fruits . . ."

E. E. Fowler, director of the AEC's division of isotopes development, said the irradiation process, used to kill fruit flies and other insects, could help preserve pineapples, mangoes and papayas and eliminate the quarantine requirements that now bar importation of infested fruits such as papayas from Hawaii.

Culture Wins; Girls Won't Have To Be Covered

Bristol, England (AP)—The city council of this west England seaport put culture ahead of covering Wednesday and voted to let the Senegalese national dance company perform here next week with bare bosoms.

The city fathers at first refused, but yielded to pleas that bare bosoms were customary for the Senegalese girls in the show and that covering them would be an affront to the national culture.

Stock Market Battered By Selling Wave

New York (AP) — Heavy selling battered the stock market Wednesday and threw it for another sharp loss.

The mood of recent declines, based more on a cautious drying-up of bids rather than active selling, changed radically as stocks were unloaded on a more emotional basis.

Volume made a big leap to 7.1 million shares from Tuesday's subaverage 4.67 million.

The breakdown below the approximate 880 level penetrated the rising chart channel of a band of ups and downs—which constituted a major uptrend in some Wall Street charts.

A rumor that President Johnson had suffered a heart attack triggered a short-lived wave of selling around the noon hour when volume was 1.8 million shares for the 60 minutes. The rumor was promptly denied by the President's personal physician and stocks rallied vigorously above their lows. The recovery almost erased the loss.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks sank 3.2 to 320.5, its lowest level since Dec. 15, 1964 when it closed at 320.0. The industrials were down 4.8, rails 1.5 to a low for the year and utilities 1.7.

American Telephone was the most active stock as it fell 1¼ to 67¾ on turnover of 99,400 shares.

Of 1,387 issues traded, 911 declined and 257 advanced. New lows for the year totaled 196 and new highs 8.

Twelve of the 15 most active stocks fell, 2 rose and Baldwin-Lima-Hamilton was unchanged.

The decline followed Tuesday's drop which was the sharpest since the assassination of President Kennedy, but Wednesday's heavy trading gave it more widespread importance.

Prices declined on the American Stock Exchange. Volume swelled to 1.98 million shares from 1.36 million Tuesday.

. . . IKE PACES COFFERS-FILLER

Columbus, Ohio (AP) — Key Republicans led by former President Eisenhower called for unity Wednesday night to help National Chairman Ray Bliss reorganize the party "from the bottom to the top."

Eisenhower, pacing a million-dollar salute to Bliss in the chairman's home state, said Republicans must rebuild to challenge "lopsided political control.

At one point he referred to the "crushing, nationwide political defeat" of 1964. But he did not mention former Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, the party's nominee defeated by President Johnson. Goldwater was not invited to the tribute to the Ohioan who succeeded Goldwater's personal choice for national chairman, Dean Burch.

Eight Others

Eight other Republican leaders, including those prominent in the party's 1968 presidential speculation, joined Eisenhower's call for unity during an hour-long teleivsion program linking dinners in eight Ohio cities.

The ex-president asked all Republicans to back Bliss "as he seeks to fulfill his pledge of reorganizing, of reunifying, of re-energizing the party from the bottom to the top."

Top Professional

He termed Bliss a man of political "professionalism unexcelled in either party" and added: "I salute this tireless, dedicated man on whose ability so much depends."

Other speakers were former Vice President and 1960 presidential candidate Richard M. Nixon at Columbus, Michigan Gov. George Romney at Cleveland, Pennsylvania Gov. William Scranton at Toledo, Sen. George Murphy of California at Dayton, Sen. Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky at Youngstown, Chicago businessman Charles Percy at Lima, Rep. Gerald R. Ford of Michigan at Canton and actor Ronald Reagan of California at Cincinnati.

Eisenhower and Bliss shared a platform before 3,000 in Cleveland. An estimated 7,000 others watched in the other cities and viewers in Ohio and surrounding states looked in on a dozen commercial stations.

HOW CAPSULE LOOKED FROM SPACE

Alleged U.N. Attackers Get Court Victory

Queens Supreme Court Judge J. Irwin Shapiro said there was insufficient evidence against them to sustain the charge.

The Queens County district attorney's office announced it would appeal the decision.

Judge Shapiro, who had taken under study confessions assertedly obtained from the trio by the Queen district attorney's office, said that the defendants' constitutional rights had been violated in obtaining the confessions.

Without the confessions, he added, there was no basis for the charges.

The three had been accused of firing a rocket launcher from Long Island City, Queens, across the East River toward the United Nations last Dec. 27 when Cuban Premier Fidel Castro's foreign minister, Che Guevera, was at a General Assembly meeting there.

The shells fell into the East River, 100 yards short of the U.N. building.

House Approves Bill Increasing Ceiling On Debt

Washington (AP)—The House passed Wednesday a bill raising the ceiling on the national debt to $328 billion for the year beginning July 1.

The national debt fluctuates constantly, because high points in government receipts and expenditures come at different times. So long as the government operates at an over-all deficit, however, the debt continues a long-term rise. The deficit for the year beginning July 1 is now projected at $4.3 billion.

Schools Will See White's Walk In Color

Houston, Tex. (AP)—School children around the nation soon will be seeing some of the most fantastic film ever shot—astronaut Edward White's walk in space.

A National Aeronautics and Space Administration official said Wednesday that the colored film would be available for public showing "sometime within the next month."

He said narration would be added to the film and some shots of the lift off and recovery including James McDivitt and White receiving red-carpet treatment aboard the carrier USS Wasp.

NASA loans film to almost any organization that requests it. The space agency doesn't sell it for commercial use, but the spokesman said newsreels have been prepared in color of the spectacular feat.

Both the McDivitt and White families viewed the film in their homes.

Mrs. White called the film "fabulous. And it's even more fabulous when you realize it's your husband up there."

County health authorities conducted an examination of the body to determine whether the animal was rabid.

Omaha—The 1965-66 state Youth Council officers for the Nebraska Conference of the Methodist Church were installed here at First Methodist Church. The installation service followed a worship servicefeaturing guest speaker Bishop W. Angie Smith, bishop of the Oklahoma-New Mexico Area of the Methodist Church.

The new Youth Council officers installed were:

Columbus District: Ralph Ford, Norfolk.
Geneva District: Larry Braye, Superior.
Kearney District: Ann Wahlgren, Gothenburg.
Lincoln District: Darrell Kermoade, Wilber.
McCook District: Dick Crandall, Wilcox.
Northeast District: Phyllis Roe, Ainsworth.
Northwest District: Pat Overstreet, Hemingford.
Omaha District: Van Ryde, Papillion.

Patricia Hall of Rising City was installed as a representative from the 1964-65 Council. Installing the officers was Nebraska Methodist associate program director Delvin A. Roper.

Following the worship service and the installation of Youth Council officers, a reception was held at the church for Bishop and Mrs. Kenneth W. Copeland and Bishop W. Angie Smith.

Colombia Revolution Appears Possible

Washington (AP) —Colombia, one of the most prosperous and advanced countries in South America, appears to be in danger of a possible revolution.

For months, it has been involved in bitter political strife, coupled with murderous attacks by bandit gangs roving various parts of the country. There has been a wave of kidnapings of wealthy citizens too, and now the nation is confronted with an acute financial crisis.

Some experts here say that unless Colombians restore order and move quickly to end their political and financial problems, a Dominican-type civil war, or a Communist takeover could occur.

The value of the Colombian peso has been declining. And many people with financial reserves are sending them out of the country to guard against further possible devaluation or revolution.

The Colombian government has made some progress in reducing the attacks by bandit gangs, some of which proclaim sympathy with Cuba's Communist dictator Fidel Castro.

But the kidnapings are still a problem.

On the financial side, the government is operating in the red, and some have predicted the deficit may be 20% of the total budget.

And in politics there are signs that a 1957 political truce—aimed at ending the raids which brought death to thousands of Liberal and Conservative Party members—may be coming apart.

President Guillermo Leon Valencia's government is having trouble getting economic and fiscal reform measures through a congress that is torn by political bitterness building up in anticipation of the presidential election in May, 1966.

Bill Restricting Employers' Use Of Lie Detectors Killed

The Legislature Wednesday killed a bill which would have prohibited employers from requiring lie detector tests as a condition of initial or continued employment.

The bill, LB551, had sailed through committee and its first major floor test before being axed, 25-8, on select file on a motion of Sen. Clifton Batchelder of Omaha.

LB551 was introduced by Sens. William R. Skarda Jr. and Edward Danner of Omaha, and H. C. Crandall of Curtis.

Sen. Batchelder said government already has "gone a long way in the harassment of employers." He noted that an employer cannot ask a prospective employe about his labor union status, cannot record his race or ask his religion, and the ban on lie detector tests would represent another restriction.

Batchelder and other senators said the mere knowledge that lie detectors or polygraphs can be utilized is a deterrent to dishonesty.

"If the machine was perfect, some of the arguments heard here would have some foundation," said Sen. Sam Klaver of Omaha. "But it isn't."

Bill Restricting Employers' Use Of Lie Detectors Killed

The Legislature Wednesday killed a bill which would have prohibited employers from requiring lie detector tests as a condition of initial or continued employment.

The bill, LB551, had sailed through committee and its first major floor test before being axed, 25-8, on select file on a motion of Sen. Clifton Batchelder of Omaha.

LB551 was introduced by Sens. William R. Skarda Jr. and Edward Danner of Omaha, and H. C. Crandall of Curtis.

Sen. Batchelder said government already has "gone a long way in the harassment of employers." He noted that an employer cannot ask a prospective employe about his labor union status, cannot record his race or ask his religion, and the ban on lie detector tests would represent another restriction.

Batchelder and other senators said the mere knowledge that lie detectors or polygraphs can be utilized is a deterrent to dishonesty.

Backers of LB551 said polygraphs are not reliable, and some employers are guilty of abuses in their use.

"If the machine was perfect, some of the arguments heard here would have some foundation," said Sen. Sam Klaver of Omaha. "But it isn't."
